SNIPERSCOPE IN USE?

Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., takes a long look through a "sniperscope" Monday after his Senate judiciary subcommittee hearing. Attempt To Assassinate Taylor Fails In Saigon

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Police foiled a Viet Cong attempt Tuesday to assassinate U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, police sources reported.

Viet Cong terrorists reportedly had set up a powerful mine of the type used in last month's bombing of the My Canh restaurant, aimed in such a way that it would have killed Taylor 15 minutes later if it had not been discovered, the sources said.

Taylor was with an official party attending a "national unity day for the liberation of North Viet Nam" rally at Saigon's biggest stadium.

Lethal Beam

The mine had been set up in a cemetery across the street from the stadium entrance and aimed at the entrance, the sources said. The mine—a Claymore type—contains a shaped charge and shrapnel that is projected in a lethal beam when detonated.

The My Canh floating restaurant was bombed by Viet Cong terrorists June 25. The terrorist blast, the worst ever in Saigon, killed 43 persons, including 12 Americans, and wounded 81 others.

Police reportedly found the mine 15 minutes before Taylor was to have entered the stadium. Police also reportedly arrested one Viet Cong terrorist responsible for setting the mine, and found a grenade on him.

Ceremony Smooth

It was not immediately known whether Taylor was aware of the incident. The ceremony itself went off without a hitch.

Thousands of government demonstrators were brought into the capital from the provinces to participate in the rally, which was organized to open Premier Nguyen Cao Ky' campaign to begin a national liberation front guerrilla movement in North Viet Nam.

The identity of the arrested terrorist was not immediately disclosed. It was believed possible he had been one of the persons brought into the city in military trucks earlier in the day.

U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was in Viet Nam at the time, but did not attend the rally. He was finishing a field trip in Bien Hoa province.

McNamara Try

The last time McNamara visited Viet Nam in May, 1964, another Viet Cong terrorist attempted to assassinate him by planting a bomb under a bridge over which the secretary was scheduled to drive. The bomb and terrorist were discovered and the terrorist was later publicly shot. It was presumed the latest would-be assassin would be promptly shot.

Taylor, 63, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is stepping down as ambassador to Saigon. He is scheduled to be succeeded by the former ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge, in mid. August.

In announcing his resignation July 8, the White House said Taylor had an agreement with President Joh son to take the post only for a year.

Population Dips, Nobody Worries

. . . AT PENAL COMPLEX

By MARY REIFSCHNEIDER
Star Staff Writer

A population loss of 200 isn't worrying the officials or resident in one Nebraska community.

That community is the Nebraska Penal Complex and Warden Maurice Sigler smiles when he says, "I think the decrease is real fine."

Total population in the Penal Complex, which includes the state Penitentiary and Men's Reformatory, dropped from 1,365 to 1,165 between Jan. 1, 1964, and the same date this year.

The decrease has lowered the number in closed custody (inside the Penitentiary walls' by 72. Those outside the walls, in the Reformitory and trustees' dormitory, number 128 less.

Considering that the crime rate in Nebraska has been increasing in the past few years, why are there fewer men serving time in the Penal Complex?

Intelligent Use

Warden Sigler's answer: "I attribute it to intelligent use of the probation system by Nebraska's courts. If we didn't have the probation system, more would be in the Penitentiary and Reformatory."

Under probation, a convicted first offender receives a suspended sentence. The individual must remain gainfully employed and not violate any terms of the probation determined by the court.

Nebraska's probation system has been used since 1958. The number on probation has increased from 1,262 in 1958 to 1,741 for the year ending March 31, 1965.

Unchanged

Percentagewise, the number of probations revoked has not significantly varied since 1958 when 94 or about 13% were revoked. During 1964-65, 125 were revoked.

Sigier pointed out that the probation system not only keeps the prison population down, but keeps many families off of Aid to Dependent Children and other forms of relief needed when the head of a household is imprisoned.

The number on parole is also increasing. The warden's check with the Parole and Pardons Board showed that 110 men were released from the complex during 1963. In 1964 the number increased to 174 and during the first six months of this year, 99 were released.

Wilson Fears Nuclear War, No Viet Victory

London (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson expressed fear Monday that the Viet Nam fighting might spread into a major land war in Asia that could engulf the world in nuclear destruction.

Immediately afterward, Reginald Maudling, speaking for the opposition Conservative Party, reported an unqualified warning he had been given recently in Moscow by Prime Minister Alexei N. Kosygin:

"If the Americans extend the (Viet Nam) war volunteers will come from Russia and China."

These two statements, uttered in grave tones, somberly featured the opening speeches of a two-day debate on foreign affairs in the House of Commons.

Humiliating Defeat

Wilson appeared to be addressing himself more to the Communist leaders of Hanoi than his Conservative opponents when he said an American withdrawal would be portrayed as "a humiliating defeat."

The crisis cannot be solved militarily, he insisted:

"There can be no victory now.

"This war will end when that realization penetrates those capitals which are at present intoxicated by hopes of an early military settlement."

The Labor prime minister, who also reaffirmed British support of the American position in Viet Nam, was alluding plainly to Hanoi and Peking as the "intoxicated capitals."

Escalation Peril

Like Wilson, Maudling showed concern above the perils of escalation in Viet Nam. But where the Labor government leader appeared to be addressing himself to Hanoi, Maudling's words seemed directed toward Washington:

"One may say the Americans cannot win. I say the Americans will not lose. It must be established and understood the purpose of the Americans is not to extend the war . . . what they are determined to do is not to be thrown out."

Wilson spoke of the military and political stalemate which he suggested has descended upon the Viet Nam scene.

U.S. Spying Charged

. . . OVER FRENCH NUCLEAR PLANT

Paris (AP)—France accused the United States Monday of aerial espionage at its supersecret nuclear complex, where enriched uranium for the French hydrogen bomb is produced. The incident plunged American-French relations to a new low.

French officials said a US., Air Force RF101 reconnaissance plane made four passes over the nuclear complex at Pierrelatte last Friday and took 175 photos despite interception by a French fighter plane. A formal protest was lodged with the U.S. embassy in Paris by the French Foreign Ministry.

American officials in France and in West Germany, where the photographic reconnaissance plane is based, declined all comment after details of the incident were reported by a French Defense Ministry communique. State Department officials in Washington said only: "The investigation is continuing."

Protest Receipt

After news of the protest was released here Monday, State Department officials in Washington confirmed the embassy's receipt of the protest. But the spokesman at the department commented:

"I have nothing to add to the statements made by U.S. defense authorities concernthis incident."

Earlier, American officials said that on the basis of first reports, the plane had been on a routine training mission. They said a thunderstorm caused the plane to go off course, but expressed belief it had not flown over the Pierrelatte complex.

But the French Defense Ministry version contradicted these statements. A communique said the American plane committed three infractions: overflight of a restricted Zone; photography without authorization; photography of a restricted zone.

The defense ministry said the American plane made four successive photo passes over the plant. A French Vautour (Vulture) fighter plane intercepted the RF101 on its second pass and identified it, the ministry said, but at that point the American pilot turned on the afterburners and sped away for two additional photo passes.

The French said they then determined the American plane's German base and asked for the photos as soon as the plane landed. Development of the film the French said, revealed 175 views centered on the Pierrelatte plant.

Jacques-Baumel, secretary-general of the Gaullist Union for the New Republic Party, told a luncheon meeting of the Anglo-American Press Association Monday the American gave the pictures to the French. He said the pictures included 28 excellent photos of the Pierrelatte plant.

Assures Investigation

The French Foreign Ministry asked that an American embassy official appear at the ministry. Robert H. McBride, the No. 2 official in the embassy, was received by Charles Lucet, French ministry director of political affairs, and Lucet made the protest to him. McBride assured Lucet the incident is being investigaetd.

The plane incident was first made public in general terms by French newspapers Saturday. It was generally treated then as a minor incident particularly after American officials said the flight was a training mission.

One Paris paper said it was "flattering" to think that the Americans were checking up on French nuclear development while they were busy with the Mariner flight to Mars.

The incident aggravated French-American relations, coming at a time when Paris and Washington are poles apart on the Viet Nam and Dominican Republic crises.

Lincolnites Apply For EOA Jobs

Some 50 Lincoln public school youths applied Monday for participation in the Neighborhood Youth Corps, which provides jobs for youth under the Economic Opportunity Act.

The program which is 90% federally-financed, is designed to financially aid students between 16 and 21 years of age who show need.

With the goal of reducing the number of high school dropouts, one of the requirements of the program is that the students participating must stay in school.

Qualification is also based on family income and need.

According to Julius Humann, director of guidance and counseling for the Lincoln Public Schools, there will be employment for 44 for the summer months and approximately 450 during the school year.

The students will be paid $1.25 per hour. They will work an average of 32 hours per week during the summer months and 10 hours per week during the school year.

Beginning work next week, the Lincoln youths who qualify will work as assistants on school buildings and grounds, audio-visual, data-processing and printing.

In addition to these jobs, the winter available assistant positions will include teacher assistants, laboratory assistants, intramurals and sports food services, student checkers and hall checkers.

For the present time, the jobs will be confined to the Lincoln Public Schools system, Humann said.

Power, School Decisions Affirmed

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Monday rebuffed efforts to undo major public power and education decisions, then moved into high gear in an effort to clear its crowded board of legislation.

At the end of the day, lawmakers had swept half of the load from general file, leaving only seven bills and one resolution awaiting first debate.

In addition to the eight measures, a few more bills are resting in committee and will be shoved to the floor later this week.

Monday's session cracked the all-time calendar record length for the Nebraska Unicameral. Adjournment is not expected until sometime in August.

A bid to remove retail election activities of Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District from the proposed new state grid system was turned down on an 11-26 vote.

Sen. Cecil craft of North Platte offered the amendment in a last-ditch effort to retain local control of irrigation operations in the Platte Valley.

The grid system bill, LB-764, was then advanced from select file on a voice vote and is slated to show up next for final reading and probable enactment.

Under Craft's plan, retail operations and irrigation activities could be continued by the two districts separate of the grid system if their board so chose.

LB764 would consolodate the wholesale electric activities of Loup, Platte and Consumers Public Power District. The grid could operate a separate irrigation division, and is directed to leave the retail field, with certain conditions.

Craft said Platte Valley should continue to operate its irrigation interests, rather than submit to "control by directors with very little interest in the Platte Valley."

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chief sponsor of the bill, termed Craft's proposal "completely unworkable."

Sen. Stanley Matzke of Milford said the amendment would "complicate the problem of overlapping and duplication."

The Legislature, he said, should accept "no half-way measure." Matzke said irrigators will find that, with LB764, "they are far better off than at any time in the past 25 years."

A move to kill LB301, which would establish 19 educational service units throughout the state, failed on a 12-25 count.

Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha attempted to ax the measure, which had received earlier legislative approval.

19 Units

With amendments proposed by chief sponsor Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, the bill establishes 19 units designed to provide supplementary service as requested by local boards.

Such services would include special education for the mentally retarded and place rural Nebraska in a position to receive federal matching assistance for such programs, Rasmussen said.

Now, he noted, Omaha and Lincoln provide such services at an annual cost of $750,000 and $512,000, respectively. Omaha levies 1.25 mills for special education, and Lincoln levies 1.15 mills, Rasmussen said.

Either city's school board would have an opportunity to participated in the new program, but their inclusion would not be mandatory.

Service units would be manned with taxing authority not to exceed one mill.

Approval

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff won approval of an amendment which permits any county to leave its service unit upon a vote of the people following a referendum petition movement involving at least three-fifths of the school districts in the county.

Carpenter also successfully proposed an amendment which specifies that the bill shall not affect school district reorganization statutes in any manner.

Batchelder argued that axing the bill would not seriously damage "the pursuit of happiness in this state."

WEATHER

LINCOLN: Considerable cloudiness with occasional showers and thunderstorms. High around 80.

EAST AND CENTRAL NEBRASKA: Considerable cloudiness with occasional showers or thunderstorms. Little temperature change. High upper 70s extreme east to 80-85 central.

Two Omahans Killed In Crash As Car Hits Tree

Omaha (AP) — Two Omahans were killed Monday when their car hit a tree north of the Mormon Bridge near Omaha.

The victims were Jerry Merrill, 18, 2307 North 23rd, and Gary Kanake 17.

Injured and in critical condition was 32-year-old Joe Merrill, uncle of Jerry Merrill, and driver of the car.

Authorities said the car was involved in a drag race and went out of control about one mile north of the Mormon Bridge.

The car jumped a drainage ditch, cleared a fire hydrant and smashed head-on into a tree.

Rescuers worked for 20 minutes to free the occupants.

Budget Committee Okays Third Major Appropriations Package

The Legislature's Budget Committee voted unanimously Monday to introduce a third major appropriations package calling for more than $10.2 million in appropriations from the state general fund.

However, of that total, $8,652, 923 is for bills still pending in the Legislature, including a state-aid-to-education measure which the committee estimates will require an outlay of $5.5 million in state tax funds for the next two years if enacetd and implemented.

The budget bill appropriates $1,703,865 to implement bills that have been passed but that were not covered in the two previous budget bills. In addition, the new bill allocates some $1.7 million in federal and cash funds to various departments.

The third package is designed to serve as a "catch-all" measure, allocating funds to implement bills approved by the legislature and putting the finishing touches on last-minute fiscal matters.

Sen. Richard Marvel, chairman of the Budget Committee, said the appropriations bill can easily be amended if bills requiring expenditures now fail. He said the appropriations bill will be one of the last measures passed.

Sen. Marvel emphasized that the bill is simply a mechanical device for appropriating the funds necessary to implement bills and does not represent policy decisions of the Budget Committee.

The biggest single allocation contained in the bill, of course, is the $5.5 million earmarked for LB472, Waverly Sen. Jerome Warner's proposal for state-aid to education. Even Warner admits the bill has no chance whatsoever of passing.

A total of $2,150,000 is appropriated in the bill for trade school legislation still pending. That total includes $750,000 each for bills establishing state trade schools at Norfolk and North Platte, and $150,000 for the Sidney trade school bill. A $500,000 allocation is included to fund the proposed state-aid program for area trade schools.

Other major allocations for measures still pending includes:

—$267,353 ofr LB855, revising regulations for the eradication of brucellosis.

—$235,062 for LB332, providing for a comprehensive noxious weed control program.

—$125,000 for LR62, providing funds to clean, waterproof and repair the exterior of the capitol building

The largest single appropriation contained in the budget bill for measures already passed is a $666,104 allotment to the tax commissioner to enable him to set up the machinery necessary to enforce the state income tax.

Other major appropriations for bills already passed includes:

—390,614 for LB756, liberalizing the aid to dependent children (ADC) program.

—$210,000 for LB493, providing enough state funds for the Nebraska safety patrolmen's retirement system to keep it actuarily sound

—$144,000 for LB365, liberalizing laws for public assistance to the aged, blind or disabled

Service units would be manned with taxing authority not to exceed one mill.

Approval

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff won approval of an amendment which permits any county to leave its service unit upon a vote of the people following a referendum petition movement involving at least three-fifths of the school districts in the county.

Carpenter also successfully proposed an amendment which specifies that the bill shall not affect school district reorganization statutes in any manner.

Batchelder argued that axing the bill would not seriously damage "the pursuit of happiness in this state."

Voting with him to kill were Sens. Elvin Adamson, S. H. Brauer Sr., Craft, John Knight, Rudolf Kokes, Frank Nelson, Herb Nore, Ira Paine, Chet Paxton, Richard Proud and William Wylie.

Budget Committee Okays Third Major Appropriations Package

The Legislature's Budget Committee voted unanimously Monday to introduce a third major appropriations package calling for more than $10.2 million in appropriations from the state general fund.

However, of that total, $8,-652, 923 is for bills still pending in the Legislature, including a state-aid-to-education measure which the committee estimates will require an outlay of $5.5 million in state tax funds for the next two years if enacetd and implemented.

The budget bill appropriates $1,703,865 to implement bills that have been passed but that were not covered in the two previous budget bills. In addition, the new bill allocates some $1.7 million in federal and cash funds to various departments.

The third package is designed to serve as a "catch-all" measure, allocating funds to implement bills approved by the legislature and putting the finishing touches on last-minute fiscal matters.

Sen. Richard Marvel, chairman of the Budget Committee, said the appropriations bill can easily be amended if bills requiring expenditures now fail. He said the appropriations bill will be one of the last measures passed.

Sen. Marvel emphasized that the bill is simply a mechanical device for appropriating the funds necessary to implement bills and does not represent policy decisions of the Budget Committee.

The biggest single allocation contained in the bill, of course, is the $5.5 million earmarked for LB472, Waverly Sen. Jerome Warner's proposal for state-aid to education. Even Warner admits the bill has no chance whatsoever of passing.

A total of $2,150,000 is appropriated in the bill for trade school legislation still pending. That total includes $750,-000 each for bills establishing state trade schools at Norfolk and North Platte, and $150,000 for the Sidney trade school bill. A $500,000 allocation is included to fund the proposed state-aid program for area trade schools.

Other major allocations for measures still pending includes:

—$267,353 ofr LB855, revising regulations for the eradication of brucellosis.

—$235,062 for LB332, providing for a comprehensive noxious weed control program.

—$125,000 for LR62, providing funds to clean, waterproof and repair the exterior of the capitol building.

The largest single appropriation contained in the budget bill for measures already passed is a $666,104 allotment to the tax commissioner to enable him to set up the machinery necessary to enforce the state income tax.

Other major appropriations for bills already passed includes:

—390,614 for LB756, liberalizing the aid to dependent children (ADC) program.

—$210,000 for LB493, providing enough state funds for the Nebraska safety patrolmen's retirement system to keep it actuarily sound.

—$144,000 for LB365, liberalizing laws for public assistance to the aged, blind or disabled.

Stevenson Is Buried Quietly

Bloomington, Ill. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, whose diplomacy, wit and charm made him at home in all the great cities of the world, was buried Monday among his ancestors in a quiet, pleasant country cemetery.

President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, Vice President and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren led an impressive list of dignitaries who came to pay their respects to the man who twice made, and twice lost, bids for the presidency.

They heard Stevenson praised as an eloquent, farsighted leader whose fame will grow in the years ahead. Or, in the words of Dr Dana McLean Greeley of Boston, president of the Unitarian-Universalist Association

Increasing Luster

"Neither ancient Israel or modern New York could produce a more articulate spokesman for justice and the right. In that distant day when nobody rattles a saber and nobody drags a chain, his name will shine with ever-increasing luster."

Monday's services were a startling change from previous public memorials held for him in the Washington National Cathedral and in the state capitol in Springfield, where Stevenson, a Democrat was governor from 1949 until 1953.

At the end, Stevenson was surrounded only by family and friends. Final rites for this politician-diplomat — he was U.S ambassador to the United Nations when he died at 65 of a heart attack in London Wednesday — were held in the Bloomington Unitarian Church, where only 200 could be accommodated.

President Johnson — An aide stressed he had come at the invitation of the family — sat in the aisle seat in the front pew. Mrs. Johnson was on his left next to Mrs. Humphrey and the vice president.

Stevenson's family — his three sons, Adlai E. Stevenson III, John Fell and Borden, and his sister, Mrs. Ernest Ives — sat on the opposite side in the first two pews.

In front was the casket, with no adornment except the United States flag. A dozen floral pieces were in the sanctuary. One, a display of Peonies, gladioli and red roses tied with a red, white and blue ribbon, came from the Johnsons.

In each of the services, there was the haunting memory that no one could write an eulogy more gracefully and uniquely than Stevenson himself, and that the easiest way to recall Stevenson was to quote him.

Youth, 22, Starts 1,054 Mile Trip By Paddle Board

New York (AP) — A young paddle board enthusiast, Larry Capune, 22, set out Monday to propel himself 1,054 miles down the Atlantic coast to Cape Kennedy.

Capune entered the water at Coney Island shortly before noon. He drives his 18-foot board by using his arms as paddles.

He hopes to make 30 to 40 miles a day, spending the nights ashore, and reaching Cape Kennedy in about a month. In a similar stunt, Capune once traveled 500 miles by paddle board along the Pacific coast.

Romanian Communist Head Urges Efforts To End Sino-Soviet Split

Bucharest, Romania (AP) — Romanian Communist Party chief Nicolae Ceausescu called on the Soviet and Chinese Communist parties Monday to make a "sincere and comradely" new effort to settle their long-seething conflict.

The unity of the world's Communist parties is in the vital interest of the Communist system and world peace and must prevail over all disagreements, Ceausescu told 2,000 cheering delegates at the Ninth Congress of the Romanian Communist Party.

Communist unity can only be achieved, he declared, if every party respects the independence and equal rights of the other. Romania has been steering a course independent of Moscow and Peking.

"Of the greatest importance is the development of relations of confidence, esteem and mutual respect between the parties," Ceausescu said. "Any problem of joint interest should be discussed directly from party to party, from leadership to leadership, in a sincere and comradely way."

His audience included Soviet party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Teng Hsiac-Ping, general secretary of the Chinese Communist Party, as well as delegations from more than 50 Communist parties throughout the world.

Brezhnev and Teng sat 60 feet apart, at opposite ends of the official dais.

Romania has taken a neutral postion in the Soviet-Chinese conflict and has made several discreet attemps to mediate without success. Diplomatic sources said the Romanian leaders expressed hope Brezhnev and Teng might get together behind the scenes of the week-long congress to make a new approach toward patching up their quarrel.

Ceausescu said Romania intends to continue mediation efforts.

Passing Reference

Ceausescu's three-hour speech contained only a passing reference to "the aggressive acts pursued by American imperialist circles" in Viet Nam mand the Dominican Republic.

In the foreign policy section of his address, Ceausescu appealed to all nations to withdraw their troops from foreign territories.

He repeated old Communist demands for withdrawals of foreign troops from all countries, claiming that the United States has "nearly half its armed forces in various parts of the world."

Greek King Challenged By Ousted Papandreou

Athens, Greece (UPI)—Ousted Premier George Papandreou publicly challenged King Constantine of Greece Monday night after receiving a hero's welcome on his arrival in Athens.

"Who governs this country, the king or the people?" Papandreou asked an estimated 200,000 supporters who turned out to greet him.

Papandreou, ousted by the king last week, told the crowds during intervals in their cheering that "a new irreconcilable struggle is beginning in Greece and it is certain that it will succeed."

The 25-year-old king dismissed Papandreou, 77, to climax a political tug of war over who should head the Greek defense ministry.

Near-hysterical mobs of Greeks, shouting slogans against the new "puppet government," had greeted Papandreou as he drove into the Greek capital from his villa at nearby Kastri.

It was his first appearance in Athens since Constantine ousted him last Thursday. Papandreou had insisted that his defense minister be dismissed, but the king refused, forcing Papandreou to resign.

Papandreou's 12 mile drive from his villa at Kastri turned into a virtual march of Athens. More than 300 cars fell into line behind the former premier's automobile as it drove into the capital city and through the crowded streets.

Middle-of-the-road politicians, meantime, tried for a compromise settlement. The new government indicated it would accept gladly any counciliation moves which would end the tense situation.

London Hat Designers Gain New Milady Muffling Design

London (AP)—What some husbands have failed at for years, London's hat designers appeared Monday to have achieved—a humane way of stopping a woman from talking.

At Monday morning's show of autumn and winter headgear for women, the incorporated society of London fashion designers produced two dazzling muzzlers for milady.

Intentional or otherwise, these two hats would seem to make conversation extremely difficult if not impossible of the wearers.

Not Heard

The owners of the hats might talk—but it's highly doubtful she could be heard.

Muffler No. 1 was modeled by Barbara Bacher. The top part of the hat was of pastel mink and the bottom part — covering the mouth—was of thick brown velvet, a Western adaptation of the Eastern Yashmak.

Once she got the hat off Barbara was asked if she felt inhibited conversation-wise.

"Definitely," was her reply.

Muzzler No. 2 was called Turkish delight.

German Helmet

Fashioned in thick printed brocade, the top portion of the hat resembled a pointed German helmet from World War I. To this was attached a Yashmake that fell to the pretty-eyed wearer's shoulders, a real silencer if you ever saw one.

The question remains, of course, will women pay money for a style that will eliminate oral communication? Or, should a husband buy one, will his mate wear it?

Not to be outdone by the pretty muzzlers, designer Simone Mirman showed a black velvet beret-like hat. There was no Yashmak, but the hat had startling eye-shaped patterns in the back. Seen from behind, the wearer looked like a no-nosed black panther walking on its hind feet — backwards.

SYNGMAN RHEE

Ex-Korea President Rhee Dies

Honolulu (AP)—Syngman Rhee. 90. founder and first president of the Korean republic, died in exile today in Honolulu, his dream of spending his last days in his own country, unfulfilled.

A stroke felled the "Tiger of Korea" at Maunalani Hospital. His 65-year-old Austrian wife, Francesca, and their adopted son, Rhee In-Soo, were at his bedside.

He probably didn't know they were there. Dr. Thomas Min, his personal physician, said Rhee was in a coma at death.

In a day or two, Rhee's body will be flown to Seoul, Korea, for burial in the land from which he was exiled five years ago after 12 years as president.

His son, who lives in Korea, and also possibly his widow, will accompany the body. Before the flight funeral services will be held in the Korean Christian Church founded by Rhee in Honolulu.

One month after student riots toppled him on April 28, 1960, Rhee went to Hawaii. He tried twice to return to South Korea, the nation he led during its devastating war against North Korea.

Casualties May Be Heavy After Attack By Viet Cong

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong attacked a Vietnamese special forces camp near the Cambodian border early Tuesday. Some Americans were among the casualties, a U.S. spokesman said.

Eight American advisers were stationed with about 300 Vietnamese irregulars at the camp at Budop, 80 miles north of Saigon. The spokesman said, "Casualties may be quite heavy."

The encampment, about five miles from the Cambodian frontier, was reported secure after 9 a.m., Saigon time, and helicopters shuttled the casualties out of the area.

Americans Killed

The guerrilla onslaught followed a Monday attack on newly arrived elements of the 1st infantry division near the Bien Hoa air base, outside of Saigon. Three Americans were killed and several were woundetd, U.S. spokesmen said.

The U.S. Coast Guard joined the other American armed services in the Vietnamese war Tuesday with the arrival of eight swift patrol boats to help stem the flow of men and supplies by sea from Communist North Viet Nam.

The 82-foot, radar-equipped craft docked at Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon, after a trip across the South China Sea from the Navy's base at Subic Bay, the Philippines. A Coast Guard spokesman said it was the service's first appearance in a combat zone since the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in 1961.

Shallow Waters

Eventually, 17 of the 12-man boats will operate in the shallow coastal waters of Viet Nam to halt infiltration by Red sampans and other small craft. The coast guard boats are under temporary assignment to the 7th Fleet, whose large ships are unable to penetrate shallow waters.

A radio message from the border camp at 1:15 a.m., Saigon time, said it was being hit by 81mm mortars and 57mm rifle fire. It called for air support.

Then the camp went off the air for an hour and 15 minutes. Part of the garrison was aflame, the spokesman said. By dawn, F100 jets had flown six air strikes and propeller-driven skyraiders had flown 10 in support of the camp.

'Light Probe'

About the same time, the Communists opened up with several rounds of mortar fire on Dong Xoai followed by a "light probe," the spokesman said. Dong Xoai, 50 miles north of Saigon, saw bloody fighting in mid-June.

The Viet Cong gave the 1st infantry division at Bien Hoa its baptism of fire during a torrential rain. The guerrillas opened with a mortar barrage, then moved in infiltrators. The infantry shot back. Helicopters strafed suspected red positions until the action died in midmorning. Viet Cong casualties, if any, were not determined.

A marine patrol 8 miles northwest of Chu Lai encountered seven guerrillas Monday, killing three, wounding two and capturing one, a spokesman said. In another action near Chu Lai, 53 miles south of Da Nang, the marines suffered light casualties, he added.

Passport Ring Broken

Paris (AP)—French police announced the breakup of a false passport ring specializing in the printing of Portuguese passports for use by workers emigrating from Portugal to France. Police said four men, all French, were arrested and charged with turning out severl thousand forged passports at a price of 800 francs ($160) each.

U.S. Forging Ring Of Steel At Base

Leathernecks in new, light weight fiber glass helmets and laden with weapons and ammunition took over positions south of the base.

They hoped to seal off a route used by Viet Cong guerrillas in a hit-and-run raid July 1 which killed one American and destroyed three planes on the field.

The area previously was guarded by Vietnamese troops.

Buildup Continues

Intelligence reports indicated that, even as the recently reinforced Marines moved into their new positions, the guerrillas continued to build up their own forces in the rice paddies and wooded areas to the south. There was speculation seven or more Communist battalions may now be operating within 15 miles of Da Nang. That could mean 2,800 or more men.

Informed military sources said the prospects are that the Viet Cong might still be able to infiltrate the base to plant bombs, but that a successful major assault was less likely.

Navy Seabees and private contractors worked under a hot sun to build new antiaircraft missile sites and lay out runways that could more than double the number of U.S. aircraft available for strikes in both North and South Viet Nam.

Hawk antiaircraft missiles soon will be installed on Monkey Mountain northeast of the base. The mountain already has a top secret Air Force communication and electronics complex on its crest.

The new missile site will give Da Nang added protection from Communist attack planes that might make low level runs from the sea. Three batteries of missiles currently are on guard at the base and atop a hill mass just to the west.

Across a river east of the base, workers are laying out a 2,000-feet runway and parking area for helicopters and light planes. It is to take some of the load off the main base, where a second jet runway will be constructed parallel to the present one.

Then the camp went off the air for an hour and 15 minutes. Part of the garrison was aflame, the spokesman said. By dawn, F100 jets had flown six air strikes and propeller-driven skyraiders had flown 10 in support of the camp.

'Light Probe'

About the same time, the Communists opened up with several rounds of mortar fire on Dong Xoai followed by a "light probe," the spokesman said. Dong Xoai, 50 miles north of Saigon, saw bloody fighting in mid-June.

The Viet Cong gave the 1st infantry division at Bien Hoa its baptism of fire during a torrential rain. The guerrillas opened with a mortar barrage, then moved in infiltrators. The infantry shot back. Helicopters strafed suspected red positions until the action died in midmorning. Viet Cong casualties, if any, were not determined.

A marine patrol 8 miles northwest of Chu Lai encountered seven guerrillas Monday, killing three, wounding two and capturing one, a spokesman said. In another action near Chu Lai, 53 miles south of Da Nang, the marines suffered light casualties, he added.

Passport Ring Broken

Paris (AP)—French police announced the breakup of a false passport ring specializing in the printing of Portuguese passports for use by workers emigrating from Portugal to France. Police said four men, all French, were arrested and charged with turning out severl thousand forged passports at a price of 800 francs ($160) each.

U.S. Forging Ring Of Steel At Base

Da Nang, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Marine riflemen moved Monday to close a ring of steel around the Da Nang Air Base, where construction crews are expanding one of America's mightiest war zone fortresses.

Leathernecks in new, light weight fiber glass helmets and laden with weapons and ammunition took over positions south of the base.

They hoped to seal off a route used by Viet Cong guerrillas in a hit-and-run raid July 1 which killed one American and destroyed three planes on the field.

The area previously was guarded by Vietnamese troops.

Buildup Continues

Intelligence reports indicated that, even as the recently reinforced Marines moved into their new positions, the guerrillas continued to build up their own forces in the rice paddies and wooded areas to the south. There was speculation seven or more Communist battalions may now be operating within 15 miles of Da Nang. That could mean 2,800 or more men.

Informed military sources said the prospects are that the Viet Cong might still be able to infiltrate the base to plant bombs, but that a successful major assault was less likely.

Navy Seabees and private contractors worked under a hot sun to build new antiaircraft missile sites and lay out runways that could more than double the number of U.S. aircraft available for strikes in both North and South Viet Nam.

Hawk antiaircraft missiles soon will be installed on Monkey Mountain northeast of the base. The mountain already has a top secret Air Force communication and electronics complex on its crest.

The new missile site will give Da Nang added protection from Communist attack planes that might make low level runs from the sea. Three batteries of missiles currently are on guard at the base and atop a hill mass just to the west.

Across a river east of the base, workers are laying out a 2,000-feet runway and parking area for helicopters and light planes. It is to take some of the load off the main base, where a second jet runway will be constructed parallel to the present one.

70% Harvesting Finished; Rust Taking Big Toll

Nearly 70% of the 1965 winter wheat crop in Nebraska has now been harvested, about normal progress for the harvest, but considerably behind last year when 90% of the crop was cut.

This was revealed Monday by the State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics in its weekly crop-weather report.

Combining operations are virtually completed in the southern and eastern areas, more than three-fourths completed in the central and southwest areas and have just started in the Panhandle. Yield reduction due to black stem rust has been substantial in numerous fields, the bureau said. Some fields in the Panhandle are being windrowed because of the heavy growth of weeds. Slightly less than one-half of the oats crop has been harvested.

Tasseling Starts

The corn crop shows a wide range of development, the report said. Plants in some of the earlier fields are beginning to tassel, while in some of the late planted fields growth is limited. Damage to plants from corn rootworm and corn borer have shown up in some fields. A few early fields of grain sorghum are starting to head. Wet soil has slowed cultivation operations and weeds have become a serious problem in some places.

Other comments in the report:

Soybeans have shown good to excellent developments. Ditching of row crops is now generally completed and irrigation has started.

Good Alfalfa Crop

More than one-half of the second cutting of alfalfa has been harvested. Yield and quality of the crop has been good. In some areas rain fell while the hay was on the ground and reduced the quality and slowed the haying operations. In the range area the harvest of wild hay continues. Yields have generally been average or better.

Livestock production rates continue to be quite good with only limited decreases because of insects and hot weather.

North Platte Man Drowns

Brainerd, Minn. (AP)—Jack L. Ramm, 42, of North Platte, Neb., drowned in South Long Lake Sunday when he fell into the water as he tried to clear weeds from his outboard motor.

Also in the boat were his wife and brother, Don, and his wife, and a young son of each couple. The two women leaped into the water but were unable to reach Ramm. The women were assisted back into the craft by other boaters.

The body was recovered in about 25 feet of water.

Hartington Girl's Body Recovered

Yankton, S.D. (AP) — Searchers early Monday recovered the body of Jean Walton, 16, of Hartington, Neb., from Lewis and Clark Lake about two miles west of Gavins Point Dam in South Dakota.

She fell into the water Sunday.

Harold Bring, 19, Laurel, Neb., was pulled from the water by another Nebraskan, Rowan Wiltse of Wayne.

Army Engineers said Miss Walton and Bring apparently had fallen off the end of a chalk fill area Sunday along the shoreline in Gavins Point Recreation Area.

REBUILDING . . . Roebke (right) Maca and helpers rest on toppled blocks and plan next step.

Basements Bear Brunt Of Staplehurst Downpour

By JOHN LEE

Staplehurst—The Victor Roebkes will have to wait a little longer to move into their new house.

Half of it was displaced Sunday night as water from an estimated six or more inches of rain splashed through the streets here.

The concrete block foundation of the new Roebke home was finished and the floor and wall framework built up on top of it.

But earth had not yet been filled in around the sub-surface concrete.

The water buckled and collapsed three of the walls into the basement, leaving the wooden structure precariously suspended on one outside wall and a center partition.

"The way it was coming down the hill, it couldn't help but get in," said builder Joe Maca stumbling through a pile of blocks in hip waders.

Several other Staplehurst basements became temporary swimming pools, and a wall was collapsed at the Otto Hans home.

Late Monday afternoon residents were still expecting the Blue River to overflow, but "I don't think it's going to amount to much," said elevator manager Erwin Niemann.

Crests At Ulysses

A few miles upstream the Blue had crested at Ulysses without spilling over the road. It ran about three feet below flood stage there and was "holding its own," Seward County Sheriff Marvin Pollock reported.

Seward is looking for the crest late Monday or early Tuesday. Some lowlands, that normally get wet following heavy rains, were Monday, but Pollock expected no major damage.

7.5 At Surprise

The Blue River rose early Monday morning in the wake of rains west of Surprise measured unofficially at up to 7.5 inches.

In town it washed about a foot deep over the bridge, several inches deeper than it's ever been before, according to residents.

About a dozen families were evacuated to the schoolhouse during the night. One farm family moved to a chicken house.

A number of basements filled up at Surprise, and the park was entirely inundated.

Water and wind flattened crops west of there, Walter Doehling reported, and some hail beat down on fields and stripped bark off of small trees.

In Seward County, however, no hail was reported, and the rain was expected to benefit crops. Practically all the wheat has been harvested in the area.

No flooding of any consequence is expected beyond Seward unless more heavy rain arrives to compound the danger.

Meanwhile, rains in execss of four inches around Madison in northeast Nebraska were expected to give local overflow on Union and Taylor Creeks in Madison and Stanton Counties.

A late Sunday evening storm pounded Ralston and South Omaha. Some hail damage was reported.

10-Inch Deluge, Hail, Winds Hit Rock Port, Mo.

Kansas City (AP)—A virtual cloudburst dumped 10 inches of rain in four hours on the little town of Rock Port in the northwest corner of Missouri Sunday night, the Highway Patrol reported.

Wind gusts of up to 80 miles an hour knocked over trees, and a half-hour of heavy hail added to the damage caused by flash floods on small streams in the area. Rock Port has a populaiton of about 1,300.

No injuries were reported, the patrol said.

Rock Creek flooded the east side of Rock Port for several hours, but was receding Monday.

Telephone and electric power services were disrupted in most of northwest Missouri.

Rock Port is located just across the Missouri River from Brownville, Neb.

'65 Hail Damage Slight Compared To Record In '64

Insurance company officials agreed Monday that hail damage to Nebraska farm crops has been slight this year when compared to the record hail damage of 1964.

"Hail damage hasn't been too bad up to date," said W. W. Rieke, chairman of the crop-hail adjustment workshop held here, "but we still have two months to go, and this period is the most critical.

"Storms so far this year have only caused local damage, mostly in the southeast, south central and Platte Valley areas."

The crop-hail workshop was sponsored by crop-hail insurance companies and the University of Nebraska Department of Agronomy.

$350 In Cash, Checks Missing From Coop Safe

Minden (UPI)—A thief or thieves broke into the Farmers Coop Grain and Supply building Sunday night or early Monday and took $6,000 in checks and a little more than $350 in cash.

Entry into the building was made through a washroom window. The checks and cash were taken from a safe.

Law enforcement authorities said the person or persons involved apparently wore gas masks because the safe was rigged with tear gas.

Employes of the firm were having difficulty Monday working in the buildings because of the gas fumes.

Jury Finds Hatten Guilty Of Murder

Nebraska City (AP)—A jury of six men and six women found 25-year-old Danny Charles Hatten of Auburn guilty Monday on a charge of murder in the prepetration of a robbery.

The District Court jury deliberated for more than 5½ hours before reaching of verdict. The jury recommended life imprisonment.

District Judge Victor Schmidt withheld sentencing for 10 days during which the defense may file a motion for a new trial.

Hatten, a brush salesman, was charged in connection with the March 27 shooting of Mrs. William Snyder, 66, of Talmage. She died two days later in an Omaha hospital.

Basements Bear Brunt Of Staplehurst Downpour

By JOHN LEE

Staplehurst—The Victor Roebkes will have to wait a little longer to move into their new house.

Half of it was displaced Sunday night as water from an estimated six or more inches of rain splashed through the streets here.

The concrete block foundation of the new Roebke home was finished and the floor and wall framework built up on top of it.

But earth had not yet been filled in around the sub-surface concrete.

The water buckled and collapsed three of the walls into the basement, leaving the wooden structure precariously suspended on one outside wall and a center partition.

"The way it was coming down the hill, it couldn't help but get in," said builder Joe Maca stumbling through a pile of blocks in hip waders.

Several other Staplehurst basements became temporary swimming pools, and a wall was collapsed at the Otto Hans home.

Late Monday afternoon residents were still expecting the Blue River to overflow, but "I don't think it's going to amount to much," said elevator manager Erwin Niemann.

Crests At Ulysses

A few miles upstream the Blue had crested at Ulysses without spilling over the road. It ran about three feet below flood stage there and was "holding its own," Seward County Sheriff Marvin Pollock reported.

Seward is looking for the crest late Monday or early Tuesday. Some lowlands, that normally get wet following heavy rains, were Monday, but Pollock expected no major damage.

7.5 At Surprise

The Blue River rose early Monday morning in the wake of rains west of Surprise measured unofficially at up to 7.5 inches.

In town it washed about a foot deep over the bridge, several inches deeper than it's ever been before, according to residents.

About a dozen families were evacuated to the schoolhouse during the night. One farm family moved to a chicken house.

A number of basements filled up at Surprise, and the park was entirely inundated.

Water and wind flattened crops west of there, Walter Doehling reported, and some hail beat down on fields and stripped bark off of small trees.

In Seward County, however, no hail was reported, and the rain was expected to benefit crops. Practically all the wheat has been harvested in the area.

No flooding of any consequence is expected beyond Seward unless more heavy rain arrives to compound the danger.

Meanwhile, rains in execss of four inches around Madison in northeast Nebraska were expected to give local overflow on Union and Taylor Creeks in Madison and Stanton Counties.

A late Sunday evening storm pounded Ralston and South Omaha. Some hail damage was reported.

10-Inch Deluge, Hail, Winds Hit Rock Port, Mo.

Kansas City (AP)—A virtual cloudburst dumped 10 inches of rain in four hours on the little town of Rock Port in the northwest corner of Missouri Sunday night, the Highway Patrol reported.

Wind gusts of up to 80 miles an hour knocked over trees, and a half-hour of heavy hail added to the damage caused by flash floods on small streams in the area. Rock Port has a populaiton of about 1,300.

No injuries were reported, the patrol said.

Rock Creek flooded the east side of Rock Port for several hours, but was receding Monday.

Telephone and electric power services were disrupted in most of northwest Missouri.

Rock Port is located just across the Missouri River from Brownville, Neb.

$350 In Cash, Checks Missing From Coop Safe

Minden (UPI)—A thief or thieves broke into the Farmers Coop Grain and Supply building Sunday night or early Monday and took $6,000 in checks and a little more than $350 in cash.

Entry into the building was made through a washroom window. The checks and cash were taken from a safe.

Law enforcement authorities said the person or persons involved apparently wore gas masks because the safe was rigged with tear gas.

Investigationg the breakin were Minden Police Chief Elmer Fitzke, County Sheriff Lyle Olsen, and a member of the State Safety Patrol.

'65 Hail Damage Slight Compared To Record In '64

Insurance company officials agreed Monday that hail damage to Nebraska farm crops has been slight this year when compared to the record hail damage of 1964.

"Hail damage hasn't been too bad up to date," said W. W. Rieke, chairman of the crop-hail adjustment workshop held here, "but we still have two months to go, and this period is the most critical.

"Storms so far this year have only caused local damage, mostly in the southeast, south central and Platte Valley areas."

The crop-hail workshop was sponsored by crop-hail insurance companies and the University of Nebraska Department of Agronomy.

Financing City Government

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

This is never a particularly happy time of year because it is the time for government budgeting. Every sub-division of government, from the state on down, is now in the process of establishing its spending schedule for the coming year or two. And when that happens, taxpayers know that a few more dollars than before are to be taken from them because the cost of government continues to go up.

City Growth Boosts Levy

The latest budget report has come from the city where a tax levy increase of 1.7 mills would be in order for the spending levels recommended by Mayor Dean Petersen to the City Council. That would be an increase of $1.70 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. It would raise the total city levy to 24.10 mills, still considerably under the 29 mills that could be levied under city charter limitations. The city's tax levy has risen steadily in recent years but only in answer to a growing population and great demands.

The tone of the budget was set by the mayor in his letter of explanation to the council. The new budget, he said "represents a great deal of compromise in many areas. It involves painful decisions concerning what to put off for a year, and what seems absolutely essential. Decisions were reluctantly made, not between what was good or bad, but between what was urgent now and that could be put off."

It is pointed out by the mayor that the budget is not perfect in that everyone will not agree with all its details. No two people could adopt a budget of such magnitude and come up with exactly the same programs. In other areas, the mayor has singled out large but essential expenditures. In still other areas, the mayor has pointed to deficiencies that will continue due to a lack of funds.

This is the kind of picture that is presented with most budget—a rundown of pressing needs and an outline of the future. Park improvements, for instance, will take more than half a million dollars in 1965-66 under the mayor's recommended budget. However, more than half that amount would go for land acquisition, including some $200,000 for a sanitary land fill operation (city dump) that would ultimately be a park. It is an item that could be eliminated but the city is going to pay in one way or another for its dump operation and the plan proposed by Mayor Petersen is by far the best in the long run.

Issue may well be taken with the mayor on one Park Department item. That is $45,000 for a new instructional swimming pool in Woods Park. The item will be weighed against some $90,000 that would be needed to build a pool as requested in Belmont. The Belmont pool is not in the mayor's budget. The Woods pool gets its big push from the fact that Lincoln will be hosting the national Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) championships in the summer of 1966 and the instructional pool could be used then as a warmup facility for the AAU meet.

The proposition, however, is a hard one to buy. Both pools were recommended by the Park and Recreation Advisory Board and sentiment on that board appeared to give first priority to Belmont. All the argument in favor of Woods in connection with the AAU are fully undersotod but Lincoln should supply its own demands before taking care of visiting amateur-professionals.

The general public is not going to take too kindly to two swimming pools in the Woods Park and none at all even near the Belmont area. It is hoped the City Council reverses the mayor on this item and provides both pools or puts Belmont ahead of a second facility at Woods.

Alternatives Not Forward

One might argue with the proposed new $50,000 park and recreation building, a new $325,000 central fire station, a new $68,000 road or street department building at Winthrop Rd. and South or $91,000 for new street lighting but all are sound propositions. All of them will increase the service and efficiency of city government, giving the people of Lincoln better government at a lower cost over a period of years. We would also spend, in the mayor's budget, $7,000 for street markers, $13,500 for a new street sweeper and $8,400 for new parking meters in 1965-66.

They are costly items but what is the alternative? The alternative is stagnation, delay in meeting the minimum needs of a city of some 140,000 population. One may find a few differences here and there with the mayor's budget but it is in total, a solid and conservative financial foundation for the city in the coming year. We could always get by for less but not if we are to meet our responsibilities.

Dealing In Fictions

Every now and then there is a newspaper story indicating a return to favor of a partisan legislature.

A recent one pinned a massive movement in that direction by quoting three senators, who by what they said admitted that they had thought somewhat of a change. None of them could be classified as convinced men and die-hard reformers.

Considering that Nebraska has 1.5 million people we doubt that three semi-wavering state senators constitutes a mass movement. We would lots rather believe that if a substantial majority of the 1.5 million were making strong demands for reform we would have something of substance to deal with. But the evidence is against that.

The several recent efforts to boom the idea of a partisan legislature have been too feeble to get to a referendum vote. And we are much inclined to believe that Nebraska is far more happy with its non-political legislature than it ever was or ever could be with the partisan arrangement it once had and kicked out.

As we look at the two political organizations in Nebraska we fail to find any outstanding statesmen among them, yet these men or their kind would occupy a telling role in our legislation if the legislature were presented to them on a political basis. One or the other party would have control of the basic decisions that would govern the organization of the legislature, the right to determine what man should be given voice and what man should not.

Today a man of extraordinary ability can rise to eminence and the political professionals can do little about it. It is by one whole stage that the legislature is more democratic and more oriented to the greater number of Nebraskans. Who would want to end that?

Every Man For Self

State Sen. Ross Rasmussen must have felt very frustrated when he faced recently the charge of socialism. It came as a result of his attempting to defend a bill he has introduced along with Sen. Richard D. Marvel. The bill would establish 19 education service units throughout the state.

One critic of the measure apparently didn't think the help to be offered through the units was needed. "You must believe man is his brother's keeper," the critic was quoted as saying. "I do," replied Rasmussen. Then, came back his critic, "You believe in socialism."

We have come a long way in our thinking when we assert that all help to people is socialism. If that is the case, this nation is certainly loaded with socialism and not all of it is confined to government. All charity organizations would be socialistic as would many of the fringe benefits that business and industry offer their employes.

Of course, this isn't the case at all and the education service units would no more be socialism than would any other educational system. Highways, hospitals, libraries and all other public or semi-public operations would be socialistic if we used such criteria as Rasmussen's critic advanced.

Rasmussen simply would like to provide to various areas of the state another tool by which the educational framework of the state could be improved. It is not socialism but good common sense for the people of an area to organize themselves in such a manner as to have the means of doing those things which none of them could do on their own. The way some people toss around the term socialism, it could even include family life and we are not about to concede that to the political alarmists.

President On Wire Tapping

President Johnson has given a flat order against government employes using wire tapping except in security cases.

Earlier Congress had heard testimony of Internal Revenue officials connected with ferreting out instances of tax dodging.

We hope it will be that simple, but there is room for doubt.

Wire tapping is a good way of finding out what would never otherwise know. That's why its use continues. But it is a mixed blessing. It is an invasion of the right of privacy and a useful tool of a tyranny. It is the latter that causes so much protest.

The Johnson edict limiting the use of wire tapping only to matters of security still calls for a sharp definition of security. A great many things can make a nation insecure. Most of them are domestic. There can only be one kind of security in the case of one nation against the other.

But sufficient tax dodging can break a government or reduce it to the point of being unable to serve its people. And certainly gangsterism which is essentially outlawism can gain the upper hand if the law enforcers are not permitted to use adequate means for combatting it. And we presume for political means a good piece of wire-tapping can save one party from the other.

So long as it is that way a limitation on wire tapping to matters of security can change according to the feelings of the users.

We do not consider the president's edict as closing the subject more than edicts of the past have stopped wire tapping.

Excess Authority

Discipline is one mark by which the military has always been known. But now and then, the troops seem to come into their own and the commanding officers take it on the chin. The commanding officer at a Viet Nam paratrooper base has just had such an experience. The troops under him stoutly protested one of his orders and ultimately won. The order, now reversed, was against a beer ration for the men.

"I say, old chap . . . if we don't adopt the guerrilla tactics of the colonists soon, we could lose this bloomin' war . . . !"

Japanese Assert Their Equality

WASHINGTON — Japanese cabinet members didn't thumb their noses at the United States during the joint cabinet talks last week, but in a very polite and dignified way they came close to doing so.

The Japanese were more independent, more adamant opposing some American policies, and more aloof from our involvement in Viet Nam than at any time since the end of the war.

The meeting, even though not especially productive, was considered a healthy one, chiefly because it showed that ex-enemies, now allies, could engage in frank discussion.

Two factors influenced the Japanese-American cabinet talks:

1. The growth of Japanese nationalism.

2. The disapproval of America's policy in North Viet Nam.

The American embassy in Tokyo had reported some time before this that, as of last February, American popularity in Japan suddenly took a serious downward turn. The drop was associated 100 per cent with our policy of bombing North Viet Nam.

Inasmuch as Japan was subject to bombardment itself during the war, it could understand the reaction of the North Vietnamese. There was also a certain feeling of sympathy with another Asiatic country, coupled with resentment against a country considered the most powerful nation in the world.

While there was never any discussion of racial kinship with the Vietnamese as against the white citizens of the United States, nevertheless there had been an undertone.

Japanese officials have not been publicly critical of the United States over Viet Nam, but the Japanese people have. Privately, the Japanese cabinet members have argued with top American officials, pointing out that they are embarked on a "no win" policy in Viet Nam.

"We had the same experience in China," the Japanese have advised. "The more we fought, the more we lost. You can't invade the Asiatic continent, especially a jungle area, and win. You're licked even before you start."

Anti-American sentiment has become so strong that Ambassador Edwin Reischauer, married to the daughter of a former Japanese prime minister, and one of the most popular envoys the United States has ever sent to Japan, has had to curtail his public speeches.

During the Japanese-American cabinet talks, the Japanese made the following general points:

A. They would have nothingto do with our policy in Viet Nam and definitely would not participate in economic aid for that area.

B. The Japanese are delighted to participate in economic aid for the rest of Southeast Asia, especially Burma and the Philippines. They are not enthusiastic over getting involved with President Sukarno in Indonesia.

Facts Show Retired People Mostly Don't Wish To Work

NEW YORK — If you read the pronouncements of many geriatric specialists and sociologists, you must conclude that retirement is deadly.

A man who is forced to retire, after a lifetime of vigorous work (it says here in the specialists' books), can literally be bored into a state of senility. In his sudden mandatory idleness, he loses his identity. Feels worthless. Loses his love of, and gradually his hold on, life.

Well, that's what they say. But an outfit that plans and builds special retirement communities in the Southwest has found (to its financial embarrassment) that the theory ain't necessarily so. "We have discovered," reports Horizon Land Corp., "that the whole thing may be a myth—and that retired people thoroughly enjoy loafing."

Here's how Horizon came to its startling conclusion:

Believing all the propaganda it read about how to keep a worthwhile former workman happy, the executives of the firm hit upon a seemingly fool-proof plan: It offered a work opportunity program, offering good salaries to those who wished to participate, to approximately 2,000 senior citizens in its retirement communities near Tucson, Ariz., and Albuquerque and Belen, N.M. The 2,000 retirees — among them electricians, carpenters, plumbers and masons — were given the opportunity to help build homes in their own villages, on a part or full-time basis.

The retired citizens took eagerly to the idea, and signed up.

The first week's building activity was normal.

The second week, many of the men began to report to work late.

The third week, men began not to show up at all.

Building progress was nearly halted by the end of the first month. The houses, which had been planned for completion in two months, took nine months to finish.

Horizon Land Corp., having been somewhat stung, conducted a survey to see what went wrong. It discovered that almost none of the retired workers had quit because of illness, or because they found the work physically exhausting. They "just sort of got to thinking — I am retired; why am I working?"

"I spoke to many of the men on the project," said Corporation President Joseph Timan, "and discovered that almost to a man they agreed that the idea of work was, at first, appealing—as it was to me. But after the initial novelty wore off, most of them remembered that after all, when you're retired, your time should be your own.

"We have been forced to the conclusion that retired people enjoy retirement, and that most of them find it an exciting experience of itself."

In the past we have had a number of birds fly into our picture windows. Usually they are dazed for a few minutes and remain motionless on the ground until they get their bearings. Soon they wing their way into the sky again with nothing more than a few ruffled feathers.

Last night, however, a brown cuckoo, more commonly called a rain crow, flew into one of the windows and died within a short time. The Farmer said this was no accident. The poor rain crow grew so tired from singing its warning song of, "Rain, rain, rain," that it grew despondent and committed suicide.

The often told story is that when the rain crow sings it will rain shortly thereafter which gives it the distinction of being a weather prophet. I like to hear the bird sing but I do not believe the old tale . . . However, I cannot say the rain crow has made a single mistake this year. The poor bird has sung and sung and it has rained and rained.

Our town is having an outdoor barbecue tonight. Rural folk from the surrounding area gather in the park to eat and talk. The business of farming and gardening, politics and baseball are all discussed over picnic tables laden with fragrant outdoor cooked food and coffee.

Nothing makes me more hungry than seeing the fellow ahead of me carrying his well filled plate to a table while I wait for mine, sniffing the baked beans and potato salad. Tonight the people may have to move into a large church basement for the supper as I hear the rumble of thunder in the distance. Eating indoors does not curtail the appetite nor dim the spirit of community pride and fellowship.

The aftereffects from a picnic are amusing. Last year one mother told me she spent the following day washing cotton candy from her little girl's hair and grass stains from her little boy's knees. What better way is there to measure the success of a picnic?

The harvest apples are big and juicy this year . . . and I might add without worms despite the fact that it rained so much we could not find a suitable time for spraying them the past spring. The cool, wet weather perhaps served as a discouraging sign for the insects that normally are buzzing about laying their eggs in the flowers of the fruit trees. Whatever the reason both the cherries and apples are without worms.

The Farmer is cultivating milo today, hoping to get through all the fields for the last time before it rains again. If it should rain the fields will have to go without the final cultivation. He has not fertilized them either so his worries are twofold.

Yet when all is said and done everyone agrees that this weather is much better than the drought that we all experienced in the thirties. Perhaps the grass does need mowing twice as often as usual. When I think of the dry, straw-like spears of grass that made up front yards in the dry years I am not nearly so reluctant to guide the lawn mower.

When I see the spatters of rain that mar my windows continually I think of the film of dust that clung to windows when the air was clouded with rolling Oklahoma dust and the dirty thirties seemed never to end. As I clean the water marks from my windows I see bright green trees, heavy with leaves and lush pastures all about me. The sunlight intensifies the greens and I do not feel like complaining anymore.

Perhaps the corn and milo fields are in need of cultivation and the weeds are making headway. The corn and milo are growing too, though not in clean fields. But when the fields were almost bare of corn and the farmers had to use so called sleds to glean what meager stalks grew in the fields in the thirties they would have given a pretty penny for a field that looks like ours today.

If we didn't have the weather to talk about I wonder what our "next in line complaint" would be . . . having to wait too long for reservations for a trip to the moon?

Terms For China

Lincoln, Neb.

It is certainly distressing to read the comment by Dr. Ralph Bunche, undersecretary of the United Nations, that "Red China probably will be admitted to the United Nations within two years unless Peking prevents it by world conflict."

The United States should use the veto power to prevent this from happening unless Red China does the following:

1. That the Red government submit to free elections which will be policed by the United Nations.

2. That the Red government submit to free elections and fomenting civil wars and insurrections in neighboring countries and the rest of the world. This must be proved by actions, not words.

3. That the Red government withdraw its troops and influence from Tibet and release all political prisoners from that country. This also must be policed.

4. That Red China grant political amnesty to all political prisoners in its own country.

5. That Red China agrees to sign and submit to the test ban treaty. This too must be proved by actions.

6. That the Red government give an accounting for missing prisoners of war which rumor has it are in concentration camps.

Unless these conditions are met Red China is unfit for United Nations membership. If our delegate to the U.N. does not use his veto power to keep this gangster government out, an investigation of the State Department and the President of United States is in order.

This investigation should be conducted by patriotic members of Congress who are willing to give their own time and who refused to see their beloved country sold down the river for 30 pieces of silver.

View On Taxes

Lincoln, Neb.

Some people are trying to raise the income tax referendum on a non-partisan intellectual plane—a right the people of Nebraska should have the privilege of exercising.

Make no mistake, the only ones clamoring for a referendum are those opposed to the income tax, and for heaping tax increases on property. They are going to all of this petition work in the hopes that the people of Nebraska will be caught off guard of their best judgment and vote to increase already excessive property taxes.

Before you sign a petition for a referendum on the income tax law passed by the legislature you should answer truthfully four questions.

1. Is there a more equitable basis on which to pay taxes than income, or ability to pay?

2. How much longer can you really heap taxes on property and reasonably expect Nebraska to build for the future?

3. Why this frantic push for a referendum by the high income people?

4. How can you tax Nebraska's basic industry to death, and reasonably expect our economy to forge ahead?

Our representatives in our legislature have exercised their constitutional right, how the revenue shall be raised to pay for higher education and state services. This decision has been in the making over a long period of years. By the standard of fairness, by the judgment of other states this was a very wise revenue law. Now it is up to us to support them. Think about this before you sign a petition.

School Lands

Grand Island

In my opinion it would be a bad thing for Nebraska to sell its school lands. The income from this land provides a steady cash flow into schools across the state.

With the land, we know what we will get year after year and land is a good hedge against inflation. If we sell the lands and invest the money, we don't know how much we will get.

Also, the next thing you know somebody will want to take that big pot of cash and spend it on some fancy scheme. Then, all our money will be gone and we will have nothing. The sale of this land is just being pushed by already big land owners who want more.

Financing City Government

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

This is never a particularly happy time of year because it is the time for government budgeting. Every sub-division of government, from the state on down, is now in the process of establishing its spending schedule for the coming year or two. And when that happens, taxpayers know that a few more dollars than before are to be taken from them because the cost of government continues to go up.

The latest budget report has come from the city where a tax levy increase of 1.7 mills would be in order for the spending levels recommended by Mayor Dean Petersen to the City Council. That would be an increase of $1.70 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. It would raise the total city levy to 24.10 mills, still considerably under the 29 mills that could be levied under city charter limitations. The city's tax levy has risen steadily in recent years but only in answer to a growing population and great demands.

City Growth Boosts Levy

The tone of the budget was set by the mayor in his letter of explanation to the council. The new budget, he said, "represents a great deal of compromise in many areas. It involves painful decisions concerning what to put off for a year, and what seems absolutely essential. Decisions were reluctantly made, not between what was good or bad, but between what was urgent now and that could be put off."

It is pointed out by the mayor that the budget is not perfect in that everyone will not agree with all its details. No two people could adopt a budget of such magnitude and come up with exactly the same programs. In other areas, the mayor has singled out large but essential expenditures. In still other areas, the mayor has pointed to deficiencies that will continue due to a lack of funds.

This is the kind of picture that is presented with most budget—a rundown of pressing needs and an outline of the future. Park improvements, for instance, will take more than half a million dollars in 1965-66 under the mayor's recommended budget. However, more than half that amount would go for land acquisition, including some $200,000 for a sanitary land fill operation (city dump) that would ultimately be a park. It is an item that could be eliminated but the city is going to pay in one way or another for its dump operation and the plan proposed by Mayor Petersen is by far the best in the long run.

Issue may well be taken with the mayor on one Park Department item. That is $45,000 for a new instructional swimming pool in Woods Park. The item will be weighed against some $90,000 that would be needed to build a pool as requested in Belmont. The Belmont pool is not in the mayor's budget. The Woods pool gets its big push from the fact that Lincoln will be hosting the national Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) championships in the summer of 1966 and the instructional pool could be used then as a warmup facility for the AAU meet.

The proposition, however, is a hard one to buy. Both pools were recommended by the Park and Recreation Advisory Board and sentiment on that board appeared to give first priority to Belmont. All the argument in favor of Woods in connection with the AAU are fully undersotod but Lincoln should supply its own demands before taking care of visiting amateur-professionals.

The general public is not going to take too kindly to two swimming pools in the Woods Park and none at all even near the Belmont area. It is hoped the City Council reverses the mayor on this item and provides both pools or puts Belmont ahead of a second facility at Woods.

One might argue with the proposed new $50,000 park and recreation building, a new $325,000 central fire station, a new $68,000 road or street department building at Winthrop Rd. and South or $91,000 for new street lighting but all are sound propositions. All of them will increase the service and efficiency of city government, giving the people of Lincoln better government at a lower cost over a period of years. We would also spend, in the mayor's budget, $7,000 for street markers, $13,500 for a new street sweeper and $8,400 for new parking meters in 1965-66.

Alternatives Not Forward

They are costly items but what is the alternative? The alternative is stagnation, delay in meeting the minimum needs of a city of some 140,000 population. One may find a few differences here and there with the mayor's budget but it is in total, a solid and conservative financial foundation for the city in the coming year. We could always get by for less but not if we are to meet our responsibilities.

Dealing In Fictions

Every now and then there is a newspaper story indicating a return to favor of a partisan legislature.

A recent one pinned a massive movement in that direction by quoting three senators, who by what they said admitted that they had thought somewhat of a change. None of them could be classified as convinced men and die-hard reformers.

Considering that Nebraska has 1.5 million people we doubt that three semi-wavering state senators constitutes a mass movement. We would lots rather believe that if a substantial majority of the 1.5 million were making strong demands for reform we would have something of substance to deal with. But the evidence is against that.

The several recent efforts to boom the idea of a partisan legislature have been too feeble to get to a referendum vote. And we are much inclined to believe that Nebraska is far more happy with its non-political legislature than it ever was or ever could be with the partisan arrangement it once had and kicked out.

As we look at the two political organizations in Nebraska we fail to find any outstanding statesmen among them, yet these men or their kind would occupy a telling role in our legislation if the legislature were presented to them on a political basis. One or the other party would have control of the basic decisions that would govern the organization of the legislature, the right to determine what man should be given voice and what man should not.

Today a man of extraordinary ability can rise to eminence and the political professionals can do little about it. It is by one whole stage that the legislature is more democratic and more oriented to the greater number of Nebraskans. Who would want to end that?

Every Man For Self

State Sen. Ross Rasmussen must have felt very frustrated when he faced recently the charge of socialism. It came as a result of his attempting to defend a bill he has introduced along with Sen. Richard D. Marvel. The bill would establish 19 education service units throughout the state.

One critic of the measure apparently didn't think the help to be offered through the units was needed. "You must believe man is his brother's keeper," the critic was quoted as saying. "I do," replied Rasmussen. Then, came back his critic, "You believe in socialism."

We have come a long way in our thinking when we assert that all help to people is socialism. If that is the case, this nation is certainly loaded with socialism and not all of it is confined to government. All charity organizations would be socialistic as would many of the fringe benefits that business and industry offer their employes.

Of course, this isn't the case at all and the education service units would no more be socialism than would any other educational system. Highways, hospitals, libraries and all other public or semi-public operations would be socialistic if we used such criteria as Rasmussen's critic advanced.

Rasmussen simply would like to provide to various areas of the state another tool by which the educational framework of the state could be improved. It is not socialism but good common sense for the people of an area to organize themselves in such a manner as to have the means of doing those things which none of them could do on their own. The way some people toss around the term socialism, it could even include family life and we are not about to concede that to the political alarmists.

President On Wire Tapping

President Johnson has given a flat order against government employes using wire tapping except in security cases.

Earlier Congress had heard testimony of Internal Revenue officials connected with ferreting out instances of tax dodging.

We hope it will be that simple, but there is room for doubt.

Wire tapping is a good way of finding out what would never otherwise know. That's why its use continues. But it is a mixed blessing. It is an invasion of the right of privacy and a useful tool of a tyranny. It is the latter that causes so much protest.

The Johnson edict limiting the use of wire tapping only to matters of security still calls for a sharp definition of security. A great many things can make a nation insecure. Most of them are domestic. There can only be one kind of security in the case of one nation against the other.

But sufficient tax dodging can break a government or reduce it to the point of being unable to serve its people. And certainly gangsterism which is essentially outlawism can gain the upper hand if the law enforcers are not permitted to use adequate means for combatting it. And we presume for political means a good piece of wiretapping can save one party from the other.

So long as it is that way a limitation on wire tapping to matters of security can change according to the feelings of the users.

We do not consider the president's edict as closing the subject more than edicts of the past have stopped wire tapping.

Excess Authority

Discipline is one mark by which the military has always been known. But now and then, the troops seem to come into their own and the commanding officers take it on the chin. The commanding officer at a Viet Nam paratrooper base has just had such an experience. The troops under him stoutly protested one of his orders and ultimately won. The order, now reversed, was against a beer ration for the men.

"I say, old chap . . . if we don't adopt the guerrilla tactics of the colonists soon, we could lose this bloomin' war . . . !"

Japanese Assert Their Equality

WASHINGTON — Japanese cabinet members didn't thumb their noses at the United States during the joint cabinet talks last week, but in a very polite and dignified way they came close to doing so.

The Japanese were more independent, more adamant opposing some American policies, and more aloof from our involvement in Viet Nam than at any time since the end of the war.

The meeting, even though not especially productive, was considered a healthy one, chiefly because it showed that ex-enemies, now allies, could engage in frank discussion.

Two factors influenced the Japanese-American cabinet talks:

1. The growth of Japanese nationalism.

2. The disapproval of America's policy in North Viet Nam.

The American embassy in Tokyo had reported some time before this that, as of last February, American popularity in Japan suddenly took a serious downward turn. The drop was associated 100 per cent with our policy of bombing North Viet Nam.

Inasmuch as Japan was subject to bombardment itself during the war, it could understand the reaction of the North Vietnamese. There was also a certain feeling of sympathy with another Asiatic country, coupled with resentment against a country considered the most powerful nation in the world.

While there was never any discussion of racial kinship with the Vietnamese as against the white citizens of the United States, nevertheless there had been an undertone.

Japanese officials have not been publicly critical of the United States over Viet Nam, but the Japanese people have. Privately, the Japanese cabinet members have argued with top American officials, pointing out that they are embarked on a "no win" policy in Viet Nam.

"We had the same experience in China," the Japanese have advised. "The more we fought, the more we lost. You can't invade the Asiatic continent, especially a jungle area, and win. You're licked even before you start."

Anti-American sentiment has become so strong that Ambassador Edwin Reischauer, married to the daughter of a former Japanese prime minister, and one of the most popular envoys the United States has ever sent to Japan, has had to curtail his public speeches.

During the Japanese-American cabinet talks, the Japanese made the following general points:

A. They would have nothingto do with our policy in Viet Nam and definitely would not participate in economic aid for that area.

B. The Japanese are delighted to participate in economic aid for the rest of Southeast Asia, especially Burma and the Philippines. They are not enthusiastic over getting involved with President Sukarno in Indonesia.

Facts Show Retired People Mostly Don't Wish To Work

NEW YORK — If you read the pronouncements of many geriatric specialists and sociologists, you must conclude that retirement is deadly.

A man who is forced to retire, after a lifetime of vigorous work (it says here in the specialists' books), can literally be bored into a state of senility. In his sudden mandatory idleness, he loses his identity. Feels worthless. Loses his love of, and gradually his hold on, life.

Well, that's what they say. But an outfit that plans and builds special retirement communities in the Southwest has found (to its financial embarrassment) that the theory ain't necessarily so. "We have discovered," reports Horizon Land Corp., "that the whole thing may be a myth—and that retired people thoroughly enjoy loafing."

Here's how Horizon came to its startling conclusion:

Believing all the propaganda it read about how to keep a worthwhile former workman happy, the executives of the firm hit upon a seemingly fool-proof plan: It offered a work opportunity program, offering good salaries to those who wished to participate, to approximately 2,000 senior citizens in its retirement communities near Tucson, Ariz., and Albuquerque and Belen, N.M. The 2,000 retirees — among them electricians, carpenters, plumbers and masons — were given the opportunity to help build homes in their own villages, on a part or full-time basis.

The retired citizens took eagerly to the idea, and signed up.

The first week's building activity was normal.

The second week, many of the men began to report to work late.

The third week, men began not to show up at all.

Building progress was nearly halted by the end of the first month. The houses, which had been planned for completion in two months, took nine months to finish.

Horizon Land Corp., having been somewhat stung, conducted a survey to see what went wrong. It discovered that almost none of the retired workers had quit because of illness, or because they found the work physically exhausting. They "just sort of got to thinking — I am retired; why am I working?"

"I spoke to many of the men on the project," said Corporation President Joseph Timan, "and discovered that almost to a man they agreed that the idea of work was, at first, appealing—as it was to me. But after the initial novelty wore off, most of them remembered that after all, when you're retired, your time should be your own.

Bill Erasing Household Goods Exemption OK'd

A bill abolishing the tax exemption on the first $200 value of household goods and personal effects survived a last ditch kill attempt in the Legislature Monday and received 29-14 approval on final reading.

A motion by Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver to return the bill, LB850, to select file for an amendment striking the enacting clause, i.e., killing the bill) was rejected 11-29 after slight debate.

It has been estimated that elimination of the exemption will yield about $245,000 per year to the state, and $1.6 million to lower political subdivisions.

Klaver contended the bill hits "little people" and said costs of enforcement would be excessive.

But Crofton Sen. Jules Burbach, whose Revenue Committee introduced the measure, pointed out that no such exemptions are granted on other property and there is no valid reason to exempt household goods any more than other property. He said also taxpayers have used the $200 exemption as a screen to evade tax payments.

Also passed Monday were bills paving the way for Lincoln's annexation of the village of West Lincoln, permitting cities and counties to issue bonds for highway and street construction and off-street parking facilities paid off by gas tax revenue, and permitting second class cities and villages to establish pension plans for city employes.

The list (E—emergency clause):

LB101—Authorizing cities and villages (except Omaha) and counties to issue bonds for street and highway construction and off-street parking facilities, and use gasoline tax funds to pay interest and retire the bonds. (Carpenter) (E) (33-8).

LB724—Requiring county attorney or attorney general's consent for the filing of a criminal complaint, or in the alternative, requiring posting of a bond by the complaining citizen. (Skarda) (34-8).

LB586—Authorizing Lincoln to annex any adjacent village which it serves with water or sanitary sewerage service. (Stromer, Knight). (39-4).

LB387—Removing from the state brand inspection area that portion of Madison County presently in the area. (Braner, Wylie, Nore) (41-3).

LB300—Permitting fish snagging in the Missouri River from Oct. 1 through April 30 instead of Nov. 1 to April 1. (Braner, Nore, Hasebroock) (E) (42-2).

LB862—Requiring owners to dispose of animals which die of anthrax, with general supervision vested in State Agriculture Department, and increasing penalties for violation. (for the governor, by Kremer). (43-0).

LB308—Authorizing second class cities and villages by ordinance or resolution to establish pension plans fromunicipal employes. (Matzke). (34-8).

LB850—Eliminating the tax exemption on the first $200 value of household goods and personal effects. (Revenue Committee) (29-14).

Casual Baby Care Shocks Grandmother

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. "My daughter married and moved away three years ago. I've just visited her for the first time and am shocked at her casual attitude toward her baby boy. She takes her own good time before changing his diapers, lets him cry in his crib, and doesn't bother to warm his babyfood properly. When I remonstrated she said, 'You've raised your baby, now let me raise mine.' The visit was so unsettling I'm almost a nervous wreck."

A. When you were young you probably fretted less over your baby than you fret now over your grandchild. Young mothers seem to view children as the durable sprouts they are, whereas grandparents seem to view them as delicate bits of porcelain. Grandmothers can make suggestions, but they must remind themselves that it's Nature's plan to leave baby raising up to the mother.

Q. "My wife looks dowdier every year. Since I retired she seems to have lost all interest in fixing up and goes around with run-down shoes, rumpled cotton dresses, straggly gray hair and no make-up. Wouldn't it be good for her morale to fix up a little?"

A. Yes, and for your morale, too. Maybe you can inspire her by taking her to events where she'll brush elbows with well-grommed people. Also, use the ancient device of complimenting her whenever she makes a little effort toward beautifying herself. Many older people who lose interest in their appearance do so because they're at home too much and feel no incentive to fix up.

Q. My wife and I have lived in apartments all our life. Now that we're retired we're toying with the idea of buying a 20-room chalet that's up for sale for a song. We can afford it and think it would be fun, but of course our creaky friends say it will be a burden and responsibility. What say you?"

A. Go ahead and get it if it attracts you. Retirement should be a time for doing things that beckon excitingly. It's better to invest extra money in real estate that may pave the way for new interests and opportunities, than to let the cash sit idle and unused at the bank.

Q. "I spent 20 minutes at a newsstand the other day studying the hundreds of different magazines for sale. Like most proper old ladies, I was absolutely shocked at the volume of sexy, girly magazines. I was also shocked to find there wasn't a single monthly magazine on the stand specifically edited for older people."

A. Everyone seems shocked at the stuff being sold on newsstands these days, but with liberalization of press censorship nearly anything goes. As for old folks' publications, there's some question whether elders really want one. There have been four or five good ones the past decade but all folded simply because of insufficient interest. The only monthly magazine for seniors today is Harvest Years, which can be ordered from 681 Market Street, San Francisco, Calif. ($4.50 per year).

Resolution Hitting Property Values Schedule Adopted

The Legislature Monday approved a resolution advocating that taxpayers not be required to follow the tax commissioner's suggested schedule of property item values for tax purposes until all classes of property are required to be reported from such a schedule of suggested values.

Resolution 70, sponsored by Sen. Lester Harsh of Bartley, was adopted 28-4.

At the suggestion of Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, copies will be sent to each county assessor and the chairman of each county board.

The resolution points out that at the present time, some persons are required to use suggested values item by item, while others are not. The tax commissioner should use a uniform method of valuing property for taxation and all taxpayers should report their property based on values as required by law, the document said.

School Merger Bill Advanced By Legislature

The Nebraska Legislature gave 20-10 first round floor approval to a school merger bill supported especially by Beatrice interests.

The measure, LB688, sponsored by Sens. Fred Carstens of Beatrice and Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, will need 25 affirmative votes on final reading.

Put off until later was general file action on a similar but some-what divergent proposal, LB452, sponsored by Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings.

LB688 barely survived a kill motion, 19-20, last Friday and a motion to advance it at that time also fell short, 14-15.

Sen. Carstens, in brief remarks preceding Monday's vote, termed "unjustified" a statement made Friday by Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth, a foe of the bill. Ruhnke had noted that in local school merger disputes, "if you can't win under the rules you have, you go to the Legislature and try to get new rules."

Carstens said LB688 "is not a special interest bill or a special area bill or a special district bill." He said a school district conflict in the Beatrice area developed some months after the bill was introduced.

Ruhnke was absent Monday.

LB688 would permit a merging of two or more Class 1 or Class 2 school districts with an existing Class 3 district into a new Class 3 district.

College Faculty Recruitment Fight Told

State Normal Board Coordinator F. B. Decker said Monday Nebraska's four state colleges have never had to struggle so hard to retain faculty members and attract new ones.

"The competition is really fierce," said Dr. Decker. "Every college in the country is fighting hard to attract Ph.D.'s.

"In several instances, we wanted Ph.D.'s but had to settle for less."

Out-of-state colleges began raiding the faculties of Nebraska's colleges at Kearney, Peru, Chadron and Wayne more than two months ago, and several professors holding doctorate degrees have been lost.

In addition, the four state colleges have a total of 78 additional faculty posts to fill for the coming school year because of faculty expansion approved by the Legislature.

He said Nebraska's state colleges are at a disadvantage in the faculty recruitment battle because salaries at the four colleges are below those of similar Midwest institutions, and colleges in other states sometimes offer special benefits to attract professors.

Bill Erasing Household Goods Exemption OK'd

A bill abolishing the tax exemption on the first $200 value of household goods and personal effects survived a last ditch kill attempt in the Legislature Monday and received 29-14 approval on final reading.

A motion by Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver to return the bill, LB850, to select file for an amendment striking the enacting clause, i.e., killing the bill) was rejected 11-29 after slight debate.

It has been estimated that elimination of the exemption will yield about $245,000 per year to the state, and $1.6 million to lower political subdivisions.

Klaver contended the bill hits "little people" and said costs of enforcement would be excessive.

But Crofton Sen. Jules Burbach, whose Revenue Committee introduced the measure, pointed out that no such exemptions are granted on other property and there is no valid reason to exempt household goods any more than other property. He said also taxpayers have used the $200 exemption as a screen to evade tax payments.

Council Slates Hearing For Next Week On Sidewalk Policy

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Monday finished deliberations on a revised policy for the construction of new sidewalks and set a public hearing on the policy for next week.

The policy resolution, as yet not officially acted on, provides that sidewalk construction in areas of the city which are not new subdivisions shall be required according to a priority table uniformly applied by the council.

In determining the priority of requirement for a sidewalk, the council will operate as follows:

—Assign a high priority to streets where no sidewalks have been constructed

—Assign a high priority to streets which are arterial or through streets or are high risk pedestrian areas in the opinion of the council.

—Ass. ~ a high priority to streets in areas where there are educational institutions, churches, hospitals or care homes, recreation facilities, public buildings, commercial centers and other facilities which tend to increase pedestrian traffic

On Both Sides

The policy also calls for sidewalks to be constructed on both sides of the street in all new subdivisions, other than administrative subdivisions, "except where the design of the subdivision would require another acceptable pattern of construction which would better promote public safety."

The policy will require that sidewalks in new subdivisions be completed at the same time as structures on the property and not later than the four-year time limit on the bonds required of developers

Under consideration, however, is a provision amending the policy to not require sidewalk construction in subdivisions where the lots are an acre or more in size.

The council decided not to require sidewalk construction as a part of any new paving district and amended the policy to provide that at the time a district is created the priority rating would be reviewed to determine whether sidewalks should be constructed.

Sidewalks will also be required on any property concurrent with the completion of construction of new structures on the property.

As to notification procedure, the policy provides that when the council determines construction of a sidewalk is required, the city will notify the property owner and allow him 30 days during the construction season to construct the sidewalk according to city requirements.

Will Charge

If the sidewalk is not completed within that period, the city will notify the owner that the city will order the construction and charge the cost to the property owner.

The council has discussed new sidewalk construction for several months, following the presentation of a detailed sidewalk program by the public works department.

Robert Obering, acting director of the department, told the council Monday that based on the previous study, the priority list compiled at that time meets all the requirements of the revised new policy.

The first 10 priority items on that list include (in order): 52nd., Normal Blvd. to South (bids already taken); Sandalwood, Sycamore Drive to Driftwood Drive; Valley Road, 48th to 56th; Cotner Blvd., Leighton to Adams; Normal Blvd., 48th to 56th; Sumner, 48th to 52nd; Cottonwood Drive, No. Hazelwood Drive to Sandalwood; No. Hazelwood, Sycamore Drive to Sandalwood; Sycamore Drive, Missouri-Pacific R.R. tracks to No. Hazelwood and Orchard, 50th to 51st.

Council Ends Housing Code Study

The City Council has completed a review of Lincoln's minimum standard housing ordinance and possible changes in the nine-year-old code have been sent to city departments for further study.

Reviewed and argued over during a Monday morning session were sections in the old code covering owner and occupant responsibility, rooming houses, unfit dwellings and enforcement.

City Planning Director Douglas Brogden said that planning, health and building inspection officials would study questions raised by the council over the past 3 weeks and later make recommendations on what a revised code should contain.

In suggesting many changes in the old code, council members have debated which areas should be strengthened and to what extent the code should be applied

Councilman John Comstock continued his strong opposition to certain aspects of the old code or a revised minimum standard housing measure.

He told the council that they have lost the idea of a minimum standard, and said, "you are talking, instead, of the maximum."

"I can't see how we have gone along for years in Lincoln and then find out everything is a health hazard," Comstock said.

However, Comstock gave his support to a revised code if its passage would not automatically make a large number of Lincoln homes in violation of the ordinance.

Other council members favored changing the present code Yet to be determined is to what degree

"The purpose of this ordinance is not to snoop in anyone's house," said Councilwoman Mrs Helen Boosalis, referring to a section in the present code which provides that "every occupant of a dwelling unit shall keep in a clean and sanitary condition that part of the dwelling which he occupies and controls."

Council members made it clear that any new minimum standard housing measure would cover all dwellings in Lincoln and would include trailers.

Also proposed:

—After passage of a revised ordinance the city would be divided into areas and each area covered by a well-trained inspector.

"We have health problems and others we don't even know about," Mayor Dean Petersen said.

—An information program designed to help the public understand the ordinance that would precede any inspection.

Brogden Urges Extensive Study Of Housing For Aged

City Planning Director Douglas Brogden Monday suggested to the City Council that the city undertake an extensive study of the housing problem facing Lincoln's older citizens.

Brogden said the study would be done by experts and would determine the number of people over 65, their income, assets, means of transportation, state of health and how they are living now and how they want to live.

Such factual data could help determine whether private enterprise can take care of the problem, he said.

Cost of the project could range between $7,500 and $12,000. Brogden suggested that perhaps the city could cooperate with the Lincoln Housing Authority on the cost.

He added that there is presently $6,000 in his budget not as yet committed.

Councilman John Comstock said that if such a project was started, every type of information should be uncovered, including, if possible, the number of elderly citizens who could be taken care of by their families.

Both Comstock and Councilman Carroll Thompson urged finding local solutions to the senior citizen housing problem, instead of relying on the federal government.

No defninte action on the idea was taken.

Folsom St. Zone Change OKd

The City Council capped a busy Monday session by approving a change of zone from AA rural and public use to K light industry for a nine-acre tract located south of South St. on Folsom

The applicants for the zoning change, Lena and Otis Glebe, propose industrial use of the property, which is included in lands recommended for industrial zoning by the comprehensive plan.

The City-County Planning Commission had recommended approval of the change.

Deferred until the next meeting was an ordinance which would add ornamental facings to the list of structures allowed to extend over a public street.

Exceptions

Other exceptions include porches, marquees, oriel windows and cornices

Ray Calkins, representing Mapes Industries, and Burnham Yates, both appearing in favor of the ordinance, said that a problem exists in Lincoln because most old buildings are built abutting the lot line.

Passage of the ordinance would allow the ornamental facing, which they said would enhance the appearance of older structures, to extend eight inches over public property.

Council members indicated they would probably amend the ordiance to provide that the facing could not extend less than 10 feet above the street.

Signals ordered

The council passed a resolution directing the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railate flashing signals and a bell at the Calvert St. crossing.

The city will contribute 10% of the cost, under new state legislation, the rest being paid by the state and the railroad.

Also approved by the council were the applications of John H. and Mary Jo Robel for an off and on sale beer license at 2011 O and Audrey J. Isaacs, to manage The Rack (Lincoln Hotel, 147 No. 9th.

A hearing was set for Aug. 2 on the application of Arthur R. Kluge for an on and off sale beer license for the End Zone, 1035 M, now owned by Phillip Butler.

Council Slates Hearing For Next Week On Sidewalk Policy

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Council Monday finished deliberations on a revised policy for the construction of new sidewalks and set a public hearing on the policy for next week.

The policy resolution, as yet not officially acted on, provides that sidewalk construction in areas of the city which are not new subdivisions shall be required according to a priority table uniformly applied by the council.

In determining the priority of requirement for a sidewalk, the council will operate as follows:

—Assign a high priority to streets where no sidewalks have been constructed.

—Assign a high priority to streets which are arterial or through streets or are high risk pedestrian areas in the opinion of the council.

—Assign a high priority to streets in areas where there are educational institutions, churches, hospitals or care homes, recreation facilities, public buildings, commercial centers and other facilities which tend to increase pedestrian traffic.

On Both Sides

The policy also calls for sidewalks to be constructed on both sides of the street in all new subdivisions, other than administrative subdivisions, "except where the design of the subdivision would require another acceptable pattern of construction which would better promote public safety."

The policy will require that sidewalks in new subdivisions be completed at the same time as structures on the property and not later than the four-year time limit on the bonds required of developers.

Under consideration, however, is a provision amending the policy to not require sidewalk construction in subdivisions where the lots are an acre or more in size.

The council decided not to require sidewalk construction as a part of any new paving district and amended the policy to provide that at the time a district is created the priority rating would be reviewed to determine whether sidewalks should be constructed.

Sidewalks will also be required on any property concurrent with the completion of construction of new structures on the property.

As to notification procedure, the policy provides that when the council determines construction of a sidewalk is required, the city will notify the property owner and allow him 30 days during the construction season to construct the sidewalk according to city requirements.

Will Charge

If the sidewalk is not completed within that period, the city will notify the owner that the city will order the construction and charge the cost to the property owner.

The council has discussed new sidewalk construction for several months, following the presentation of a detailed sidewalk program by the public works department.

Robert Obering, acting director of the department, told the council Monday that based on the previous study, the priority list compiled at that time meets all the requirements of the revised new policy.

The first 10 priority items on that list include (in order): 52nd., Normal Blvd. to South (bids already taken); Sandalwood, Sycamore Drive to Driftwood Drive; Valley Road, 48th to 56th; Cotner Blvd., Leighton to Adams; Normal Blvd., 48th to 56th; Sumner, 48th to 52nd; Cottonwood Drive, No. Hazelwood Drive to Sandalwood; No. Hazelwood, Sycamore Drive to Sandalwood; Sycamore Drive, Missouri-Pacific R.R. tracks to No. Hazelwood and Orchard, 50th to 51st.

Council Ends Housing Code Study

The City Council has completed a review of Lincoln's minimum standard housing ordinance and possible changes in the nine-year-old code have been sent to city departments for further study.

Reviewed and argued over during a Monday morning session were sections in the old code covering owner and occupant responsibility, rooming houses, unfit dwellings and enforcement.

City Planning Director Douglas Brogden said that planning, health and building inspection officials would study questions raised by the council over the past 3 weeks and later make recommendations on what a revised code should contain.

In suggesting many changes in the old code, council members have debated which areas should be strengthened and to what extent the code should be applied.

Councilman John Comstock continued his strong opposition to certain aspects of the old code or a revised minimum standard housing measure.

He told the council that they have lost the idea of a minimum standard, and said, "you are talking, instead, of the maximum."

"I can't see how we have gone along for years in Lincoln and then find out everything is a health hazard," Comstock said.

However, Comstock gave his support to a revised code if its passage would not automatically make a large number of Lincoln homes in violation of the ordinance.

Other council members favored changing the present code. Yet to be determined is to what degree.

"The purpose of this ordinance is not to snoop in anyone's house," said Councilwoman Mrs. Helen Boosalis, referring to a section in the present code which provides that "every occupant of a dwelling unit shall keep in a clean and sanitary condition that part of the dwelling which he occupies and controls."

Council members made it clear that any new minimum standard housing measure would cover all dwellings in Lincoln and would include trailers.

Also proposed:

—After passage of a revised ordinance the city would be divided into areas and each area covered by a well-trained inspector.

"We have health problems and others we don't even know about," Mayor Dean Petersen said.

—An information program designed to help the public understand the ordinance that would precede any inspection.

Brogden Urges Extensive Study Of Housing For Aged

City Planning Director Douglas Brogden Monday suggested to the City Council that the city undertake an extensive study of the housing problem facing Lincoln's older citizens.

Brogden said the study would be done by experts and would determine the number of people over 65, their income, assets, means of transportation, state of health and how they are living now and how they want to live.

Such factual data could help determine whether private enterprise can take care of the problem, he said.

Cost of the project could range between $7,500 and $12,000. Brogden suggested that perhaps the city could cooperate with the Lincoln Housing Authority on the cost.

He added that there is presently $6,000 in his budget not as yet committed.

Councilman John Comstock said that if such a project was started, every type of information should be uncovered, including, if possible, the number of elderly citizens who could be taken care of by their families.

Both Comstock and Councilman Carroll Thompson urged finding local solutions to the senior citizen housing problem, instead of relying on the federal government.

No defninte action on the idea was taken.

Folsom St. Zone Change OKd

The City Council capped a busy Monday session by approving a change of zone from AA rural and public use to K light industry for a nine-acre tract located south of South St. on Folsom.

The applicants for the zoning change, Lena and Otis Glebe, propose industrial use of the property, which is included in lands recommended for industrial zoning by the comprehensive plan.

The City-County Planning Commission had recommended approval of the change.

Deferred until the next meeting was an ordinance which would add ornamental facings to the list of structures allowed to extend over a public street.

Exceptions

Other exceptions include porches, marquees, oriel windows and cornices.

Ray Calkins, representing Mapes Industries, and Burnham Yates, both appearing in favor of the ordinance, said that a problem exists in Lincoln because most old buildings are built abutting the lot line.

Passage of the ordinance would allow the ornamental facing, which they said would enhance the appearance of older structures, to extend eight inches over public property.

Council members indicated they would probably amend the ordiance to provide that the facing could not extend less than 10 feet above the street.

Signals ordered

The council passed a resolution directing the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railate flashing signals and a bell at the Calvert St. crossing.

The city will contribute 10% of the cost, under new state legislation, the rest being paid by the state and the railroad.

Also approved by the council were the applications of John H. and Mary Jo Robel for an off and on sale beer license at 2011 O and Audrey J. Isaacs, to manage The Rack (Lincoln Hotel, 147 No. 9th.

A hearing was set for Aug. 2 on the application of Arthur R. Kluge for an on and off sale beer license for the End Zone, 1035 M, now owned by Phillip Butler.

You're so smart to save America's Most Valuable Stamps

"Run your fingers over the cheek of a pretty girl." So begins a magazine article—and now the writer has me.

He has an entertaining idea. And I am an experimental sort of cuss. I remember — but why stumble down memory lane?

"Run your fingers over the cheek of a pretty girl . . ." What an opening.

Writers should be careful what they write, what emotions they stir up.

Run your fingers over one girl's cheek, you are aces wired back-to-back.

Run your fingers over another, and better you had put them in a buzz saw.

In Mexico City the other day, a cement plant worker named Guillermo ran his fingers over the cheek of Rosita, waitress at the lunch counter.

Rosita reached under the counter and came up with a b smoking .45

She put two large ventilation points in Guillermo. And a painful nick in a truck driver who was peacefully eating tortillas at the end of the counter.

"It makes me nervous when someone touches me," Rosita told the policia.

Let's see. Why does this writer advise running a finger over a girl's cheek? (You should wash your hands first, of course.)

"Your brain telegraphs to your consciousness—(we know little or nothing about the mechanics of this)—that her skin is extraordinarily smooth!"

The truth is that our sense of touch is so grossly coarse that we cannot even sense or touch the skin proper. If you magnified the skin only a modest 10,000 times, you would find a thick layer of huge coarse rocks—the girl's powder and makeup.

"Underneath this is another thick blanket of oil and perpiration." (OK, Claude. You take Rocky. I'll take her sister.)

Well, what this bloke is getting at is our sense of touch. That's the scientific story.

But he pulls you in with the violins.

You start off running your fingers over an imaginary cheek. Wind up with a handful of oily rocks. The Creature from the Black Lagoon.

That's a terrible way to talk about any girl. What has happened to chivalry?

In Chicago recently, Mrs. Sophia Koehler saw her husband dancing cheek-to-cheek with the night club hatcheck chick.

She went after him with a beer bottle. And it took 79 stitches to put Humpty Dumpty together again.

"See, how she leans her
cheek upon her hand!
Oh, that I were a glove
upon that hand,
That I might touch that
cheek!"

Romeo said that. He came out losers.

I never finished the article—as soon as Cinderella turned to rocks and oil, I quit prospecting.

Articles should be labeled. Like under a Pure Food and Drug Act. Not syruped up with candlelight and wine in the first paragraph and, after that, you find you spent your 25 cents to find out you're losing your touch.

And actually, if ladies' cheeks are like that — all rocks and oil and perspiration blankets—it's a blooming good thing we have such a poor sense of touch.

So there is no sense in such an article at all. It just blows up another illusion, and life is rocky enough as is.

POSTCARD by

"Run your fingers over the cheek of a pretty girl." So begins a magazine article—and now the writer has me.

He has an entertaining idea. And I am an experimental sort of cuss. I remember — but why stumble down memory lane?

"Run your fingers over the cheek of a pretty girl . . ." What an opening.

Writers should be careful what they write, what emotions they stir up.

Run your fingers over one girl's cheek, you are aces wired back-to-back.

Run your fingers over another, and better you had put them in a buzz saw.

In Mexico City the other day, a cement plant worker named Guillermo ran his fingers over the cheek of Rosita, waitress at the lunch counter.

Rosita reached under the counter and came up with a big, smoking .45.

She put two large ventilation points in Guillermo. And a painful nick in a truck driver who was peacefully eating tortillas at the end of the counter.

"It makes me nervous when someone touches me," Rosita told the policia.

Let's see. Why does this writer advise running a finger over a girl's cheek? (You should wash your hands first, of course.)

"Your brain telegraphs to your consciousness—(we know little or nothing about the mechanics of this)—that her skin is extraordinarily smooth!"

"The truth is that our sense of touch is so grossly coarse that we cannot even sense or touch the skin proper. If you magnified the skin only a modest 10,000 times, you would find a thick layer of huge coarse rocks—the girl's powder and makeup.

"Underneath this is another thick blanket of oil and perpiration." (OK, Claude. You take Rocky. I'll take her sister.)

Well, what this bloke is getting at is our sense of touch. That's the scientific story.

But he pulls you in with the violins.

You start off running your fingers over an imaginary cheek. Wind up with a handful of oily rocks. The Creature from the Black Lagoon.

That's a terrible way to talk about any girl. What has happened to chivalry?

In Chicago recently, Mrs. Sophia Koehler saw her husband dancing cheek-to-cheek with the night club hatcheck chick.

She went after him with a beer bottle. And it took 79 stitches to put Humpty Dumpty together again.

"See, how she leans her
cheek upon her hand!
Oh, that I were a glove
upon that hand,
That I might touch that
cheek!"

Romeo said that. He came out losers.

I never finished the article —as soon as Cinderella turned to rocks and oil, I quit prospecting.

Articles should be labeled. Like under a Pure Food and Drug Act. Not syruped up with candlelight and wine in the first paragraph and, after that, you find you spent your 25 cents to find out you're losing your touch.

And actually, if ladies' cheeks are like that — all rocks and oil and perspiration blankets—it's a blooming good thing we have such a poor sense of touch.

So there is no sense in such an article at all. It just blows up another illusion, and life is rocky enough as is.

Unicam Nixes Proposal To Meet Annually Instead Of Every 2 Years

Nebraska's Legislature which currently is shattering all longevity records, turned thumbs down Monay on a proposal that sessions be held annually rather than every two years.

The proposal "only makes a bad situation worse," said Omaha Sen. George Syas, author of the kill motion.

A 25-12 vote buried the bill at issue, LB904, submitting to voters next year a constitutional amendment under which regular sessions would be held as now on odd numbered years and budgeting sessions running no longer than 45 calendar days would be held on even numbered years.

20 States Do It

Norfolk Sen. S. H. Brauer Sr., who led the fight for LB-904 and who had managed earlier to get the bill revived after it had been killed 5-2 by the Urban Affairs Committee, noted that 20 states now have annual legislative sessions and nine of these devote every other session to fiscal matters only.

But Sen. Syas said he fails to see how the proposal could cut time in session, or how the budgeting process could be crammed into 45 calendar days.

"I think the people are tired of having us down here this long," Syas said of the current legislative session. "I think they've had it. I think we've had it."

Omaha Sen. Clifton Batchelder said he had looked with favor on the bill at one time but has since concluded that "if there is anything wrong with this Legislature, it lies in the members, and not with the system."

Several senators said an interim study should precede any move in the direction of annual sessions. Such a study was made in 1952.

Initial OK Given Extension Of Time To Set Tax Levy

The Legislature Monday gave 32-0 first round floor approval to a bill giving the State Board of Equalization more time to set the state property tax mill levy should the Legislature continue into August.

The board now is required to set the tax levy by Aug. 2, but LB920, sponsored by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter, would move that deadline back to Sept. 2.

Thus the board would not be put in the position of having to set a state tax levy before the Legislature had disposed of all bills calling for an outlay of state tax funds.

LB906 also gives county boards 14 days after the State Board of Equalization's levy-setting action to set the county tax levies. The county boards now are allowed a 20-day period.

Other bills given first round approval, with votes:

LB908 — Placing on the 1966 ballot a proposed constitutional amendment exempting from taxation life insurance and life insurance annuity contracts. (29-1).

LB[illegible] — Making mandatory certain motor vehicle fuel tax reports to the state agriculture department. (34-0).

LB[illegible] — permitting the joining of a class 3 school district with outside districts in a federation from which a district could later withdraw. (30-4).

Judge Refuses To Vacate Sentence

. . . FIRST RULING ON POST-CONVICTION LAW

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele Monday denied and dismissed a motion filed by Virgil D. Riley to vacate his sentence on the grounds his constitutional rights were violated.

Judge Scheele's ruling was the first handed down in six cases pending in Lancaster District Court as a result of LB836, the post-conviction law.

The law provides that an individual convicted of a felony who contends his constitutional rights were violated in their prosecutions may seek relief in the court which imposed the sentence.

Riley, who is serving concurrent two-year terms on each of two counts of insufficient-fund checks in Lancaster County, contended his constitutional rights were not explained to him.

Judge Scheele ruled that the petitioner was entitled to no relief for the reason that there was not denial of the rights of Riley as to render the judgment void or voidable under the constitution of the state or the Constitution of the United States.

The order further stated that the record shows that Chief Deputy County Atty. William Blue read the complaint to the defendant and that his constitutional rights were explained to him and that Riley expressly waived his right to a preliminary hearing.

Judge Scheele's order further noted that Riley had filed an application for court-appointed counsel on Nov. 24, and that counsel was appointed for him on Nov. 25 and represented him throughout the trial.

W. Lincoln Annexation Bill Okayed

The Legislature Monday gave final 39-4 approval to a bill which gives Lincoln authority to annex West Lincoln without a vote.

The measure, LB586, was sponsored by Sens. Marvin E. Stromer and John Knight, both of Lincoln.

Language of the proposal permits administrative annexation of any village whose water service is provided by a neighboring city of the primary class. Only West Lincoln fits the provisions of the bill.

Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, whose legislative district includes West Lincoln, voted against enactment of the bill.

MANY EYE FUNDS FOR EDUCATION

State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan said Monday that 140 applications and some 300 inquiries had been received on the Nebraska Rural Rehabilitation Scholarship Program.

He estimated that 100 scholarships will be awarded from the $80,000 availablethis year.

Nebraska farm or ranch youths who need financial assistance to continue their education are eligible for the scholarships up to a maximum of $800 per year for three years or $600 per year for four years.

Following a meeting of the nine-member scholarship advisory committee, Finigan noted the scholarships are not limited to high school graduates.

"Any farm or ranch youth desirous of attaining a college or a vocation-technical education is eligible," he said.

The scholarships must be used in a publicly owned college or university in Nebraska or the Milford Trade School.

Applications must be made to the county Farmers Home Administration committees prior to Aug. 1.

The local committee will make recommendations to the scholarship advisory committee by Aug. 15.

Finigan said the advisory committee would announce scholarship award soon after its scheduled Aug. 26 meeting.

Legislative Unit To Eye Study Proposals Soon

Sen. William Hasebroock of West Point said Monday that the Legislative Council's executive board will probably meet this week to begin its task of sifting interim study proposals for recommendation to the Legislature.

Hasebroock is chairman of the Legislative Council, which will undertake legislative studies during the interim between the 1965 and 1967 sessions.

Eighteen studies have thus far been recommended by individual senators.

One study—a comprehensive survey of state highways and streets—has already been undertaken upon direction of the Legislature.

Among the remaining 17 proposals are studies of public power, annexation, organization and responsibilities of all state agencies, problems of educating the mentally retarded, aid to dependent children, intangible taxation, water problems, and revenue and allied effects of earmarking funds.

Legislative committees and staff undertook 19 separate studies during the interim prior to the 1965 session.

Members of the executive board are Hasebroock, Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln, Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine, and Sen. Eugene Mahoney of Omaha.

A number of additional studies will probably be recommended to the board by individual senators in the remaining weeks of the 1965 session.

The Public Works Committee has already announced its intention to add a study of junk yards, dump yards and auto salvage yards to the list of proposals.

The 17 pending recommendations and their sponsors:

—consolidation of various county government offices; Resolution 7; Sen. Henry Pedersen of Omaha.

BRIDES at summer weddings

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Weaver of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Weaver of Nashville, Tenn., to Richard E. Kowalchuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene G. Kowalchuk of Tacoma, Wash., took place on Saturday morning, July 3, at St. John's Church. Msgr. M. W. Helmann solemnized the 11:30 o'clock service.

Wearing alike long-skirted sheaths of silk linen in the azure blue tone were the attendants, including Mrs. Richard D. Alfred of Macon, Ga., the matron of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Janet Diane Kowalchuk of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Jerry Knudson. Each carried a bouquet of blue-tinted daisies.

Larry Worley of Payallup, Wash., served Mr. Kowalchuk as best man, and the ushers were James P. McNamara of Joliet, Ill., and James Kowalchuk of Tacoma.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of silk satin. The empire bodice, designed with long sleeves and a rounded neckline, was patterned with trapunto embroidery which was repeated on the floor-length skirt. A detachable train, caught at the waist with pearl-dotted satin petals, gave back interest to the gown. Her veil of illusion was three-quarter length and was held to the head with a satin pillbox hat ornamented with a floral motif of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and strands of ivy.

After a brief honeymoon trip Mr. Kowalchuk and his bride returned to Lincoln where they are residing at 3630 B St.

At an 11 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, June 26, the wedding of Miss Joan Ellen Rapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Rapp of Hasbrouck Heights, N.J., and V. Ronald Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern D. Carey of Lincoln, took place at the West-Side Presbyterian Church in Ridgewood, N.J. The 11 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Melvin Campbell.

Aqua-toned silk taffeta was chosen for the floor-length costumes of attendants Mrs. Ray Heinz, who was her sister's matron of honor, and Mrs. James Cobb. Their bouquets were fashioned of yellow tea roses.

Douglas Keill of Prospect Park, N.J., served Mr. Carey as best man, and seating the guests were Charles Rogers of Sandusky, Ill., and James Stumpo of Midland Park, N.J.

The bride appeared in a gown of silk peau de soie. The smoothly sculptured, long-sleeved bodice had a portrait neckline and was patterned with an embroidered motif of pearls and sequins on Alencon lace. The embroidery was repeated on the long silhouette skirt accented by an overdrape which swept to the back to form a chapel train. A crown of pearls held in place her tiered, elbow-length veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and rosebuds encircled with ivy.

Following their honeymoon trip Mr. Carey and his bride went to Sandusky, Ohio, where they are residing at 617 Causeway Dr.

Mr. Carey is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and now is associated with General Motors in Sandusky.

TALK of the town

The town is following its usual pattern for this particular season—And by 'season' we mean that period during which July is on the wane. The month has passed the half-way mark and from now until about this time next month, things are apt to be quiet. There are those who have gone, or soon are going, to their summer homes—and there are those who are about to hie themselves off to the mountains—And there are those who are just relaxing at home—and liking it.

But a month from now the trek homeward will begin and then we can talk about who has been where.

Maybe we can't mention the travelers, but we can tell you that Miss Cynthia Towne, whose marriage to Samuel Beler will take place on Saturday, Aug. 21.

This morning Miss Towne announces the members of the Bridal entourage for the wedding which will take place at First-Plymouth Congregational Church.

As her matron of honor the bride has chosen Mrs. Roger Reiling (Linda Hallam), and her bridesmaid foursome will include Mrs. Dwain Carlson, Miss Pam Haynie, Mrs. Paul Ude and Miss Sharon Hoppe.

Paul Ude will serve Mr. Beler as best man, and seating the guests will be Larry Hawke of Nebraska City; Robert Waddell of Prospect Heights, Ill.; Michael Burke and Paul Richardson.

Lighting the candles preceding the processional will be Mrs. Tom Ernst and Miss Pam Bartling.

Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Delta circles—vintage of '65, will be interested in news of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jones (Noni Spink).

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are residing in Patterson, N.J., where their address is 311 Redwood Ave., Apt. D-4.

EARLY fall wedding planned

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Nelson of Albert Lea, Minn., make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Marie, to Marvin E. Yost, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Fisher of Lincoln.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Sept. 4, and the ceremony will be solemnized in Albert Lea.

Miss Nelson was graduated from the Mankato Commercial College.

Mr. Fisher received his degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Nebraska in June, and now is working towards his Master's degree at Nebraska University.

Bridal Shower

Complimenting Miss Karen Louise Ross, whose marriage to Myron L. Gagner will be solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 28, Miss Jeannine Reuland will be a hostes when she entertains next Monday evening at her home.

Fifteen guests have been invited for dessert and the bride-elect will be presented with a kitchen shower.

On Thursday, Aug. 24, Miss Ross will again be an honoree when Mrs. David Anderson and Mrs. Richard Tomandl are hostesses at the home of Mrs. Tomandl.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm not the type who writes to a newspaper columnist for advice, but I have no one else to turn to.

We have a 21-year-old daughter of whom I've always been so very proud, until now. My bubble has burst. I went to work in an office to send her to college. She was an honor student and married the week after she graduated from college. She had planned to teach school in the fall. Now she's told us she is pregnant and can't teach. Her doctor told her the baby is due exactly nine months and ten days after her wedding date! I can hardly stand to look at her, Abby. I know everyonewill laugh and count the time. If that baby comes early, I will die of shame. I haven't been able to eat or sleep properly since I've known about it. Perhaps if you publish a part of this it will make other girls stop and think before putting their families in this embarrassing situation.

SAD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: So what if the baby DOES come early? Your daughter is married and your melodramatic moaning about "shame" is unwarranted, unnecessary and brutally selfish. Retire to the wings, Mom. Your daughter has the stage.

DEAR ABBY: Who is worse, a married woman who runs around with a single man? Or a single woman who runs around with a married man? I am single woman who is keeping company with a married man. I have no family ties or obligations. This man's marriage has been dead for many years and everybody in town knows it. A friend of mine is married and is running around with a single man. She lies to her husband and pretends to be happily married. She is raising children and the whole bit. Now, WHO do you think is worse?

SINGLE LADY

DEAR SINGLE: It's a dead heat. It's always surprising when one goat complains that another goat smells.

at summer weddings

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Weaver of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Weaver of Nashville, Tenn., to Richard E. Kowalchuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene G. Kowalchuk of Tacoma, Wash., took place on Saturday morning, July 3, at St. John's Church. Msgr. M. W. Helmann solemnized the 11:30 o'clock service.

Wearing alike long-skirted sheaths of silk linen in the azure blue tone were the attendants, including Mrs. Richard D. Alfred of Macon, Ga., the matron of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Janet Diane Kowalchuk of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Jerry Knudson. Each carried a bouquet of blue-tinted daisies.

Larry Worley of Payallup, Wash., served Mr. Kowalchuk as best man, and the ushers were James P. McNamara of Joliet, Ill., and James Kowalchuk of Tacoma.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of silk satin. The empire bodice, designed with long sleeves and a rounded neckline, was patterned with trapunto embroidery which was repeated on the floor-length skirt. A detachable train, caught at the waist with pearl-dotted satin petals, gave back interest to the gown. Her veil of illusion was three-quarter length and was held to the head with a satin pillbox hat ornamented with a floral motif of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and strands of ivy.

After a brief honeymoon trip Mr. Kowalchuk and his bride returned to Lincoln where they are residing at 3630 B St.

At an 11 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, June 26, the wedding of Miss Joan Ellen Rapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Rapp of Hasbrouck Heights, N.J., and V. Ronald Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern D. Carey of Lincoln, took place at the West-Side Presbyterian Church in Ridgewood, N.J. The 11 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Melvin Campbell.

Aqua-toned silk taffeta was chosen for the floor-length costumes of attendants Mrs. Ray Heinz, who was her sister's matron of honor, and Mrs. James Cobb. Their bouquets were fashioned of yellow tea roses.

Douglas Keill of Prospect Park, N.J., served Mr. Carey as best man, and seating the guests were Charles Rogers of Sandusky, Ill., and James Stumpo of Midland Park, N.J.

The bride appeared in a gown of silk peau de soie. The smoothly sculptured, long-sleeved bodice had a portrait neckline and was patterned with an embroidered motif of pearls and sequins on Alencon lace. The embroidery was repeated on the long silhouette skirt accented by an overdrape which swept to the back to form a chapel train. A crown of pearls held in place her tiered, elbow-length veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and rosebuds encircled with ivy.

Following their honeymoon trip Mr. Carey and his bride went to Sandusky, Ohio, where they are residing at 617 Causeway Dr.

Mr. Carey is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and now is associated with General Motors in Sandusky.

TALK
of the town

The town is following its usual pattern for this particular season—And by 'season' we mean that period during which July is on the wane. The month has passed the half-way mark and from now until about this time next month, things are apt to be quiet. There are those who have gone, or soon are going, to their summer homes—and there are those who are about to hie themselves off to the mountains—And there are those who are just relaxing at home—and liking it.

But a month from now the trek homeward will begin and then we can talk about who has been where.

Maybe we can't mention the travelers, but we can tell you that Miss Cynthia Towne, whose marriage to Samuel Beler will take place on Saturday, Aug. 21.

This morning Miss Towne announces the members of the Bridal entourage for the wedding which will take place at First-Plymouth Congregational Church.

As her matron of honor the bride has chosen Mrs. Roger Reiling (Linda Hallam), and her bridesmaid foursome will include Mrs. Dwain Carlson, Miss Pam Haynie, Mrs. Paul Ude and Miss Sharon Hoppe.

Paul Ude will serve Mr. Beler as best man, and seating the guests will be Larry Hawke of Nebraska City; Robert Waddell of Prospect Heights, Ill.; Michael Burke and Paul Richardson.

Lighting the candles preceding the processional will be Mrs. Tom Ernst and Miss Pam Bartling.

Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Delta circles—vintage of '65, will be interested in news of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Jones (Noni Spink).

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are residing in Patterson, N.J., where their address is 311 Redwood Ave., Apt. D-4.

EARLY fall wedding planned

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Nelson of Albert Lea, Minn., make announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Marie, to Marvin E. Yost, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Fisher of Lincoln.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, Sept. 4, and the ceremony will be solemnized in Albert Lea.

Miss Nelson was graduated from the Mankato Commercial College.

Mr. Fisher received his degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Nebraska in June, and now is working towards his Master's degree at Nebraska University.

Bridal Shower

Complimenting Miss Karen Louise Ross, whose marriage to Myron L. Gagner will be solemnized on Saturday, Aug. 28, Miss Jeannine Reuland will be a hostes when she entertains next Monday evening at her home.

Fifteen guests have been invited for dessert and the bride-elect will be presented with a kitchen shower.

On Thursday, Aug. 24, Miss Ross will again be an honoree when Mrs. David Anderson and Mrs. Richard Tomandl are hostesses at the home of Mrs. Tomandl.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm not the type who writes to a newspaper columnist for advice, but I have no one else to turn to.

We have a 21-year-old daughter of whom I've always been so very proud, until now. My bubble has burst. I went to work in an office to send her to college. She was an honor student and married the week after she graduated from college. She had planned to teach school in the fall. Now she's told us she is pregnant and can't teach. Her doctor told her the baby is due exactly nine months and ten days after her wedding date! I can hardly stand to look at her, Abby. I know everyonewill laugh and count the time. If that baby comes early, I will die of shame. I haven't been able to eat or sleep properly since I've known about it. Perhaps if you publish a part of this it will make other girls stop and think before putting their families in this embarrassing situation.

SAD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: So what if the baby DOES come early? Your daughter is married and your melodramatic moaning about "shame" is unwarranted, unnecessary and brutally selfish. Retire to the wings, Mom. Your daughter has the stage.

DEAR ABBY: Who is worse, a married woman who runs around with a single man? Or a single woman who runs around with a married man? I am single woman who is keeping company with a married man. I have no family ties or obligations. This man's marriage has been dead for many years and everybody in town knows it. A friend of mine is married and is running around with a single man. She lies to her husband and pretends to be happily married. She is raising children and the whole bit. Now, WHO do you think is worse?

SINGLE LADY

DEAR SINGLE: It's a dead heat. It's always surprising when one goat complains that another goat smells.

NEWS of the suburban areas

Having fun at the barbecue party, given in farwell courtesy to Mrs. Monica Taylor, are a group of Fiene Heights residents—those residing in the 4000 block on South Twenty-seventh street.

A look at this morning's social news tells us that little round wheels and big, wide wings can take us for a spin to the neighbors—or to some vacation spot in the midwest or even to a foreign location—namely Lima, Peru.

For news of what a suburban resident is doing in Lima, Peru, we will have to head Fiene Heights way, where a couple of members of the younger set are making news.

FIENE HEIGHTS

A 17-year-old named George Witt is planning a July 24th return home trip after spending a month in Lima, Peru.

It all began at a five-state conference for YMCA members which was held in Estes Park, Colo., in the late Spring. It was there that eight Lincoln boys and two men were singled out for the Peru venture. In Peru, the 10 individuals were assigned to set up a YMCA program, but before they could perform those duties the 10 attended workshops in Topeka, Kan., and Mexico City, Mex. Buses carried the gentlemen from Lincoln to Kansas and to Mexico City, but from Mexico the boys headed for Peru via jet.

And another son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Witt who is worthy of mention this morning. Fred Jr. may not be traveling as far from home but this week at camp, located near Humboldt, will be equally as much fun for him as his elder brother's adventures, we suspect. Fred is enjoying his camping with other members of his Scout Troop 63.

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. John Hummel and son Steve, returned Saturday after spending a week in Colorado. The vacation trip through Colorado centered mostly around the Estes Park area.

Another Fiene Heights family has a vacation to mention this morning and they are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wittrock and their three sons Michael, Richard and Lee. The fivesome also spent a week in Colrado, particularly around the Denver area and in Colorado Springs. Former Lincoln residents visited by the vacationing fivesome were Capt. and Mrs. James Keating.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Elgin now claims two new citizens who were former residents in the Prairie Valley area. We are speaking of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Swiger, who left their home at 4620 Eden Circle for their new address in Elgin.

Courtesy For Bride-Elect

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Joan Rockwell, whose marriage to Lawrence H. Brannigan is planned for Sunday, Aug. 29, Mrs. Herbert Glover was a recent hostess at her home.

Twelve guests were invited for a dessert supper, and a miscellaneous shower.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1♥	1♠
Pass	3♠	Pass	4♠

Opening lead — six of hearts.

A declarer has to feel his way in many hands; he cannot be expected to know from the start exactly how the missing 26 cards are divided He will generally make a few obvious assumptions, based on either the bidding or the play to date, and act upon them in a normal manner, even though he cannot be 100% sure of his ground.

This process will usually lead him to the best possible result, despite the feeling of groping in the dark that he may experience throughout the play of the hand. Hard thinking is often well rewarded in the end.

Observe South's play in this hand, where West led a heart against four spades. Declarer won it with the ace and took a spade finesse which lost to the king. West returned the nine of diamonds.

It was only trick three, but South already knew as much as he needed to know about the opponents' hands. It was certainly reasonable to assume that West had led a singleton heart, since he would surely have played another heart at this point if he had had one.

It was likewise reasonable to assume that West did not have the queen of diamonds, since he would scarcely have led a diamond if he had had that card.

Declarer therefore went on with the ace (if he had finessed the jack he would have gone down). He then finessed the queen of clubs, cashed the ace, and ruffed a club.

He next played three rounds of trumps, discarding a heart from dummy and at the same time forcing East to reduce his hand to the K-Q of hearts and Q-10 of diamonds.

South now excited with a heart, East was able to cash two heart tricks but then had to lead a diamond away from the Q-10 to dummy's J-6, and as a result of the endplay South made four spades.

GUESTS
from the east coast

A popular guest threesome in town at the moment includes Mrs. John Darcy James and her two children —Liz, who is two years old, and Matthew—who is four.

Mrs. James and her children came from Forest Hills, Long Island, N.Y., for a visit with Mrs. James' mother Mrs. Raymond Jones.

Mrs. James, the former Nancy Beldin, Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska, has been kept busy with courtesies since her arrival, and one of the parties was a coffee for which one of her Tri-Delta sisters, Mrs. James F. Eno was a hostess at her home last Thursday morning.

Reunion

There is a family reunion in progress at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Meyers and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Livengood this week.

Arriving on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Meyers' sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Severin of Monrovia, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nash and their children, Kim and Teri, of North Madison, Ohio.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Meyers were host and hostess at a family dinner at their home, complimenting the visitors. Also present were the third son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Livengood.

Mr. and Mrs. Severin, and Mr. and Mrs. Nash and their children plan to spend the current week in Lincoln.

Another Monkey On Huskers

Another monkey has been placed on Nebraska coach Bob Devaney's back by the NCAA Football Guide which has fallen in line with the "Nebraska Tops In Big Eight" brigade.

"In the Big Eight, Nebraska will attempt to bring off a football 'hat trick'," Jack Murphy, president of the Football Writers Association of America, writes in the national preview.

"Naturally, coach Bob Devaney thinks his Huskers can win their third straight championship, but the Big Eight is a rugged, balanced league," the San Diego Union sports editor continues. "Missouri is dynamite, and the title may well be decided at Columbia on Oct. 30 when Nebraska comes to town."

Huskers On Hot Seat

Jim Van Valkenburg of the Kansas City, Mo., Associated Press bureau, says, "Nebraska is on the hot seat, being favored to win its third straight Big Eight football championship under coach Bob Devaney, the man who returned the Huskers to the heights for the first time since 1940."

However, Van Valkenburg cautions NU fans against becoming too excited about bowl shopping. "The Huskers are anything but a cinch, though, in the well-balanced Big Eight," he pointed out. "Missouri is the most talented challenger, and the title-deciding game may be Nebraska at Missouri Oct. 30. Oklahoma looks best in a scramble for third.

"The logic in picking Nebraska seems sound. Devaney won the title in a rebuilding year and returns 24 of the first 33. The dust had barely settled from Nebraska's 10-7 loss to unbeaten Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl before Husker fans were chanting, 'We'll eat 'em alive in '65.'

"Devaney isn't so sure, however. For one thing, there is Oklahoma's 17-7 victory over Nebraska in the season's last game. For another, Missouri was probably the equal of any league team at the finish, pressing Nebraska to the limit before losing, 9-0 and whipping Kansas, 34-14."

Kiss Of Death

The AP scribe also tempers Husker enthusiasm by pointing out that past Big Eight tradition has a way of knocking off favorites.

"Devaney is shunning the role of favorite, and it's no wonder," he notes. "It has been the kiss of death ever since the conference ended Oklahoma's 13-year domination.

"Oklahoma was the favorite in the last two Nebraska title years, Missouri in 1962 but Oklahoma's sophomores won it, Kansas in 1961 but it turned out to be a Colorado sweep, Oklahoma in 1960 but Kansas won it, then forfeited the title to Missouri."

Big 8 Tops In Track

Big Eight football has advanced so far in the past few years that it compares with any of the nation's other conferences. But the head knockers have nothing on their "rather run than fight" brethren in the track and field area.

The Big Eight has athletes among the top 10 nationally in 20 of the 28 events in which college runners and field event men compete, according to the latest NCAA charts.

Nebraska puts the Big Eight on the charts in six events. NU sprinter Charlie Greene is tied for fifth in the 100-yard dash with a :09.4 clocking and is tied for seventh in the 220 with :20.8.

The Huskers also are listed third in the 440-yard relay, ninth in the 880-yard relay, sixth in the sprint medley relay, and 10th in the mile relay.

—TO ARRIVE WEDNESDAY—

Warren Spahn Is New Giant Pitcher

San Francisco (AP)—Warren Spahn, the 44-year-old former pitching star who was cut loose by the last place New York Mets, will join the pennant-contending San Francisco Giants Wednesday.

The Giants announced Monday they had reached an agreement with the veteran who has won more games than any other left-hander in baseball history. The high-salaried hurler was released last Wednesday by the youth-minded Mets.

Although Spahnie had lost eight straight for the last place Mets, both he and the Giants feel he'll help the third-place club in its drive for the National League pennant.

Terms of the contract weren't announced, but it was believed the veteran won't suffer much of a cut from the $73,500 he signs for with the Mets.

Baseball contracts are based on a 5½ month season and the Mets in releasing him were required to pay one month's salary. The Giants are expected to give him about $18,000 for the rest of the campaign.

Manager Herman Franks said he feels the left-hander can help and he has been searching for a portside thrower. The Giants have only two, Bill Henry and Masanori Murakami, neither of them starters.

"I may start him," Franks said. "I just don't know yet how he'll be used. We'll talk as soon as he gets here."

In New York, Spahn said he planned to arrive in San Francisco on Wednesday. When he gets here, the Giants must cut one player to stay within the 25-player limit.

Spahn said "I'm in excellent physical shape and my arm feels good. I feel I can help the Giants win the pennant. I am confident I can still pitch nine innings but I'm ready to do anything Franks wants me to."

The San Francisco offer was one of three received by the pitcher. The Mets asked waivers on him last Wednesday. When there were no takers for the regular $20,000 waiver price, the club put the veteran up for a nominal $1 waiver fee for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release to make his own deal.

Giants' vice president Charles Chub Feeney said the club checked with several baseball men who had seen Spahn pitch recently and "we felt he can help us."

Spahn has been in the majors since 1942 when he broke in with the Boston Braves. His lifetime major league record—most for a lefthander—is 360 victories and 241 defeats. He won 20 or more games in 13 seasons, a major league record for left-handers; pitched no-hitters against the Phillies and Giants, and in 1957 won the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the major leagues.

He has pitched in eight World Series games, winning four and losing three.

After joining the Braves, he didn't get a decision before being called into military service. He returned in 1946 with an 8-5 record and had his first 20-game year in 1947 with 21-10.

He recorded his best seasons from 1953 through 1973 including nine 20-victory years. Last year the Braves sold him to New York.

With the Mets this season he was 4-12 with a 4.43 earned run-average, and Manager Casey Stengel said he was released to give more chance to younger hurlers in the New York building program.

TWINS TRIM ANGELS, 5-2

Mele Sits In Stands

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Suspended Minnesota Manager Sam Mele watched from the pressbox Monday night as his first-place Twins trimmed the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 behind the four-hit pitching of unbeaten Jim Perry.

Mele, suspended for five days and fined $500 by American League President Joe Cronin earlier Monday for Mele's part in an altercation with Umpire Bill Valentine Sunday, saw Coach Hal Naragon guide the Twins to victory.

Perry survived solo homers by Joe Adcock and Jim Fregosi in the early innings and won his seventh straight this season. It was his second complete game in four starts since coming out of the bullpen July 5.

The Twins beat Dean Chance, 6-6, on Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer in the first inning and Jimmie Hall's two-run single in the seventh.

Minnesota broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth when Bob Allison walked, raced to third on Rich Rollins' single and scored as Jerry Zimmerman hit into a double play.

Cubs Down Giants, 6-2

San Francisco (AP)—Chicago lefty Dick Ellsworth didn't allow a hit until the sixth inning Monday, then weakened and had to have help to escape with a 6-2 victory over San Francisco.

The victory, Ellsworth's 11th of the season, broke a five-game Cub losing string.

Ellsworth, who faced only 15-Giants through five innings and struck out nine of those, including five in a row at one stretch, gave way to Ted Abernathy when the Giants first two batters in the ninth reached base.

Abernathy, making his 49th appearance, had a four-run lead at that time and had little trouble in making it stand up.

The Cubs got off to a 1-0 lead on Billy Williams' 14th homer in the fifth, and broke it open with a five-run burst in the seventh. Ellsworth tripled in two of those and two more crossed on Ed Bailey's bases-loaded single.

Ellsworth struck out 11, allowed six hits and was lifted in the ninth after allowing his first base on balls.

Tom Haller ruined Ellsworth's no-hit bit with a single in the sixth, and the Giants followed up with both their runs in the seventh, Cap Peterson doubling in one and Hal Lanier singling in another

—TO TALK WITH CRONIN—

Mele Thinks Penalty Unfair

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Sam Mele, manager of American League leading Minnesota, said Monday he considers a five-day suspension imposed by league President Joe Cronin unfair, and plans to discuss the matter with Cronin.

Coach Hal Naragon will be in charge of the Twins during Mele's absence.

Mele, slapped with a $500 fine in addition to the suspension for his run-in with umpire Bill Valentine in Sunday's Twins-Los Angeles doubleheader here, said:

"I expected the fine, but not the suspension — at least not for that long. I think the length of the suspension is unfair.

"Sure, I was surprised. I didn't think I deserved that much in view of two facts: the way my ball player was treated and because we're in a pennant race.

"The umpires have to have respect, but they've got to respect my ball players, too."

Mele drew the fine and suspension after a jostling fracas with Valentine in the sixth inning of Sunday's first game, won 5-3 by the Angels. He appeared to take a swing at Valentine during the altercation, which wound up with pulling the pair apart.

Cronin received Valentine's report Sunday night and issued his decision through the Boston office shortly before leaving here Monday for Dearborn, Mich.

Cronin was not available for comment.

"I just want to talk to him about the entire matter," Mele said.

Mele said his only regret is that he won't be able to sit on the bench with his team, leading the American League by 3½ games, for six games this week.

"But I'm certain they all sure as heck know that I'm all for them," Mele said. "If they had any doubts, they shouldn't have them now."

Mele still was irked that Valentine would not let Twins second baseman Rich Rollins dispute a call at first base which triggered the melee.

"It really burned me up when he wouldn't let my ball player protest," Mele said. "And neither he nor no other guy is going to stick his finger in front of my face like Valentine did. There was a lot of pushing going on . . . I've got abruiseon my arm to prove it.

"I did use some profound words . . . not too many, though, because he didn't give me a chance. He threw me out in a hurry.

"One thing I want to make clear. I never go out to argue unless I've got a legtimate beef. I respect the umpires, and I want them to respect me."

It was the first time Mele has been fined in his four years as Minnesota manager, much less suspended. He has been thrown out of games but said he had never been fined for it.

In naming Narabon until he returns to action Saturday night at Baltimore, Mele said:

"Hal has the respect of the players and he thinks a lot like I do. I chose him because the last few games of 1964, when I sat in the press box with Calvin Griffith, he ran the ball club and did a good job."

Rain Holds Up Golf Qualifying

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Heavy rains Sunday night and Monday morning washed out Monday's qualifying round for the Nebraska Men's State Golf Tournament at the Lincoln Country Club and local weather forecasetrs offered dim prospects for today.

Weather observers predicted rain to fall until early this morning with a 40% chance of more rain during the day today.

Revised Pairings, Page 14

Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson allowed Marc Gorges, Bart Dennis and Tim Bateman, all of Lincoln, and Charles Weir of Fremont to tee off Monday afternoon to avoid a conflict with the United States Golf Association junior qualifying round slated for today at Omaha's Highland Country Club.

Bateman led the Monday quartet with a five-over-par 77, followed by Dennis at 81, and Gorges and Weir, both with 84s.

Lincoln golfers were to have qualified Monday with out-state entries slated to shoot their qualifying rounds today at LCC. However, the heavy rains forced tournament officials to combine all the entires for qualifying today.

The 163 remaining entries will begin teeing off at 8:06 this morning.

They, along with the four who played Monday, will be bidding for the remaining 74 spots in the tournament proper which is set to start Wednesday.

The 75th spot belongs to defending champion Bob Astleford who is seeking his fourth straight title and trying to become only the second golfer ever to win six crowns.

Astleford will be playing today, but he is exempt from qualifying.

The qualifiers will play 18 holes both Wednesday and Thursday with the field being divided into four flights after Thursday's round. The championship flight will then play 36 holes Friday with the other three flights playing 18 holes. The championship flight will consist of 24 players and ties.

Should today's round also be rained out, tourney officails likely would use Wednesday for qualifying with the qualifying scores counting in the total.

Officials waited until nearly noon Monday before calling off the qualifying round. While waiting for the rain to stop most golfers lounged around the pro shop while others played cards in the locker room.

Monday's Scores

Tim Bateman	38-39—77
Bart Dennis	39-42—81
Marc Gorges	44-40—84
Charles Weir	40-44—84

Another Monkey On Huskers

Another monkey has been placed on Nebraska coach Bob Devaney's back by the NCAA Football Guide which has fallen in line with the "Nebraska Tops In Big Eight" brigade.

"In the Big Eight, Nebraska will attempt to bring off a football 'hat trick'," Jack Murphy, president of the Football Writers Association of America, writes in the national preview.

"Naturally, coach Bob Devaney thinks his Huskers can win their third straight championship, but the Big Eight is a rugged, balanced league," the San Diego Union sports editor continues. "Missouri is dynamite, and the title may well be decided at Columbia on Oct. 30 when Nebraska comes to town."

Huskers On Hot Seat

Jim Van Valkenburg of the Kansas City, Mo., Associated Press bureau, says, "Nebraska is on the hot seat, being favored to win its third straight Big Eight football championship under coach Bob Devaney, the man who returned the Huskers to the heights for the first time since 1940." '

However, Van Valkenburg cautions NU fans against becoming too excited about bowl shopping. "The Huskers are anything but a cinch, though, in the well-balanced Big Eight," he pointed out. "Missouri is the most talented challenger, and the title-deciding game may be Nebraska at Missouri Oct. 30. Oklahoma looks best in a scramble for third.

"The logic in picking Nebraska seems sound. Devaney won the title in a rebuilding year and returns 24 of the first 33. The dust had barely settled from Nebraska's 10-7 loss to unbeaten Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl before Husker fans were chanting, 'We'll eat 'em alive in '65.'

"Devaney isn't so sure, however. For one thing, there is Oklahoma's 17-7 victory over Nebraska in the season's last game. For another, Missouri was probably the equal of any league team at the finish, pressing Nebraska to the limit before losing, 9-0 and whipping Kansas, 34-14."

Kiss Of Death

The AP scribe also tempers Husker enthusiasm by pointing out that past Big Eight tradition has a way of knocking off favorites.

"Devaney is shunning the role of favorite, and it's no wonder," he notes. "It has been the kiss of death ever since the conference ended Oklahoma's 13-year domination.

"Oklahoma was the favorite in the last two Nebraska title years, Missouri in 1962 but Oklahoma's sophomores won it, Kansas in 1961 but it turned out to be a Colorado sweep, Oklahoma in 1960 but Kansas won it, then forfeited the title to Missouri."

Big 8 Tops In Track

Big Eight football has advanced so far in the past few years that it compares with any of the nation's other conferences. But the head knockers have nothing on their "rather run than fight" brethren in the track and field area.

The Big Eight has athletes among the top 10 nationally in 20 of the 28 events in which college runners and field event men compete, according to the latest NCAA charts.

Nebraska puts the Big Eight on the charts in six events. NU sprinter Charlie Greene is tied for fifth in the 100-yard dash with a :09.4 clocking and is tied for seventh in the 220 with :20.8.

The Huskers also are listed third in the 440-yard relay, ninth in the 880-yard relay, sixth in the sprint medley relay, and 10th in the mile relay.

—TO ARRIVE WEDNESDAY—

Warren Spahn Is New Giant Pitcher

San Francisco (AP)—Warren Spahn, the 44-year-old former pitching star who was cut loose by the last place New York Mets, will join the pennant-contending San Francisco Giants Wednesday.

The Giants announced Monday they had reached an agreement with the veteran who has won more games than any other left-hander in baseball history. The high-salaried hurler was released last Wednesday by the youth-minded Mets.

Although Spahnie had lost eight straight for the last place Mets, both he and the Giants feel he'll help the third-place club in its drive for the National League pennant.

Terms of the contract weren't announced, but it was believed the veteran won't suffer much of a cut from the $73,500 he signs for with the Mets.

Baseball contracts are based on a 5½ month season and the Mets in releasing him were required to pay one month's salary. The Giants are expected to give him about $18,000 for the rest of the campaign.

Manager Herman Franks said he feels the left-hander can help and he has been searching for a portside thrower. The Giants have only two, Bill Henry and Masanori Murakami, neither of them starters.

"I may start him," Franks said. "I just don't know yet how he'll be used. We'll talk as soon as he gets here."

In New York, Spahn said he planned to arrive in San Francisco on Wednesday. When he gets here, the Giants must cut one player to stay within the 25-player limit.

Spahn said: "I'm in excellent physical shape and my arm feels good. I feel I can help the Giants win the pennant. I am confident I can still pitch nine innings but I'm ready to do anything Franks wants me to."

The San Francisco offer was one of three received by the pitcher. The Mets asked waivers on him last Wednesday. When there were no takers for the regular $20,000 waiver price, the club put the veteran up for a nominal $1 waiver fee for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release to make his own deal.

Giants' vice president Charles Chub Feeney said the club checked with several baseball men who had seen Spahn pitch recently and "we felt he can help us."

Spahn has been in the majors since 1942 when he broke in with the Boston Braves. His lifetime major league record—most for a lefthander—is 360 victories and 241 defeats. He won 20 or more games in 13 seasons, a major league record for left-handers; pitched no-hitters against the Phillies and Giants, and in 1957 won the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the major leagues.

He has pitched in eight World Series games, winning four and losing three.

After joining the Braves, he didn't get a decision before being called into military service. He returned in 1946 with an 8-5 record and had his first 20-game year in 1947 with 21-10.

He recorded his best seasons from 1953 through 1973 including nine 20-victory years. Last year the Braves sold him to New York.

With the Mets this season he was 4-12 with a 4.43 earned-run-average, and Manager Casey Stengel said he was released to give more chance to younger hurlers in the New York building program.

TWINS TRIM ANGELS, 5-2

Mele Sits In Stands

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Suspended Minnesota Manager Sam Mele watched from the pressbox Monday night as his first-place Twins trimmed the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 behind the four-hit pitching of unbeaten Jim Perry.

Mele, suspended for five days and fined $500 by American League President Joe Cronin earlier Monday for Mele's part in an altercation with Umpire Bill Valentine Sunday, saw Coach Hal Naragon guide the Twins to victory.

Perry survived solo homers by Joe Adcock and Jim Fregosi in the early innings and won his seventh straight this season. It was his second complete game in four starts since coming out of the bullpen July 5.

The Twins beat Dean Chance, 6-6, on Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer in the first inning and Jimmie Hall's two-run single in the seventh.

Minnesota broke a 2-2 tie in the fourth when Bob Allison walked, raced to third on Rich Rollins' single and scored as Jerry Zimmerman hit into a double play.

Cubs Down Giants, 6-2

San Francisco (AP)—Chicago lefty Dick Ellsworth didn't allow a hit until the sixth inning Monday, then weakened and had to have help to escape with a 6-2 victory over San Francisco.

The victory, Ellsworth's 11th of the season, broke a five-game Cub losing string.

Ellsworth, who faced only 15 Giants through five innings and struck out nine of those, including five in a row at one stretch, gave way to Ted Abernathy when the Giants first two batters in the ninth reached base.

Abernathy, making his 49th appearance, had a four-run lead at that time and had little trouble in making it stand up.

The Cubs got off to a 1-0 lead on Billy Williams' 14th homer in the fifth, and broke it open with a five-run burst in the seventh. Ellsworth tripled in two of those and two more crossed on Ed Bailey's bases-loaded single.

Ellsworth struck out 11, allowed six hits and was lifted in the ninth after allowing his first base on balls.

Tom Haller ruined Ellsworth's no-hit bit with a single in the sixth, and the Giants followed up with both their runs in the seventh, Cap Peterson doubling in one and Hal Lanier singling in another.

However, four young golfers did play their qualifying rounds Monday despite soggy footing and soaked greens.

Revised Pairings, Page 14

Lincoln Country Club pro Bud Williamson allowed Marc Gorges, Bart Dennis and Tim Bateman, all of Lincoln, and Charles Weir of Fremont to tee off Monday afternoon to avoid a conflict with the United States Golf Association junior qualifying round slated for today at Omaha's Highland Country Club.

Bateman led the Monday quartet with a five-over-par 77, followed by Dennis at 81, and Gorges and Weir, both with 84s.

Lincoln golfers were to have qualified Monday with out-state entries slated to shoot their qualifying rounds today at LCC. However, the heavy rains forced tournament officials to combine all the entires for qualifying today.

The 163 remaining entries will begin teeing off at 8:06 this morning.

They, along with the four who played Monday, will be bidding for the remaining 74 spots in the tournament proper which is set to start Wednesday.

The 75th spot belongs to defending champion Bob Astleford who is seeking his fourth straight title and trying to become only the second golfer ever to win six crowns.

Astleford will be playing today, but he is exempt from qualifying.

The qualifiers will play 18 holes both Wednesday and Thursday with the field being divided into four flights after Thursday's round. The championship flight will then play 36 holes Friday with the other three flights playing 18 holes. The championship flight will consist of 24 players and ties.

Should today's round also be rained out, tourney officails likely would use Wednesday for qualifying with the qualifying scores counting in the total.

Officials waited until nearly noon Monday before calling off the qualifying round. While waiting for the rain to stop most golfers lounged around the pro shop while others played cards in the locker room.

Monday's Scores

Tim Bateman	38-39—77
Bart Dennis	39-42—81
Marc Gorges	44-40—84
Charles Weir	40-44—84

Hamlin Boosts Nats Past Bengals, 8-0

Detroit (AP) — Ken Hamlin, who entered the game with only eight runs batted in this season, knocked in four with a pair of home runs to lead the Washington Senators to an 8-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Monday.

Phil Ortega allowed the Tigers just three hits to become the fourth American League pitcher to win 10 games. He has lost eight.

The Tigers failed to pose a serious scoring threat as Ortega limited them to a scratch single by Norm Cash in the fourth inning, a sixth-inning double by Jerry Lumpe and Don Demeter's pitch-single in the eighth.

Woodie Held capped a four-run Washington third inning with a three-run home run.

Hamlin's firsta homer triggered the third inning rally and his second of the game, and third of this season, accounted for three more Senators runs in the fourth.

Detroit starter Mickey Lolich left the game in the third inning after giving up the home run to Hamlin, a walk, and a single to Frank Howard. Held greeted reliever Orlando Pena wtih his 11th homer of the year.

Hamlin's second homer, following singles by Joe Cunningham and Ed Brinkman and a sacrifice by Ortega, came off Ron Nischwitz.

A single by Held, Don Lock's ground rule double and a fielder's choice gave the Senators their first run in the second inning.

Brave Homer Spree Hands Mets 6-0 Loss

Milwaukee (AP)—Ken Johnson's seven-hit pitching and a four-homer barrage overcame the Mets' Monday magic as the Milwaukee Braves defeated New York 6-0 Monday night.

It was the Braves' seventh straight victory and the Mets' ninth straight defeat, but their first loss on a Monday since opening day. The Mets, winless since July 5, had won nine Monday games and tied another.

Johnson, now 10-4, posted the first shutout of the season by a Braves' pitcher.

Jack Fisher, 6-11, took the loss, his seventh in his last eight decisions.

Felipe Alou got the Braves rolling with a leadoff home run to left, his 15th. Hank Aaron hit his 18th, also in the first inning.

Los Angeles (AP) — Don Drysdale smashed a single and double and gained his fourth straight triumph Monday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers extended their winning streak to five games by beating Houston 8-3.

Drysdale, now 15-8, allowed nine hits, four of them for extra bases, but coasted to victory after the National League leaders capitalized on Don Nottebart's sixth-inning throwing error to score five runs and snap a 3-3 tie.

Skaters Arriving In Lincoln

Competitors for the North American Roller Skating Championships to be held in Lincoln July 21-31 began arriving Monday.

Some 1400 participants and nearly four times that many parents, fans and officials will flood the Capital City for the 10-day meet, Frank T. Cahill, national field representative for the RSROA, estimated Monday.

The events will include roller skating competition, roller hockey, a Sautrday night Spectacular and the selection of the Roller Skating Queen. All events are scheduled for Pershing Auditorium.

The July 28-29 events will be taped by ABC-Television for reshowing on Wide World of Sports Aug. 7.

Cahill, pointing out that most of the competitors have made reservations for the duration of the meet despite being scheduled to compete only one or two days, explained, "The participants and their families are impressed with Lincoln and many will spend their entire vacation here."

Rookie Tops Yankees, 3-1

New York (AP)—Rookie Jim Lonborg scattered five hits for his third victory over New York as the Boston Red Sox topped the Yankees 3-1 Monday night.

Lonborg, 6-10 over-all but 3-1 against the Yankees blanked them on four singles until the eighth inning and drove in the second Boston run with a second-inning single.

The Red Sox clipped Jim Bouton for two runs in the second and knocked him out in the fifth when they collected two singles and a triple but managed to score only one run.

Felix Mantilla led off the second inning with the first of his three walks and took third on Lee Thomas' single. Tony Conigliaro walked, loading the bases, but Bob Tillman lined into a double play. Rico Petrocelli then singled, scoring Thomas, and Lonborg singled Conigliaro across.

Frank Malzone singled, leading off the fifth, raced to third on Carl Yastrzemski's single and scored when right fielder Tom Tresh's throw to third went astray.

Yastrzemski, however, was cut down trying to go to third on the play.

LB300 Lengthens Snagging Season

The State Legislature Monday added two months to the length of the fish snagging season in the Missouri River.

Approved 42-2, was a measure, LB300, permitting snagging from Oct. 1 through April 30, instead of Nov. 1 to April 1 as presently allowed.

The bill carries the emergency clause and becomes law immediately when signed by Gov. Frank Morrison.

LB300 was introduced by Sens. S. H. Brauer Sr. of Norfolk, Herb Nore of Genoa and W. H. Hasebroock of West Point.

Hamlin Boosts Nats Past Bengals, 8-0

Detroit (AP) — Ken Hamlin, who entered the game with only eight runs batted in this season, knocked in four with a pair of home runs to lead the Washington Senators to an 8-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Monday.

Phil Ortega allowed the Tigers just three hits to become the fourth American League pitcher to win 10 games. He has lost eight.

The Tigers failed to pose a serious scoring threat as Ortega limited them to a scratch single by Norm Cash in the fourth inning, a sixth-inning double by Jerry Lumpe and Don Demeter's pitch-single in the eighth.

Woodie Held capped a four-run Washington third inning with a three-run home run.

Hamlin's firsta homer triggered the third inning rally and his second of the game, and third of this season, accounted for three more Senators runs in the fourth.

Detroit starter Mickey Lolich left the game in the third inning after giving up the home run to Hamlin, a walk, and a single to Frank Howard. Held greeted reliever Orlando Pena wtih his 11th homer of the year.

Hamlin's second homer, following singles by Joe Cunningham and Ed Brinkman and a sacrifice by Ortega, came off Ron Nischwitz.

Brave Homer Spree Hands Mets 6-0 Loss

Milwaukee (AP)—Ken Johnson's seven-hit pitching and a four-homer barrage overcame the Mets' Monday magic as the Milwaukee Braves defeated New York 6-0 Monday night.

It was the Braves' seventh straight victory and the Mets' ninth straight defeat, but their first loss on a Monday since opening day. The Mets, winless since July 5, had won nine Monday games and tied another.

Johnson, now 10-4, posted the first shutout of the season by a Braves' pitcher.

Jack Fisher, 6-11, took the loss, his seventh in his last eight decisions.

Felipe Alou got the Braves rolling with a leadoff home run to left, his 15th. Hank Aaron hit his 18th, also in the first inning.

Skaters Arriving In Lincoln

Competitors for the North American Roller Skating Championships to be held in Lincoln July 21-31 began arriving Monday.

Some 1400 participants and nearly four times that many parents, fans and officials will flood the Capital City for the 10-day meet, Frank T. Cahill, national field representative for the RSROA, estimated Monday.

The events will include roller skating competition, roller hockey, a Sautrday night Spectacular and the selection of the Roller Skating Queen. All events are scheduled for Pershing Auditorium.

The July 28-29 events will be taped by ABC-Television for reshowing on Wide World of Sports Aug. 7.

Cahill, pointing out that most of the competitors have made reservations for the duration of the meet despite being scheduled to compete only one or two days, explained, "The participants and their families are impressed with Lincoln and many will spend their entire vacation here."

Rookie Tops Yankees, 3-1

New York (AP)—Rookie Jim Lonborg scattered five hits for his third victory over New York as the Boston Red Sox topped the Yankees 3-1 Monday night.

Lonborg, 6-10 over-all but 3-1 against the Yankees blanked them on four singles until the eighth inning and drove in the second Boston run with a second-inning single.

The Red Sox clipped Jim Bouton for two runs in the second and knocked him out in the fifth when they collected two singles and a triple but managed to score only one run.

Felix Mantilla led off the second inning with the first of his three walks and took third on Lee Thomas' single. Tony Conigliaro walked, loading the bases, but Bob Tillman lined into a double play. Rico Petrocelli then singled, scoring Thomas, and Lonborg singled Conigliaro across.

Frank Malzone singled, leading off the fifth, raced to third on Carl Yastrzemski's single and scored when right fielder Tom Tresh's throw to third went astray.

Yastrzemski, however, was cut down trying to go to third on the play.

Pirates Nail Reds, 3-1, On Law's 6-Hitter

Cincinnati, Ohio (AP) — Donn Cledenon backed Vernon Law's six-hit pitching with a decisive home run Monday night in the Pittsburgh Pirates' 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Cledenon's fourth-inning homer, his ninth of the season, broke up a 1-1 tie and helped Law even his record at 9-9. The veteran right-hander helped his own cause with two singles and retired 12 consecutive batters between Cincinnati's first and second hits.

Phils' Callison On Hit Splurge

. . . NEARS TOP IN HOME RUNS, RUNS BATTED IN

New York (AP) — Johnny Callison, who probably would have won the National League's MVP award last season if Philadelphia had won the pennant, again is turning out to be a most valuable player for the Phillies while surging toward the top in the home run and runs batted in departments.

The veteran outfielder hit three homers, including a grand slam, and drove in six runs last week when the regular season schedule was interrupted because of the All-Star game. This gave him 20 home runs and 66 RBI. He is only three homers behind San Francisco's Willie Mays, the circuit's pace-setter, and three RBI behind co-leaders Deron Johnson of Cincinnati and Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh.

Callison, who is batting .262, leads the NL in triples with 11. He is well ahead of last year's pace in the power categories. He had 31 homers and 104 RBI in 1964 when he sparked the Phils into first place. The club folded in the final two weeks and St. Louis finished strong to win the pennant. The Cards' Ken Boyer took the MVP prize. This season, Boyer is batting .259 with only eight homers and 42 runs batted in.

The Giants' Mays continued to lead in batting, holding a one-point lead over Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente. Mays lost one point to .338 with two hits in seven tries and Clemente also dropped one point to .337 with a 6-for-18 performance.

Donn Clendenon of Pittsburgh held the No. 3 spot, advancing two points to .330 with seven hits in 19 attempts. Milwaukee's Hank Aaron rushed up to fourth on a two point pickup to .328 while Rich Allen, Philadelphia, dropped to fifth with an eight point loss to .320.

In the American League, Carl Yastrzemski of Boston holds a 20-point lead over Minnesota's Jimmie Hall. Yastrzemski, sidelined for two weeks with an injured leg, returned to action Saturday and collected three hits in eight at bats in the weekend games. He boosted his average one point to .341 The figures include Sunday's games.

Hall slumped four points to .321 in last week's games. Felix Mantilla of Boston is third with .315 followed by Vic Davalillo, Cleveland, .312 and Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, .302.

Mays remained the NL home run leader with 23. Stargell is the runner-up with 22. The latter also drove in three runs to tie the Reds' Johnson for the RBI lead.

Cleveland's Rocky Colavito slammed one homer, giving him sole possession of first place in the American League with 21. Detroit's Willie Horton is next with 20.

Mantilla regained the top spot in RBI with 65. He had six RBI last week and moved in front of Colavito, who has 65.

—'MEET MOST INTERESTING HORSES'—

Horse Hoofprints Popular

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. E. V. W. Jones sometimes works seven days a week painting the portraits of famous race horses and molding their hoofprints into colorful ashtrays sold at the nation's tracks.

"It doesn't make any money," she says, "but you meet the most interesting horses."

It all started during the hey-day of Nashua, the comical "clown prince" of racing. Mrs. Jones attended a press party at which the subject of Nashua's fan mail came up.

"He was getting 20 to 30 letters a day addressed to him," she recalls. "Almost all the writers wanted a hank of his mane or some other kind of souvenir.

"I thought, since Nashua was loved by so many people that it was a shame they couldn't have some memento. I got the idea of taking his hoofprint and molding it into ceramic ashtrays."

Nashua's trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, agreed to the venture, and Nashua obligingly mashed his hoof into a plastic mold.

For two years, Nashua's hoofprint was Mrs. Jones' best seller. Citation, the last Triple Crown winner, now is most popular. Fans bought 2,000 of his prints last year.

Mrs. Jones makes each ashtray by hand.

"It means lots of work and no profit" she says, "but I love it, and I'll keep on. It costs $40 to make the mold and turn out the first tray, and you have to sell quite a few to get that back. And for a good seller, you need at least a dozen molds.

"I love to get up early and go out to the track to see the horses. Native Charger and Gun Bow gave me their prints this season.

"Most of the horses are gentle, but Bald Eagle was an exception. He's a fiery horse, and he didn't want to put his hoof in the clay. I got nervous with him."

Later, Mrs. Jones began turning out trays in the form of jockey caps and painted with the colors of the stables. Some of her hoof and cap trays are on display in the National Museum of Racing at Saratoga. Hialeah maintains a showcase of her work.

Phils' Callison On Hit Splurge

. . . NEARS TOP IN HOME RUNS, RUNS BATTED IN

New York (AP) — Johnny Callison, who probably would have won the National League's MVP award last season if Philalelphia had won the pennant, again is turning out to be a most valuable player for the Phillies while surging toward the top in the home run and runs batted in departments.

The veteran outfielder hit three homers, including a grand slam, and drove in six runs last week when the regular season schedule was interrupted because of the All-Star game. This gave him 20 home runs and 66 RBI. He is only three homers behind San Francisco's Willie Mays, the circuit's pace-setter, and three RBI behind co-leaders Deron Johnson of Cincinnati and Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh.

Callison, who is batting .262, leads the NL in triples with 11. He is well ahead of last year's pace in the power categories. He had 31 homers and 104 RBI in 1964 when he sparked the Phils into first place. The club folded in the final two weeks and St. Louis finished strong to win the pennant. The Cards' Ken Boyer took the MVP prize. This season, Boyer is batting .259 with only eight homers and 42 runs batted in.

The Giants' Mays continued to lead in batting, holding a one-point lead over Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente. Mays lost one point to .338 with two hits in seven tries and Clemente also dropped one point to .337 with a 6-for-18 performance.

Donn Clendenon of Pittsburgh held the No. 3 spot, advancing two points to .330 with seven hits in 19 attempts. Milwaukee's Hank Aaron rushed up to fourth on a two point pickup to .328 while Rich Allen, Philadelphia, dropped to fifth with an eight point loss to .320.

In the American League, Carl Yastrzemski of Boston holds a 20-point lead over Minnesota's Jimmie Hall. Yastrzemski, sidelined for two weeks with an injured leg, returned to action Saturday and collected three hits in eight at bats in the weekend games. He boosted his average one point to .341. The figures include Sunday's games.

Hall slumped four points to .321 in last week's games. Felix Mantilla of Boston is third with .315 followed by Vic Davalillo, Cleveland, .312 and Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, .302.

Mays remained the NL home run leader with 23. Stargell is the runner-up with 22. The latter also drove in three runs to tie the Reds' Johnson for the RBI lead.

Cleveland's Rocky Colavito slammed one homer, giving him sole possession of first place in the American League with 21. Detroit's Willie Horton is next with 20.

Mantilla regained the top spot in RBI with 65. He had six RBI last week and moved in front of Colavito, who has 65.

—'MEET MOST INTERESTING HORSES'—

Horse Hoofprints Popular

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. E. V. W. Jones sometimes works seven days a week painting the portraits of famous race horses and molding their hoofprints into colorful ashtrays sold at the nation's tracks.

"It doesn't make any money," she says, "but you meet the most interesting horses."

It all started during the hey-day of Nashua, the comical "clown prince" of racing. Mrs. Jones attended a press party at which the subject of Nashua's fan mail came up.

"He was getting 20 to 30 letters a day addressed to him," she recalls. "Almost all the writers wanted a hank of his mane or some other kind of souvenir.

"I thought, since Nashua was loved by so many people that it was a shame they couldn't have some memento. I got the idea of taking his hoofprint and molding it into ceramic ashtrays."

Nashua's trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, agreed to the venture, and Nashua obligingly mashed his hoof into a plastic mold.

For two years, Nashua's hoofprint was Mrs. Jones' best seller. Citation, the last Triple Crown winner, now is most popular. Fans bought 2,000 of his prints last year.

Mrs. Jones makes each ashtray by hand.

"It means lots of work and no profit" she says, "but I love it, and I'll keep on. It costs $40 to make the mold and turn out the first tray, and you have to sell quite a few to get that back. And for a good seller, you need at least a dozen molds.

"I love to get up early and go out to the track to see the horses. Native Charger and Gun Bow gave me their prints this season.

"Most of the horses are gentle, but Bald Eagle was an exception. He's a fiery horse, and he didn't want to put his hoof in the clay. I got nervous with him."

Later, Mrs. Jones began turning out trays in the form of jockey caps and painted with the colors of the stables. Some of her hoof and cap trays are on display in the National Museum of Racing at Saratoga. Hialeah maintains a showcase of her work.

Albion Girl Stranded In Atlantic Aboard Dutch Liner 'Seven Seas'

New York (AP)—A company of 610 ocean travelers, mostly young students, were on a placid, forced stopover Monday in the wide Atlantic. They were stranded and apparently they were enjoying it

They "find themselves very well," said a message from the liner Seven Seas relayed here by her Dutch agents. "The atmosphere on board remains excellent"

A Nebraska girl, Julie Irish, 18, of Albion is aboard the Seven Seas. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Irish, Julie has spent the past year in Eschwege, Germany, as an American Field Service (AFS) exchange student. Her father is with the State Railway Commission.

The 12 500-ton steamship, bound for New York, was left dead in the water Sunday, 500 miles east of Newfoundland, by an engine room fire which disabled the equipment.

But the weather was mild The summer seas were clam. Help was on the way. And according to the skipper, Capt. Helmut Bender, all was fine with the passengers.

Their becalmed "mechanical island" is fitted out with the usual shipboard recreational array—shuffleboard, swimming pool, dance floor, deck tennis—and other facilities for idling away the hours

"With so many of the passengers being students, it's probably the thrill of a lifetime for them," a Holland-American line spokesman said here.

Emergency power facilities kept lighting, cooking and refrigeration equipment going, and food supplies were reported abundant for what seemed likely to be about two extra days immobilized at sea.

The U.S Coast Guard cutter Absecon, dispatched from her ocean station 280 miles from the stationary ship, was expected to reach her late Monday night, to stand by while awaiting a tug.

The Dutch tug Ierse Zee (Irish Sea), plowing out from the Azores, predicted arrival there Tuesday afternoon to take the liner in tow for St. John's Newfoundland Arrival at St John's was expected some time Friday.

Page Boy Reform Bill Offered In Congress

Washington (UPI)—A House member protested Monday that Capitol page boys are making more than some officers fighting in Viet Nam. He proposed legislation to give the traditional patronage jobs to needy college students.

Rep. W. R. Hull, D-Mo., said his reform bill would raise the age requirement for the House and Senate pages and reduce their pay scale. His proposal also would abolish the special page school which operates in the Capitol.

Hull commented in a statement: "The system that the Congress uses in educating, supervising and housing its pages is archaic, cumbersome, wasteful and, in many respects, detrimental to the young men it purports to benefit.

"Under the present system youngsters between 14 and 18 are set adrift, far from home and removed from proper supervision, in a large and fast-paced metropolis.

"They are grossly overpaid. Pages earn more money than some commissioned officers fighting in Viet Nam."

He also said that the salaries of the pages—who are appointed by members of Congress—exceed the total 1963 income of 45% of the nation's families.

The pay for a page is $4,600 in his first year and $5,050 beginning his second year.

Hull said the jobs are "princely sinecures" for such work as running errands and answering telephones.

He advocated that the top pay scale be cut to $3,640 a year and the age limit raised to 18 to 24. In addition, his bill would require pages to have had at least one year of college and show financial need.

'SO THIS IS ATLANTA'

One of the more than 20 chimpanzees arriving at Emory University's new Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center in Atlanta, Ga., seems to take an apprehensive view of his new surroundings as he peers around a door. The chimps—now part of the most valuable collection of non-human primates in the world—were moved from Orange Park, Fla., in a special van.

Egyptian Editor Attempting To Kiss Old Rules Goodby

Cairo (AP)— Officially, kissing in public is outlawed in Egypt — except for saying goodby in such places as airports or railway stations.

Now a spirited magazine editor has suggested Cairo should have a public garden where lovers can kiss without getting hauled away by the morality police. He says he was inspired by watching the activities in parks in Italy.

A flock of letters to the magazine Sabah El-Kheir (Good Morning) back him up, with protests that Egypt's strict rules are outdated.

"Where can a couple in love exchange kisses in our society?" the magazine asked. "If a girl goes to a boy's apartment, things may not stop with just a kiss. If she kisses him on the street, they are liable to be arrested.

Couples caught kissing on the street in Cairo usually are taken to the nearest police station, where they stand a good chance of spending a night in the cells — separate cells.

The story is told here of an American diplomat who kissed his Egyptian fiancee goodby in a taxi on his way to the airport. When he looked up, he found the driver had taken them to a police station instead, to lodge a complaint. Since the same story was told years ago of a British officer, it probably isn't true, but it illustrates the feelings of the antikissing faction.

Many an unmarried Cairo couple resorts to the gimmick of going to a railway station, posing as travelers and kissing each other as train after train pulls away.

A scholar commented that the magazine's suggestion would have been grounds for hanging, a century ago. The Islam religion seeks to restrict kissing to married couples.

Reapportionment Showdown Set

Washington (AP)—The boiling controversy over state legislative reapportionment reached the eve of showdown Monday night with two Republican Senators standing pat on their own versions of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who may have the key vote, disclosed his proposal late Monday and said that unless it is accepted he will vote Tuesday in the Senate Judiciary Committee against an amendment submitted by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.

Dirksen told reporters he could not accept Javits' proposal because its language "puts the matter right back into the courts."

Tie Vote

Asked if he believes he would encounter an 8-8 tie vote in the committee which would be tantamount to rejection of any motion to bring the issue to the floor, he replied, "That is possible."

Dirksen insisted that, no matter what happens in the committee, he will get the proposal before the Senate. He could use parliamentary maneuvers to do so even if the committee rejects his proposal.

Both Dirksen's and Javits' proposed amendments, would permit the people of a state to vote on whether one house of its legislature could be apportioned on other than a population basis. This would void a Supreme Court decision that both houses must be based closely on population.

Retain Control

Javits told a news conference that his version would retain Supreme Court control of any reapportionment requiring that such action bear "a reasonable relationship to the needs of the state."

He said other provisions would make it certain there could be no discrimination on the grounds of race or color in any reapportionment.

The chief difference between his version and that of Dirksen, Javits said, is the provision in his proposal to retain Supreme Court jurisdiction over reapportionment matters Javits said his amendment would permit other factors than population to be taken into account.

Mississippi State Quietly Enrolls 1st Negro Student

Starkville, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi State University quietly enrolled Richard Holmes Monday as its first Negro student.

Registration day went off normally as 2,500 white students in shorts and slacks filled out the necessary forms. Holmes drew scarcely a glance.

The 21-year-old pre-med junior from Starkville was accepted voluntarily as a transfer student from Wiley College in Texas. No court order was sought.

University officials had pledged to accept Negroes in order to receive federal aid grants from the Office of Education.

Mansfield Eyes Labor Day For Adjournment

Washington (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana announced Monday he and GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois will seek a meeting with President Johnson to agree on a Labor Day adjournment of Congress.

Mansfield said in a statement read at a closed meeting of the Democratic conference and made public later that he knows of no new major Legislation the White House intends to send to Capitol Hill.

"In the absence of some emergency or unusual developments — I do not anticipate any such new requests," he said.

Mariner Photos Continue

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Mariner 4 was radioing Monday what may be some of its most interesting pictures of Mars—electronic images of areas some scientists think could be vegetation—but there was no hint of when they would be released.

Jet Propulsion Laboratory director William H. Pickering said he would report on Mariner 4 at a scientific meeting in San Francisco next week but planned to discuss only the first three pictures. They were released last week.

The meeting is the second annual convention of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

A spokesman for the laboratory, which built and guided the 575-pound U S. spacecraft on its 7½ month, 325-million-mile voyage to Mars, said no date had been set for release of the remainder of the pictures.

Albion Girl Stranded In Atlantic Aboard Dutch Liner 'Seven Seas'

New York (AP)—A company of 610 ocean travelers, mostly young students, were on a placid, forced stopover Monday in the wide Atlantic. They were stranded and apparently they were enjoying it.

They "find themselves very well," said a message from the liner Seven Seas relayed here by her Dutch agents. "The atmosphere on board remains excellent."

A Nebraska girl, Julie Irish, 18, of Albion is aboard the Seven Seas. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Irish, Julie has spent the past year in Eschwege, Germany, as an American Field Service (AFS) exchange student. Her father is with the State Railway Commission.

The 12,500-ton steamship, bound for New York, was left dead in the water Sunday, 500 miles east of Newfoundland, by an engine room fire which disabled the equipment.

But the weather was mild. The summer seas were clam. Help was on the way. And according to the skipper, Capt. Helmut Bender, all was fine with the passengers.

Their becalmed "mechanical island" is fitted out with the usual shipboard recreational array—shuffleboard, swimming pool, dance floor, deck tennis—and other facilities for idling away the hours.

"With so many of the passengers being students, it's probably the thrill of a lifetime for them," a Holland-American line spokesman said here.

Emergency power facilities kept lighting, cooking and refrigeration equipment going, and food supplies were reported abundant for what seemed likely to be about two extra days immobilized at sea.

The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Absecon, dispatched from her ocean station 280 miles from the stationary ship, was expected to reach her late Monday night, to stand by while awaiting a tug.

The Dutch tug Ierse Zee (Irish Sea), plowing out from the Azores, predicted arrival there Tuesday afternoon to take the liner in tow for St. John's Newfoundland. Arrival at St. John's was expected some time Friday.

Page Boy Reform Bill Offered In Congress

Washington (UPI)—A House member protested Monday that Capitol page boys are making more than some officers fighting in Viet Nam. He proposed legislation to give the traditional patronage jobs to needy college students.

Rep. W. R. Hull, D-Mo., said his reform bill would raise the age requirement for the House and Senate pages and reduce their pay scale. His proposal also would abolish the special page school which operates in the Capitol.

Hull commented in a statement: "The system that the Congress uses in educating, supervising and housing its pages is archaic, cumbersome, wasteful and, in many respects, detrimental to the young men it purports to benefit.

"Under the present system youngsters between 14 and 18 are set adrift, far from home and removed from proper supervision, in a large and fast-paced metropolis.

"They are grossly overpaid. Pages earn more money than some commissioned officers fighting in Viet Nam."

He also said that the salaries of the pages—who are appointed by members of Congress—exceed the total 1963 income of 45% of the nation's families.

The pay for a page is $4,600 in his first year and $5,050 beginning his second year.

Hull said the jobs are "princely sinecures" for such work as running errands and answering telephones.

He advocated that the top pay scale be cut to $3,640 a year and the age limit raised to 18 to 24. In addition, his bill would require pages to have had at least one year of college and show financial need.

One of the more than 20 chimpanzees arriving at Emory University's new Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center in Atlanta, Ga., seems to take an apprehensive view of his new surroundings as he peers around a door. Egyptian Editor Attempting To Kiss Old Rules Goodby

Cairo (AP)— Officially, kissing in public is outlawed in Egypt — except for saying goodby in such places as airports or railway stations.

Now a spirited magazine editor has suggested Cairo should have a public garden where lovers can kiss without getting hauled away by the morality police. He says he was inspired by watching the activities in parks in Italy.

A flock of letters to the magazine Sabah El-Kheir (Good Morning) back him up, with protests that Egypt's strict rules are outdated.

"Where can a couple in love exchange kisses in our society?" the magazine asked. "If a girl goes to a boy's apartment, things may not stop with just a kiss. If she kisses him on the street, they are liable to be arrested.

Couples caught kissing on the street in Cairo usually are taken to the nearest police station, where they stand a good chance of spending a night in the cells — separate cells.

The story is told here of an American diplomat who kissed his Egyptian fiancee goodby in a taxi on his way to the airport. When he looked up, he found the driver had taken them to a police station instead, to lodge a complaint. Since the same story was told years ago of a British officer, it probably isn't true, but it illustrates the feelings of the antikissing faction.

Many an unmarried Cairo couple resorts to the gimmick of going to a railway station, posing as travelers and kissing each other as train after train pulls away.

A scholar commented that the magazine's suggestion would have been grounds for hanging, a century ago. The Islam religion seeks to restrict kissing to married couples.

Several County Officials Support Higher Valuations

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Webster County Assessor Kurt Knehans testified Monday he "would be glad to see every county raised to the statutory 35% of actual value" by the State Board of Equalization.

"I feel Nance County (reappraisal) should stand and the other counties brought up," said Knehans, who is president of the Nebraska County Assessors Association.

"There's only a 9% difference between the reappraisal and the sales-assessment ratio for that county," he said. "It's real close and who can say which figure is wrong?"

Favored

Knehans was one of a number of county officials who testified Monday before the state board that they favored equalization of assessment levels between the counties.

Their testimony countered that from most of the western and Panhandle counties whose spokesman urged the five-member state board to leave their assessed valuations untouched.

Knehans also told the board he "couldn't tell too much difference" between the sales prices of single operating units and land tracts being added to existing units.

Agreed

However, Knehans agreed with other assessors the "inflated" land prices are "out of reasonable relationship" to the productivity or earning capacity.

A Harlan County spokesman said his county "realizes the board is almost bound to use the sales-assessment ratios in equalizing between counties and we don't have too much objection."

"I think sales figures can be made bona fide if scrutinized for arm's length sales," he added.

Frontier County Attorney Fred J. Schroeder Jr. said he couldn't "see how anyone could have much objection" if the board acted to balance valuations among all 93 counties of the state.

Adams County officials also told the board they would "resist any increase (in their valuations) unless other counties are brought into line."

They said the county is completing a reappraisal, "but we're going to be reluctant to use it if the present situation with the other counties continues."

Buffalo County urged the board to raise other counties because their county was close to the statutory 35% valuation on a sales-assessment basis.

Gov. Frank Morrison, board chairman, said, "We're going to do an equitable job of equalization this year and let the chips fall where they may."

Several board members probed county officials on what yardstick might be used to measure "the actual value that lies somewhere between productivity (earning capacity of the property) and sales price," toward which the admitted trend is inflationary.

14 Testify

Fourteen central Nebraska counties testified Monday. Nance County, the first county to complete a mandatory reappraisal, is scheduled to appear Tuesday.

Hearings are scheduled to continue through Friday when all 93 counties will have testified.

Mexico City (AP) — Fifteen members of the Mexican Air Force have left for Panama to take a special six-month training course at the U.S. Albrook Air Force Base.

Air Service For Columbus By Fall, Sandstedt Predicts

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt predicted Monday that Frontier Airlines will be providing Columbus with air service by this fall.

The air service had once been scheduled to begin last March.

Sandstedt said the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) has placed a "hold" on its February order approving service to Columbus on Frontier's central and southern route between Omaha and Denver, Colo.

He said the "hold" was ordered after the CAB and Frontier Airlines found themselves in disagreement over the cost of supplying service to Columbus and on what route the Columbus stop should be placed.

Frontier has petitioned the board to place Columbus on the airlines' Kansas City-Omaha flights. The cost of the Columbus service must be determined for purposes of settling the amount of subsidy Frontier will receive from the federal government for serving Columbus.

Meanwhile, Sandstedt reported, Columbus officials are working to complete the lengthening of the Columbus airport strip to accommodate Frontier's Convair 580 jet airplane which would serve the city.

School Transfer Law Backed In Brief

The freeholder's petition law passed by the 1963 Legislature should be upheld as a valid and constitutional enactment, the Nebraska Supreme Court was told Monday.

The law allows parents, under certain conditions, to transfer their land from a nonaccredited to an accredited school district.

The act has been challenged in an appeal to the high court filed by the Bloomington School District No. R-1 in Franklin County.

Attorneys for Harme De Jonge urged the high court to affirm the validity of the law. The Franklin County District Court earlier upheld the constitutionality of the act, and approved De Jonge's petition to transfer his land from the Bloomington to the Hildreth School District.

"It has been established that the Legislature has the authority to establish laws creating accredited school districts and to provide for the requirements," De Jonge's attorneys argued in a brief.

"It would seem useless to provide for the accredited districts if the Legislature did not have the authority to permit and provide for their attendance.

"The only normal conclusion is that the Legislature does have the right to establish a law which permits persons who live in nonaccredited school districts to transfer to accredited districts in the event all of the conditional requirements of the statute have been met."

Several County Officials Support Higher Valuations

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Webster County Assessor Kurt Knehans testified Monday he "would be glad to see every county raised to the statutory 35% of actual value" by the State Board of Equalization.

"I feel Nance County (reappraisal) should stand and the other counties brought up," said Knehans, who is president of the Nebraska County Assessors Association.

"There's only a 9% difference between the reappraisal and the sales-assessment ratio for that county," he said. "It's real close and who can say which figure is wrong?"

Favored

Knehans was one of a number of county officials who testified Monday before the state board that they favored equalization of assessment levels between the counties.

Their testimony countered that from most of the western and Panhandle counties whose spokesman urged the five-member state board to leave their assessed valuations untouched.

Knehans also told the board he "couldn't tell too much difference" between the sales prices of single operating units and land tracts being added to existing units.

Agreed

However, Knehans agreed with other assessors the "inflated" land prices are "out of reasonable relationship" to the productivity or earning capacity.

A Harlan County spokesman said his county "realizes the board is almost bound to use the sales-assessment ratios in equalizing between counties and we don't have too much objection."

"I think sales figures can be made bona fide if scrutinized for arm's length sales," he added.

Frontier County Attorney Fred J. Schroeder Jr. said he couldn't "see how anyone could have much objection" if the board acted to balance valuations among all 93 counties of the state.

Adams County officials also told the board they would "resist any increase (in their valuations) unless other counties are brought into line."

They said the county is completing a reappraisal, "but we're going to be reluctant to use it if the present situation with the other counties continues."

Buffalo County urged the board to raise other counties because their county was close to the statutory 35% valuation on a sales-assessment basis.

Gov. Frank Morrison, board chairman, said, "We're going to do an equitable job of equalization this year and let the chips fall where they may."

Several board members probed county officials on what yardstick might be used to measure "the actual value that lies somewhere between productivity (earning capacity of the property) and sales price," toward which the admitted trend is inflationary.

14 Testify

Fourteen central Nebraska counties testified Monday. Nance County, the first county to complete a mandatory reappraisal, is scheduled to appear Tuesday.

Hearings are scheduled to continue through Friday when all 93 counties will have testified.

Air Service For Columbus By Fall, Sandstedt Predicts

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt predicted Monday that Frontier Airlines will be providing Columbus with air service by this fall.

The air service had once been scheduled to begin last March.

Sandstedt said the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) has placed a "hold" on its February order approving service to Columbus on Frontier's central and southern route between Omaha and Denver, Colo.

He said the "hold" was ordered after the CAB and Frontier Airlines found themselves in disagreement over the cost of supplying service to Columbus and on what route the Columbus stop should be placed.

Frontier has petitioned the board to place Columbus on the airlines' Kansas City-Omaha flights. The cost of the Columbus service must be determined for purposes of settling the amount of subsidy Frontier will receive from the federal government for serving Columbus.

Meanwhile, Sandstedt reported, Columbus officials are working to complete the lengthening of the Columbus airport strip to accommodate Frontier's Convair 580 jet airplane which would serve the city.

School Transfer Law Backed In Brief

The freeholder's petition law passed by the 1963 Legislature should be upheld as a valid and constitutional enactment, the Nebraska Supreme Court was told Monday.

The law allows parents, under certain conditions, to transfer their land from a nonaccredited to an accredited school district.

The act has been challenged in an appeal to the high court filed by the Bloomington School District No. R-1 in Franklin County.

Attorneys for Harme De Jonge urged the high court to affirm the validity of the law. The Franklin County District Court earlier upheld the constitutionality of the act, and approved De Jonge's petition to transfer his land from the Bloomington to the Hildreth School District.

"It has been established that the Legislature has the authority to establish laws creating accredited school districts and to provide for the requirements," De Jonge's attorneys argued in a brief.

"It would seem useless to provide for the accredited districts if the Legislature did not have the authority to permit and provide for their attendance.

"The only normal conclusion is that the Legislature does have the right to establish a law which permits persons who live in nonaccredited school districts to transfer to accredited districts in the event all of the conditional requirements of the statute have been met."

Stock Market Performance Slow, Mixed

New York (AP)—The stock market put on a very slow and irregular performance Monday, with statistics somewhat on the downside.

Volume of 3.19 million shares compared with 3.53 million Friday and was the smallest since July 7 when 3.03 million shares changed hands.

The Dow Jones industrial average showed a decline of .17 at 880.26 but there was more evidence of decline among the 1,331 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange. In this group, 583 fell and 472 rose.

Little significance was attached to this, however, because of the lightness of the trading and the almost random behavior of stock prices, reminiscent of four out of five of last week's sessions.

"A lot of people have been shaken out of the market and most of the institutions haven't come back as buyers yet," said one analyst.

Several of the aerospace defense stocks did well. This was linked with the expanding nature of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Most of the auto stocks, however, did nothing at all, although General Motors wound up with a gain of ⅜ and Studebaker eased ⅛. The trend was lower among steels and reports of a drop in orders.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged off .2 to 324.7 with industrials up .3, rails off .3 and utilities off .2.

New highs for the year totaled 23 and new lows 15.

There were a few more gainers than losers among the 16 most-active stocks.

Fairchild Camera was the most active issue, rising 2⅜ to 51¼ on 98,000 shares.

Among the aerospace issues, Boeing gained 1⅛, General Dynamics 1¼, Lockheed 1⅜, United Aircraft ⅜ and McDonnell Aircraft ⅜.

An irregularly lower tone also prevailed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Wheat Futures Advance Again

Chicago (AP)—Wheat futures prices advanced for the fourth consecutive day with gains of nore than a cent a bushel on nearly all contracts Monday on the Board of Trade.

Oats and rye also moved up generally but corn and soybeans came under moderate selling pressure and turned weak.

Brokers credited the demand for wheat to both speculative and commercial accounts, some of it induced by continued light hedge selling. Exporters were understood to have taken large quantities for orders already booked and others expected within the next few days.

Soybeans closed ¾-2¾ cents a bushel lower, July $2.82¼-81¾; new standard grade wheat ⅝-1⅝ higher, July $1.44¾; corn ⅛-1 cent lower, July $1.29¾-⅜; oats unchanged to 1 cent higher, July 67⅜ cents; rye unchanged to ½ higher, July $1.14.

Floods Drive Hundreds From Homes

Kansas City (AP) — Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes in Clay County Monday night as the Little Platte and Fishing River surged out of their banks.

About 300 persons were evacuated in Smithville where the Little Platte passed its predicted crest of 11 feet above flood stage and was still rising.

Fishing River was flowing waist deep down the main street of Mosby and the community's 300 residents were being evacuated. One man was reported missing there.

A thunderstorm poured three inches or more rain on the area just east of Kansas City Monday evening.

Ex-U.S. Communist Party Leader Dies

New York (AP) — Benjamin Gitlow, a Socialist Party candidate for vice president in the 1920s and head of the American Communist Party prior to World War II, died Monday at his suburban crompond, N.Y. home. He was 74. The cause of death has not been determined.

Gitlow, who later renounced his party affiliation and became an advisor to the late President Herbert Hoover, wrote the book, "The Whole Of Their Lives," an expose of the Communist Party in the United States.

HEMORRHOIDS?

New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

MENTHOLATUM M.P.O. MEDICATED PILE OINTMENT

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.

2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.

3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.

4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.

5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

Stock Market Performance Slow, Mixed

New York (AP)—The stock market put on a very slow and irregular performance Monday, with statistics somewhat on the downside.

Volume of 3.19 million shares compared with 3.53 million Friday and was the smallest since July 7 when 3.03 million shares changed hands.

The Dow Jones industrial average showed a decline of .17 at 880.26 but there was more evidence of decline among the 1,331 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange. In this group, 583 fell and 472 rose.

Little significance was attached to this, however, because of the lightness of the trading and the almost random behavior of stock prices, reminiscent of four out of five of last week's sessions.

"A lot of people have been shaken out of the market and most of the institutions haven't come back as buyers yet," said one analyst.

Several of the aerospace defense stocks did well. This was linked with the expanding nature of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Most of the auto stocks, however, did nothing at all, although General Motors wound up with a gain of ⅜ and Studebaker ⅛. The trend was lower among steels and reports of a drop in orders.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged off .2 to 324.7 with industrials up .3, rails off .3 and utilities off .2.

New highs for the year totaled 23 and new lows 15.

There were a few more gainers than losers among the 16 most-active stocks.

Fairchild Camera was the most active issue, rising 2⅜ to 51¼ on 98,000 shares.

Among the aerospace issues, Boeing gained 1⅞, General Dynamics 1¼, Lockheed 1⅜, United Aircraft ¾ and McDonnell Aircraft ⅜.

An irregularly lower tone also prevailed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Wheat Futures Advance Again

Chicago (AP)—Wheat futures prices advanced for the fourth consecutive day with gains of nore than a cent a bushel on nearly all contracts Monday on the Board of Trade.

Oats and rye also moved up generally but corn and soybeans came under moderate selling pressure and turned weak.

Brokers credited the demand for wheat to both speculative and commercial accounts, some of it induced by continued light hedge selling. Exporters were understood to have taken large quantities for orders already booked and others expected within the next few days.

Soybeans closed ¾-2⅜ cents a bushel lower, July $2.82¼-81¾; new standard grade wheat ⅜-1⅝ higher, July $1.44¾; corn ⅛-1 cent lower, July $1.29¼-⅜; oats unchanged to 1 cent higher, July 67⅜ cents; rye unchanged to ½ higher, July $1.14.

Floods Drive Hundreds From Homes

Kansas City (AP) — Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes in Clay County Monday night as the Little Platte and Fishing River surged out of their banks.

About 300 persons were evacuated in Smithville where the Little Platte passed its predicted crest of 11 feet above flood stage and was still rising.

Fishing River was flowing waist deep down the main street of Mosby and the community's 300 residents were being evacuated. One man was reported missing there.

A thunderstorm poured three inches or more rain on the area just east of Kansas City Monday evening.

Ex-U.S. Communist Party Leader Dies

New York (AP) — Benjamin Gitlow, a Socialist Party candidate for vice president in the 1920s and head of the American Communist Party prior to World War II, died Monday at his suburban crompond, N.Y. home. He was 74. The cause of death has not been determined.

Gitlow, who later renounced his party affiliation and became an advisor to the late President Herbert Hoover, wrote the book, "The Whole Of Their Lives," an expose of the Communist Party in the United States.

HEMORRHOIDS?

New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.

2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.

3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.

4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.

5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

August Gemini Astronaut Crew May Take 'Shirtsleeve' Flight In Space

Space Center, Houston (UPI)—American astronauts may soon be taking "shirtsleeve" space flights, the crew for this country's next manned orbital mission said Monday.

Astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles (Pete) Conrad, who will pilot the Gemini-5 spaceship on an eight-day mission sometime in late August, talked to newsmen Monday in the midst of a mile-a-minute schedule that has them working up to 20 hours a day—sometimes seven days a week.

They said they suggested going on their upcoming flight without spacesuits because of the lack of emergencies on revious Gemini flights. However, space officials have turned down the idea for the present.

Successful Flights

"We felt the Gemini spacecraft had two very successful flights. It is an extremely safe way to go, Cooper said. He said working without the space suits would allow shorter training periods, more storage space, and better hygiene.

"It looked like a very feasible way," Conrad said. "We feel it is getting a complete engineering evaluation for GT-7."

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the Cooper-Conrad flight has been set for Aug. 19. They said its initial orbit would range from 95 miles to 190 miles above the Earth.

'Rendezvous With Pod'

The main experiment on the Cooper-Conrad flight will be a "rendezvous" with a "pod," or small package to be ejected from the spaceship.

The Gemini capsule will maneuver around the pod in an oval, and then locate it visually and with radar. Astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White tried unsuccessfully in their June flight to locate and snuggle up to part of the rocket that carried them into space.

They gave up the attempt when their target got too far away. Rendezvous and docking — A step that won't be tried until a later flight —are crucial to the maneuvers needed to send a spaceship to the Moon and back.

Easty To See

The Package Conrad and Cooper will try to push out and then relocate will have two antennaes, two batteries and two bright lights to make it easy to see.

The astronauts will push it out during the nighttime of one of their first few orbits, then will test their radar for keeping the pod in sight. Then they will fly a pattern around it, going above, behind, under and in front of the pod.

Cooper and Conrad said they have had to eliminate part of their training because time is getting short, but none of the adjustments changed the experiments they will try in the flight.

'Pretty Smelly'

In eight days of flight, in the close quarters of a spaceship, Cooper said, "We will get pretty smelly . . . we will not shave . . .by then and we may be friends or enemies."

The flight will not have any work outside the spaceship. Earlier plans were for one of the astronauts to poke his head and shoulders outside the craft, but that was cancelled after the rousing success of White's "walk in space."

The GT-5 re-entry to Earths atmosphere should provide a brilliant showing. We will be shooting the retros (retro-rockets) on the nightside in the middle of the night. It should make a pretty good meteorite coming across the West Coast," he said.

Action Urged Against Bogalusa Police, Klan

John Doar, Justice Department official sent here as a White House troubleshooter, filed legal actions in federal district court at New Orleans —65 miles southeast of this troubled papermill town.

He asked that public safety commissioner Arnold Spiers and police chief Claxton Knight be held in both civil and criminal contempt.

Doar is an assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's civil rights division.

Frequent Clashes

The twin legal moves came as civil rights workers pushed ahead with street demonstrations, actions that have produced frequent racial clashes in recent weeks.

A march Monday was the 17th in a series that began last January with the testing of public accommodations. The marchers are demanding equal job opportunities for Negroes and desegregation of public facilities.

In charging Spiers and Knight with contempt, Doar said they failed to provide reasonable protection for civil rights workers, in compliance with an injunction issued July 10 by Federal Judge Herbert Christenberry of New Orleans.

'Fullest Extent'

In a statement to newsmen, Spiers said Bogalusa's 34-man police force, assisted by nearly a hundred state policemen, "can and will uphold and enforce the law to the fullest extent."

Knight did not comment.

Doar asked for an injunction that would bar Klansmen from "assaulting, threatening, harassing, interfering with or intimidating . . . . any Negro in the exercise of his rights in Washington Parish."

His complaint identified three top officers of the original knights of the KKK and named the Disabled American Veterans Hall outside Bogalusa as the chief meeting place for the klan.

Springfield Negroes March To Protest 'Police Brutality'

Springfield, Mass. (UPI) — About 150 Negroes marched on city hall Monday to protest alleged police brutality and their leaders warned Mayor Charles V. Ryan that the city is 'sitting on a tinder box" of racial unrest.

The demonstrators massed on city hall steps and sang freedom songs while about a dozen of their leaders protested to Ryan that police were unnecessarily rough in arresting 17 Negro men and a white woman at a barroom brawl early Saturday.

A telephoned bomb threat brought a fire engine racing to the scene, but authorities reported they found nothing after a thorough search of the building.

Ryan promised that an investigation would be made into the Negro charges.

The demonstrators charged that "seven or eight" of the policemen who participated in the Saturday night arrests "seem to have been particularly brutal."

Harry Wiessman, a white lawyer representing those arrested, charged that Lester Williams, one of the Negreos, came in for especially rough treatment.

"Two officers grabbed him from behind and split his head open," said Wiessman.

Springfield is the third largest city in Massachusetts with a population of 174,000. More than 10% of its residents are Negroes.

Rev. Charles Cobb, chairman of a Negro ministers' council, told Ryan that he "must move with dispatch to assure the community, both black and white, that we need not be another Rochester."

Cobb referred to Rochester, N.Y., scene of bitter civil right rioting a year ago.

Senator Urges Death Notices Be Delivered

Washington (AP) — Sen Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, called Monday for delivery at the door of telegrams from the Defense Department notifying relatives of service men killed in action.

Young told the Senate he had just learned that Western Union, for economy reasons, has adopted the practice of reading such telegrams to wives and parents over the telephone.

Young called the practice cold hearted and crude and cited the case of parents of James A. Hall, 19, of Lakewood, Ohio, who learned of his death in that manner.

The Senator said the Defense Department should either require hand delivery of such telegrams or have a high-ranking defense official, speaking with sympathy, do the telephoning direct.

The present system, he said, "adds to the family grief."

Brewster Reward Fund Increased By Wallace

Anniston, Ala. (UPI) —A $1,000 reward announced Monday by Gov. George Wallace brought to $21,000 the amount offered for information leading to the nightriders who Thursday night fired the shot that killed a Negro factory worker

The FBI, state, county and city police continued their investigation of the death of Willie Brewster, who died Sunday at a local hospital.

Brewster, the 38-year-old father of two, was shot in the back as he drove home from work. The shooting occurred shortly after a segregationist rally here.

Maximum Reward

Some 300 Calhoun County residenst raised $20,000 for a reward following the shooting. Wallace Monday posted the maximum state reward of $1,000

Brewster's wife, Lestine, collapsed after hearing of her husband's death and was taken to a Talladega County Hospital She suffered from a heart ailment but doctors said it was not the cause of her collapse.

"We just got where we were doing pretty good," Mrs. Brewster said as her husband lay near death. "It hasn't always been easy for us."

Bus Burned

One of three Negroes riding with Brewster said a group of white men in a trailing car opened fire near where a "freedom rider" bus was burned on Mother's Day in 1961.

Brewster was hit below the neck and was paralyzed from mid-chest down.

"Even if he had lived he would have been paralyzed for the rest of his life," Brewster's doctor said. The bullet, believed to be a .45 caliber slug or larger, cut Brewster's spinal cord.

Authorities said Mrs. Brewster and her two children were named as beneficiaries in an insurance policy carried by Brewster at the local pipe factory where he worked. Mrs. Brewster worked as a tray girl at a Talladega Hospital for $20 a week.

Science Topic Of Harriman Soviet Visit

Moscow (AP)—Roving American Ambassador W. Averell Harriman discussed scientific subjects with a Soviet deputy premier, Konstantin N. Rudnev, for 2¼ hours Monday.

Political subjects were not mentioned, an American embassy statement said later.

Harriman, who arrived here a week ago on vacation, is awaiting the return to Moscow of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to resume talks they began last week. In a three-hour meeting last Thursday they surveyed the world scene. Informed sources said the meeting, the highest-level contact between Washington and the new Soviet leadership, was intended to make sure each side understood the other.

Rudnev is chairman of the Soviet state committee for coordinating scientific research. His deputy, D. M. Gvishiani, was present at the meeting and so was U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler.

Harriman said the discussion was interesting, the embassy spokesman reported. "He said they covered scientific, technical and economic questions as well as exchanges in technical and scientific fields between the two countries."

Cold War Veteran Bill Passes Senate

Washington (AP)—The Senate late Monday passed a "cold war G.I. bill of rights" measure providing monthly educational allowances and loan benefits to post-Korean veterans.

The vote was 69-17.

The administration-opposed measure, which drew the support of Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, now goes to the House which failed to act on a similar bill passed by the Senate several years ago.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., floor manager of the bill, objected that Dominick's substitute was even more restrictive than Saltonstall's proposal. He said it would be of no help to veterans who had served in the Dominican Republic, Berlin or other danger spots.

Proponents of the bill approved by the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee said the committee bill—opposed by the Defense Department and Veterans Administration — is designed primarily not to reward veterans for combat service but to permit young men taken from civilian life to readjust after leaving service.

The GI measure would cover all veterans serving from Jan. 31, 1955—the declared termination date for establishing eligibility under the Korea G.I. bill—to July 1, 1967, the termination date of the compulsory draft law recently extended by Congress.

Eligibility for educational allowances and loans and guarantees for home and farmland (including farm homes) purchases would be conditioned on more than 180 days of active duty or discharge for service-connected disability.

The monthly education allowance would be limited to no more than 36 months.

The bill also provides guaranty and direct loan assistance, for the purchase of city and farm homes, farm lands and livestock. But no loans for starting business are provided as under previous GI bills. Widows of veterans who die of service-connected disability would qualify under the loan section.

June Earnings Set Record For Frontier Airlines

Denver (AP) — Frontier Airlines reports June earnings topped any previous month in the firm's 19-year history.

Frontier President Lewis S. Dymond said operating profit of $395,258 increased 35% over the $292,382 of June in 1964. Net profit this June was $142,850-up 18% from the $120,907 in the sam-e month of last year, he said.

Frontier's total revenue for the six months ended June 30 was $11,618,228 compared with $10,905,345 in the same period last year, Dymond said, and operating profit during the period totaled $1,224,490, up 14% from the $1,072-074 for the first six months of 1964.

Net profit for the first half year of $486.860 was reported up 7% over $454,825 during the same period in 1964.

August Gemini Astronaut Crew May Take 'Shirtsleeve' Flight In Space

Space Center, Houston (UPI)—American astronauts may soon be taking "shirtsleeve" space flights, the crew for this country's next manned orbital mission said Monday.

Astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles (Pete) Conrad, who will pilot the Gemini-5 spaceship on an eight-day mission sometime in late August, talked to newsmen Monday in the midst of a mile-a-minute schedule that has them working up to 20 hours a day—sometimes seven days a week.

They said they suggested going on their upcoming flight without spacesuits because of the lack of emergencies on revious Gemini flights. However, space officials have turned down the idea for the present.

Successful Flights

"We felt the Gemini spacecraft had two very successful flights. It is an extremely safe way to go, Cooper said. He said working without the space suits would allow shorter training periods, more storage space, and better hygiene.

"It looked like a very feasible way," Conrad said. "We feel it is getting a complete engineering evaluation for GT-7."

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the Cooper-Conrad flight has been set for Aug. 19. They said its initial orbit would range from 95 miles to 190 miles above the Earth.

'Rendezvous With Pod'

The main experiment on the Cooper-Conrad flight will be a "rendezvous" with a "pod," or small package to be ejected from the spaceship.

The Gemini capsule will maneuver around the pod in an oval, and then locate it visually and with radar. Astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White tried unsuccessfully in their June flight to locate and snuggle up to part of the rocket that carried them into space.

They gave up the attempt when their target got too far away. Rendezvous and docking — A step that won't be tried until a later flight—are crucial to the maneuvers needed to send a spaceship to the Moon and back.

Easty To See

The Package Conrad and Cooper will try to push out and then relocate will have two antennaes, two batteries and two bright lights to make it easy to see.

The astronauts will push it out during the nighttime of one of their first few orbits, then will test their radar for keeping the pod in sight. Then they will fly a pattern around it, going above, behind, under and in front of the pod.

Cooper and Conrad said they have had to eliminate part of their training because time is getting short, but none of the adjustments changed the experiments they will try in the flight.

'Pretty Smelly'

In eight days of flight, in the close quarters of a spaceship, Cooper said, "We will get pretty smelly . . . we will not shave . . .by then and we may be friends or enemies."

The flight will not have any work outside the spaceship. Earlier plans were for one of the astronauts to poke his head and shoulders outside the craft, but that was cancelled after the rousing success of White's "walk in space."

The GT-5 re-entry to Earths atmosphere should provide a brilliant showing. We will be shooting the retros (retro-rockets) on the nightside in the middle of the night. It should make a pretty good meteorite coming across the West Coast," he said.

Action Urged Against Bogalusa Police, Klan

Bogalusa, La. (AP)—A federal court was asked Monday to hold this city's top police officials in contempt and enjoin the Ku Klux Klan from interfering with civil rights demonstrations.

John Doar, Justice Department official sent here as a White House troubleshooter, filed legal actions in federal district court at New Orleans —65 miles southeast of this troubled papermill town.

He asked that public safety commissioner Arnold Spiers and police chief Claxton Knight be held in both civil and criminal contempt.

Doar is an assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's civil rights division.

Frequent Clashes

The twin legal moves came as civil rights workers pushed ahead with street demonstrations, actions that have produced frequent racial clashes in recent weeks.

A march Monday was the 17th in a series that began last January with the testing of public accommodations. The marchers are demanding equal job opportunities for Negroes and desegregation of public facilities.

In charging Spiers and Knight with contempt, Doar said they failed to provide reasonable protection for civil rights workers, in compliance with an injunction issued July 10 by Federal Judge Herbert Christenberry of New Orleans.

'Fullest Extent'

In a statement to newsmen, Spiers said Bogalusa's 34-man police force, assisted by nearly a hundred state policemen, "can and will uphold and enforce the law to the fullest extent."

Knight did not comment.

Doar asked for an injunction that would bar Klansmen from "assaulting, threatening, harassing, interfering with or intimidating . . . . any Negro in the exercise of his rights in Washington Parish."

His complaint identified three top officers of the original knights of the KKK and named the Disabled American Veterans Hall outside Bogalusa as the chief meeting place for the klan.

Springfield Negroes March To Protest 'Police Brutality'

Springfield, Mass. (UPI) — About 150 Negroes marched on city hall Monday to protest alleged police brutality and their leaders warned May or Charles V. Ryan that the city is 'sitting on a tinder box" of racial unrest.

The demonstrators massed on city hall steps and sang freedom songs while about a dozen of their leaders protested to Ryan that police were unnecessarily rough in arresting 17 Negro men and a white woman at a barroom brawl early Saturday.

A telephoned bomb threat brought a fire engine racing to the scene, but authorities reported they found nothing after a thorough search of the building.

Ryan promised that an investigation would be made into the Negro charges.

The demonstrators charged that "seven or eight" of the policemen who participated in the Saturday night arrests "seem to have been particularly brutal."

Harry Wiessman, a white lawyer representing those arrested, charged that Lester Williams, one of the Negreos, came in for especially rough treatment.

"Two officers grabbed him from behind and split his head open," said Wiessman.

Springfield is the third largest city in Massachusetts with a population of 174,000. More than 10% of its residents are Negroes.

Rev. Charles Cobb, chairman of a Negro ministers' council, told Ryan that he "must move with dispatch to assure the community, both black and white, that we need not be another Rochester."

Cobb referred to Rochester, N.Y., scene of bitter civil right rioting a year ago.

Senator Urges Death Notices Be Delivered

Washington (AP) — Sen Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, called Monday for delivery at the door of telegrams from the Defense Department notifying relatives of service men killed in action.

Young told the Senate he had just learned that Western Union, for economy reasons, has adopted the practice of reading such telegrams to wives and parents over the telephone.

Young called the practice cold hearted and crude and cited the case of parents of James A. Hall, 19, of Lakewood, Ohio, who learned of his death in that manner.

The Senator said the Defense Department should either require hand delivery of such telegrams or have a high-ranking defense official, speaking with sympathy, do the telephoning direct.

The present system, he said, "adds to the family grief."

More Industries Landing Outstate, Says Osterhout

Hastings (AP) — David Osterhout, chief of the Nebraska Resources Division, says industries in recent years have tended more and more to locate in outlying areas of states to avoid labor problems and competition for labor resources.

He made the comment during "Press Conference" on KHAS-TV.

He said that the meat animal research center at the old Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot would be a tremendous addition to the economy of the area and the state.

He described his major function as finding jobs to keep Nebraskans in Nebraska.

Brewster Reward Fund Increased By Wallace

Anniston, Ala. (UPI) —A $1,000 reward announced Monday by Gov. George Wallace brought to $21,000 the amount offered for information leading to the nightriders who Thursday night fired the shot that killed a Negro factory worker.

The FBI, state, county and city police continued their investigation of the death of Willie Brewster, who died Sunday at a local hospital.

Brewster, the 38-year-old father of two, was shot in the back as he drove home from work. The shooting occurred shortly after a segregationist rally here.

Maximum Reward

Some 300 Calhoun County residenst raised $20,000 for a reward following the shooting. Wallace Monday posted the maximum state reward of $1,000

Brewster's wife, Lestine, collapsed after hearing of her husband's death and was taken to a Talladega County Hospital She suffered from a heart ailment but doctors said it was not the cause of her collapse.

"We just got where we were doing pretty good," Mrs. Brewster said as her husband lay near death. "It hasn't always been easy for us."

Bus Burned

One of three Negroes riding with Brewster said a group of white men in a trailing car opened fire near where a "freedom rider" bus was burned on Mother's Day in 1961.

Brewster was hit below the neck and was paralyzed from mid-chest down.

"Even if he had lived he would have been paralyzed for the rest of his life," Brewster's doctor said. The bullet, believed to be a .45 caliber slug or larger, cut Brewster's spinal cord.

Authorities said Mrs. Brewster and her two children were named as beneficiaries in an insurance policy carried by Brewster at the local pipe factory where he worked. Mrs. Brewster worked as a tray girl at a Talladega Hospital for $20 a week.

Science Topic Of Harriman Soviet Visit

Moscow (AP)—Roving American Ambassador W. Averell Harriman discussed scientific subjects with a Soviet deputy premier, Konstantin N. Rudnev, for 2¼ hours Monday.

Political subjects were not mentioned, an American embassy statement said later.

Harriman, who arrived here a week ago on vacation, is awaiting the return to Moscow of Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to resume talks they began last week. In a three-hour meeting last Thursday they surveyed the world scene. Informed sources said the meeting, the highest-level contact between Washington and the new Soviet leadership, was intended to make sure each side understood the other.

Rudnev is chairman of the Soviet state committee for coordinating scientific research. His deputy, D. M. Gvishiani, was present at the meeting and so was U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler.

Harriman said the discussion was interesting, the embassy spokesman reported. "He said they covered scientific, technical and economic questions as well as exchanges in technical and scientific fields between the two countries."

Ag College's Youth Corps Project OKd

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Monday his approval of a Neighborhood Youth Corps proposal submitted by the University of Nebraska's College of Agriculture extension service.

A federal grant of $57,540 will be used to provide employment for disadvantaged youths at 20 county extension service offices and the experiment stations at Scottsbluff, North Platte, Wayne, Alliance, Fort Robinson and Mead.

Morrison said 115 boys and 20 girls will participate in the project. It is the ninth to gain federal approval, bringing total federal funds allocated to $963,239.

Cold War Veteran Bill Passes Senate

Washington (AP)—The Senate late Monday passed a "cold war G.I. bill of rights" measure providing monthly educational allowances and loan benefits to post-Korean veterans.

The vote was 69-17.

The administration-opposed measure, which drew the support of Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, now goes to the House which failed to act on a similar bill passed by the Senate several years ago.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., floor manager of the bill, objected that Dominick's substitute was even more restrictive than Saltonstall's proposal. He said it would be of no help to veterans who had served in the Dominican Republic, Berlin or other danger spots.

Proponents of the bill approved by the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee said the committee bill—opposed by the Defense Department and Veterans Administration — is designed primarily not to reward veterans for combat service but to permit young men taken from civilian life to readjust after leaving service.

The GI measure would cover all veterans serving from Jan. 31, 1955—the declared termination date for establishing eligibility under the Korea G.I. bill—to July 1, 1967, the termination date of the compulsory draft law recently extended by Congress.

Eligibility for educational allowances and loans and guarantees for home and farmland (including farm homes) purchases would be conditioned on more than 180 days of active duty or discharge for service-connected disability.

The monthly education allowance would be limited to no more than 36 months.

The bill also provides guaranty and direct loan assistance, for the purchase of city and farm homes, farm lands and livestock. But no loans for starting business are provided as under previous GI bills. Widows of veterans who die of service-connected disability would qualify under the loan section.

June Earnings Set Record For Frontier Airlines

Denver (AP) — Frontier Airlines reports June earnings topped any previous month in the firm's 19-year history.

Frontier President Lewis S. Dymond said operating profit of $395,258 increased 35% over the $292,382 of June in 1964. Net profit this June was $142,850-up 18% from the $120,907 in the sam-e month of last year, he said.

Frontier's total revenue for the six months ended June 30 was $11,618,228 compared with $10,905,345 in the same period last year, Dymond said, and operating profit during the period totaled $1,224,-490, up 14% from the $1,072-074 for the first six months of 1964.

Net profit for the first half year of $486.860 was reported up 7% over $454,825 during the same period in 1964.

Students Loan Bill Stumbles

Legislation designed to put Nebraska into the student loan business fell short of enactment by a whisker Monday, but the chief sponsor said he will attempt to bring about a reconsideration.

A bill which would have put to voters next year a constitutional amendment authorizing the state to make long-term, low-interest loans to Nebraska high school graduates to continue their higher education in the state fell short of approval by one vote.

LB249 received a 29-14 assenting vote, but needed 30 affirmative votes. The constitution requires that three-fifths of the legislative members approve constitutional amendment proposals.

Lawmakers already this session have put 10 constitutional amendments on the general election ballot next year, and more such proposals await final disposition.

LB249 grew out of a Legislative Council interim study on higher education directed by Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln. Co-sponsors included Sens. Richard Lysinger of Ravenna, Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, Dale L. Payne of Papillion and Ross H. Rasmussen of Hooper.

Nearly a half dozen senators were absent at the final vote on LB249, any one of whom could have cast the vote putting the bill across. This raised the possibility that a motion to reconsider might be made later.

Sen. Stromer said he would make such a motion.

Voting for LB249: Bauer, Bowen, Budd, Burbach, Carpenter, Carstens, Crandall, Danner, Fleming, Harsh, Hasebroock, Holmquist, Hughes, Kjar, Knight, Lysinger, Marvel, Matzke, Moulton, Moylan, Nelson, Nore, Orme, Payne, R. Rasmussen, Skarda, Stromer, Stryker, Wallwey.

Voting against LB249: Adamson, Batchelder, Brauer, Craft, Gerdes, Kokes, Paine, Paxton, Pedersen, Proud, E. Rasmussen, Syas, Warner, Wylie.

Price-Fixing Bill Is Killed By Senators

The Nebraska Legislature, which this year has set one new longevity record, killed on general file Monday a price-fixing bill sponsored by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter.

On a motion of Omaha Sen. George Syas, the axe was applied 26-11 to an amended LB5 which would have required a six per cent markup on individual items sold by retailers, thus abolishing loss leader selling.

"We're supposed to believe in the private enterprise system," said Syas, "but we seem to give it only lip service." He said LB5 legislates against the consumer and will not help the small merchant as claimed.

The bill was one of 15 resting on general file awaiting first round floor debate and disposition as lawmakers began their 128th legislative day.

The day set a record for calendar length of a regular legislative session. The longest previous session — two years ago—lasted until July 18.

The record for legislative days, also set in 1963, won't be equalled until Friday when lawmakers will put in their 132nd legislative day.

In other action on general file bills, senators advanced 25-2 Sen. Carpenter's LB415, making mandatory a retirement system for firemen in first class cities while authorizing contributory plans calling for firemen to contribute five per cent of their pay.

Lawmakers also approved the recall of a bill which had been passed and sent to the governor for signature. LB593 creating a Nebraska arts council. Sen. Fern Orme of Lincoln, chief sponsor, said some defects had been uncovered and the bill was called back for amendment.
